EUROPE IN ALARM AT MENACE

Two Victims Claimed In Outskirts of Paris By Pestilence

Health Minister In Capital of France Orders Great Precaution

(By United Press Leased Wire) Plague is reported in various parts of Europe.

Two victims have died in the very outskirts of Paris, while in Algeria, Spain and Egypt pestilence is spreading, causing grave alarm. Steamers are held in quarantine in Mediterranean ports as a result of having cleared from Seville and Oran, where the plague is reported severe.

Superstition whispers that the dread germs emanated from the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, near Luxor, Egypt.

PARIS, May 29.—Four cases of plague have been discovered in the outskirts of Paris. Two victims have died.

The minister of health has ordered extreme precaution. The great sewers are to be completely cleansed and all the rats that infest them slain.

A dispatch to the Paris Journal from Alexandria states that plague has broken out in Egypt since the opening of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. Natives there believe germs from the ancient Pharaoh's catafalque caused the death of Lord Carnarvon and of George J. Gould, who visited Luxor.

ORAN, Algeria, May 29.—One case of plague is reported here. The steamer Gibe Gerjon, which left Oran, has been quarantined at Gibraltar, with sixty passengers aboard.

Pestilence is reported at Seville, and a steamer, the Jarlot, with Spanish passengers, is quarantined at Gibraltar.

Twelfth Italian Grocer Victim Of Ax Murderer

(By United Press Leased Wire) BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 29.—Charles Graffee, Italian grocer, was found dead in his store today, the twelfth victim of an ax murderer in the Latin colony.

Graffee's store was looted. A bloody, short-handled ax was found near his body.

Police said he was the twelfth victim in two years of what they believe is the same murder fiend. All of the victims were Italian grocers.

In addition, fourteen Italians have been wounded during the past two years in attacks by a hatchet wielded on grocery men or their families, police said.

MAN SHOTS WIFE, THEN KILLS SELF

'There's My Last Cent,' Says Man as Rolling Coin Precedes Tragedy Watched by Youth.

(By United Press Leased Wire) CINCINNATI, May 29.—"That's my last cent, Mary!" J. W. Jones, 51, turned his pockets inside out and a lone penny rolled on the floor. He charged his wife with extravagance.

Pointing to the penny with one hand and drawing a revolver with the other, he shot the little mother, the children told police, and then turned the gun on himself.

"Daddy shot mother and then tried to shoot Dola, my brother, but Dola knocked the gun away, and Daddy put it to his own head and fired," Una, 16, told police.

When the officers arrived Jones was dead. Mrs. Jones was rushed to a hospital where it was said she would probably die.

CITIES WIN IN DECISION ON MARKETS

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Cities have the right to establish and operate free markets, the district court of appeals ruled today.

The ruling was made in the case of Bank vs. Bell, arising in Berkeley, Calif., to test the right of the city of Berkeley to operate a free market.

Justice A. F. Sture wrote the decision, holding that free markets are an entirely legal and logical field for municipal control and operation.

The men indicted are Holmes Ives, president of the Bankers' Mortgage and Discount company and the Coast Tire and Rubber company; J. J. Pankratz, vice-president; N. J. Whelan, chairman of the board of directors; J. E. Elsen, vice-president and manager of the mortgage company and A. B. Abrams of the Bankers Security company, an allied concern.

The indictments charge that worthless stock was sold to stockholders in the Coast Tire and Rubber company.

The sons are Elmer Criddle, Long Beach; Merle of Gridley, Colo., and Roy and John Criddle of Santa Ana. Her daughter, Mrs. Giannelli, resides in Los Angeles.

DRY PARLEY LOOMS FOR GOVERNORS

Harding to Call Conference On Enforcement, Report at Capital

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A conference of state governors on the question of prohibition enforcement will be assembled here by President Harding before he leaves on his Western trip, a White House spokesman said today. No date has been set.

The conference will endeavor to work out closer co-operation between federal and state authorities in enforcing the dry law.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—A deluge of wet and dry propaganda literature is pouring into the office of Governor Al Smith—latest battleground of prohibition.

The governor, shylike-like, sits at his desk, reading what he can and examining statistics which may influence him either to sign or kill the repealer for the state enforcement act, already passed by the state legislature.

Indications that the governor will ignore the sentiments of President Harding, expressed by the chief executive in a letter condemning the repealer, were seen by his friends today.

While the governor himself refuses to drop the slightest word that may be taken as an indication of what he will do, his friends now say that he is approaching the problem from a state viewpoint only.

Hint Missing Woman On Way to Mexico

Officers today continued their efforts to find Mrs. J. L. McKinzie, 1021 Cypress avenue, who disappeared Sunday night. Investigation officers have disclosed possibility of the woman having gone to Mexico.

Vernon Barnhill, motorcycle officer, according to a report on file at the city police station today, ascertained that the missing woman had confided to Mrs. A. C. Cummings, 825 1-2 Cypress avenue, intention of slipping away to the republic to the south.

According to Barnhill, Mrs. Cummings knows nothing of the details of the disappearance.

$100,000 Industrial Campaign Under Way

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—A $100,000 campaign to interest new industries and bring them to the Los Angeles district was under way today following a consultation between A. P. Osterloh, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce manufacturers' committee, and national advertising representatives.

Hard Time Coming Back

He will have a hard time coming back in New York politics, and, if, after blousing his own people, he should run in the Democratic convention, he would be knifed.

To put it another way, Smith might help himself politically in the supposedly "wet" East, but he would undoubtedly ruin whatever Presidential chances he now has in the "dry" West by signing the repealer.

Politicians here believe he will sign. That way, they say, lies his only hope of continuing as an important political figure in his own state.

Securities Dealers Charged With Fraud

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—A complaint charging eight men with conspiracy to defraud by misrepresenting the value of securities has been issued by the district attorney's office at the request of the corporation commissioner's office.

It is charged that more than $200,000 was obtained by questionable methods.

The defendants are Charles F. Carrere, H. N. Overland, C. J. Little, Charles F. Wood, E. N. Taylor, P. P. White, P. P. Hooper, and William F. Christ. Christ and Taylor have been placed under arrest, and bail set at $10,000 and $7,500, respectively.

Say Denver Mystery Twins May Be Phantom Children

DENVER, May 29.—Denver's mystery twins may be "phantom children," in the belief of investigators today who are trying to locate twin babies whom Mrs. Clinton Plantz says were born to her May 13 and who were taken away by the attending physician and have not been heard of since.

Mrs. Plantz declares the physician, a stranger, who was called in by a neighbor, took the babies immediately after their birth to place in an incubator. Neither the physician, the neighbor who called him nor the children can be found.

Officials of the Visiting Nurses' association, where Mrs. Plantz says she obtained a nurse, deny any knowledge of the twins.

Clinton Plantz, husband of the woman, said when he returned home from work the day of the babies' birth, he was told he was the father of twins but that they had been taken away.

Plantz, with the assistance of police, has conducted a vain search for them since.

Non-Privileged Publicity

Newspapers generally over the United States are adopting the policy of not accepting advertising and not using news reports in which one religious sect attacks another. As the result of years of experience in matters of this sort, The Register some years ago adopted a policy exactly along that line, believing such a policy to be right in principle.

We do not believe it is the duty or prerogative of a newspaper to open its columns to attacks by one individual upon another, or of one business firm upon another, or one church upon another. If newspaper space were available for such purposes where would such things end?

To permit the use of the columns of The Register for advertising and reporting attacks of Catholics by non-Catholics would be no better and no worse than to permit their use for advertising and reporting attacks of Protestants by non-Protestants. We will permit neither.

This attitude is assumed as a matter of principle as well as of policy. If The Register were ruled in this matter by policy alone, or church favoritism, it would probably favor anti-Catholic propaganda to the fullest possible extent; for it has, probably, twenty Protestant readers to one Catholic, and its owners and editors all are Protestants. We never have asked and never will ask our employees what church or lodge or political party they belong to. We are 100 per cent Americans and believe in the American doctrine of civil and religious liberty and the right of every citizen to earn an honest living.

Aside from the matter of courtesy and fairness to its readers—of all sects and denominations—The Register is confident that the best interests of the community as a whole are served by not giving publicity to the attacks of one religious denomination on another. And a Jew who is a good citizen and an honorable man looks just as good to us as a Gentile of like character.

We have no sympathy whatever for any kind of race prejudice or religious intolerance or political piracy.

CLARA TELLS OF PRISON ESCAPE

Alleged Slayer Arrives At New Orleans, Says She'll Clear Name of Charge

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW ORLEANS, La., May 29.—Clara Phillips, fugitive "hammer murderess" who defied authorities of several nations to make her captive was safely returned to the United States from Honduras today.

The sensational career of the notorious "tiger woman," gilded with tales of international intrigue and cunning, came to a dramatic climax as the slayer of Alberta Meadows, in custody of Los Angeles officials, was brought ashore here from the steamer Copan.

The woman whose daring break from the Los Angeles jail attracted nationwide attention, was detained in the city hall under close guard, pending departure of a train for Los Angeles.

In an interview given the United Press as she calmly walked down the gang plank of the steamer here, Clara outlined her version of the situation.

Her face reflected grim determination as she stepped on American soil at 1:25 o'clock after a flight which had taken her to many parts of the United States, Mexico and Honduras.

Close behind Clara Phillips as the party departed was Under Sheriff Biscailuz, evidently on the most friendly terms with his captive.

Curiosity Seekers Gather at the pier maintained a grave silence as the ship warped to the dock and only hushed murmurs were heard as Mrs. Phillips walked down the gang plank, through the narrow lane to a waiting automobile where she was whisked away to imprisonment.

The "tiger woman" was dressed in a simple brown frock which accentuated the slender lines of her figure.

"I never wielded a hammer in my life," Mrs. Phillips said with determination as she left the steamer. "I did not kill Alberta Meadows, the rival for my husband's affections. Another woman did it and I am going to tell the whole story when I get back to Los Angeles.

"I am returning of my own free will, although I could have remained in Honduras. I am confident I will prove my innocence. I was the victim of poor and unscrupulous attorneys who gave me bad advice. I am glad to pass back through New Orleans where I passed nine happy days last winter and where I went about through the streets with never a person suspecting who I was.

"I am not the awful woman I have been painted. I am coming back to my country to prove to the world that I did not kill Alberta Meadows.

Got Room, Board

"When we arrived in New Orleans we looked up the want ads in one of the newspapers and found a place where we could get room and board. I preferred this because I do not like hotels."

"While we were enjoying ourselves here, Mr. Carson, who aided me to escape from the prison in Los Angeles, was arranging for our passage to Vera Cruz on the steamship Baja."

"Mr. Carson," she said slowly and with great emphasis, "acted as my bodyguard. That was all."

The "tiger woman" told of her hair-breadth escape from the Los Angeles jail. The mysterious male in her case, Jesse Carson, whom she termed a soldier of fortune and revolutionary adventurer, who has taken part in several uprisings in Mexico and Central America, became stirred profoundly by her dramatic experiences in the California courts, she said, and in turn was infuriated with her.

In the mind of Carson arose a dream of conquest, the overthrow of the Honduran government, with the aid of a beautiful and romantic American woman as his confidante and diplomatic aide.

Daring to the point of foolhardiness, Carson studied the jail building at Los Angeles for several days.

Numerous Persian villages were wrecked by the quake, dispatches to the newspaper Pioneer stated.

Turbati-Haidari is in the Khoranjan region of eastern Persia. It is located in a fertile valley bounded by salt deserts and mountain regions.

FIND SKULL BURIED FOR MANY YEARS

Mute Evidence of Murder Is Dug Up on Artesia Street By Group of Laborers.

Mute evidence of probable murder was found in the middle of North Artesia street, just off Hickey street, but three feet below the surface, by laborers digging a sewer about 9:30 a. m. today. City and county authorities immediately investigated, but a skull and a few large and small bones and teeth furnished the only clue.

Because of the state of deterioration of the bones, police estimated the date of death at between 15 and 25 years ago.

About 12 years ago a Chinese colony was in this sector. Trouble was the byword. Tong threats were common. The man, possibly was a Chinese, and may have been affiliated with one of these tongs and lost his life in the constant but hidden warfare, local officers pointed out.

The bones were immediately reburied. The skull will be retained for the present.

Suffers From Experience. Frightened and nervous from her experience, her lips and face slightly burned by the chloroform and with several cuts on her nose where the man had pressed his fingers into the skin, Mrs. Denny today was still suffering from the experience.

Patrolman C. L. Neuschwanger and Deputy Sheriff G. E. McClellan investigated the case last night but were unable to find a trace of the man. Other officers were assigned to the proper area.

Mrs. Denny described her assailant as being about 5 feet 6 inches in height, weight approximately 160 pounds and as wearing a heavy leather coat. His cap, she said, was pulled down far over his eyes. Because of this and by reason of the fact that the attack occurred under a group of trees in the middle of the block she was unable to get a good glimpse of his face, she said.

"I usually go home from work with my mother or father or with a girl friend," said Mrs. Denny, who has been with the telephone company here for about two weeks after six years as a long distance operator in Los Angeles. "Last night I got through my shift at 11 o'clock and immediately left for home.

"I first noticed the man at the corner of Fourth and Main street, but I paid more attention to the car than to him, and so I couldn't tell much what he looked like.

"He again passed me at the corner of First and Main streets, this time driving east on First street.

"When I neared the Roosevelt school on First street he suddenly stopped his car and stepped out.

"I cut across the school house property to Walnut street and he did not follow me right away. Soon, however, I noticed him back of me, still moving slowly.

"All this time I thought he was only a flirt. I was not scared.

"When I came to the corner of Oak and Walnut streets he passed by, without saying a word or even looking at me.

"He stopped in the middle of the block, on the southeast of the street, alongside a vacant lot.

"He got out of the car and began walking toward me.

Still Not Frightened.

"Still I was not frightened. It was not more than fifty yards to my house and, with the exception of this little spot, there were houses lined on both sides of the street.

"I expected him to speak but he didn't say a word.

"Suddenly, he lunged at me. His hands, which had been in the pockets of his leather coat, crashed against my face and something pressed against my nose.

"I smelled chloroform strongly

MOTOR OFFICER ARRESTED IN LIGHT CASE

That possession of a deputy sheriff's badge and official appointment as a county motorcycle officer does not make such an officer immune from arrest for violation of traffic laws, was firmly impressed today on the mind of Louis J. Heffner, county motorcycle officer.

Heffner today was under citation to appear in the city recorder's court at Fullerton at 2 p. m. June 5, to plead to a charge of operating his automobile with a searchlight loose on its attachment. He was arrested last night by J. W. Deist, motorcycle officer at Fullerton.

"I recognize you as a motorcycle officer, Heffner, but I am going to give you a slip just the same," Deist said.

Heffner pointed out that he has been using his car a great deal of late in liquor raids and that he had loosened the spotlight as a matter of convenience in throwing rays of lights on objects.

Heffner said today that he would report at court at the designated hour, and looked forward with keen interest to the possible termination of the case.

Pennsylvania Lines Are Due for Rebuke

CHICAGO, May 29.—A public rebuke of the Pennsylvania railroad for insisting on dealing directly with its men through company unions rather than through regularly organized labor bodies, was expected today from the United States railroad labor board.

The Pennsylvania refused to order an election among the union clerks in which names of men not employed by the road would appear on the ballot.

MAN FLEES AS WOMAN SCREAMS

Makes Way to Residence of Parents Nearby; Police Are Summoned

Authorities here today conducted a determined search for a man, described as roughly dressed and possibly a foreigner, who shortly after 11 o'clock last night boldly attacked Mrs. Jennie Denny, 23, pretty telephone operator, and although thwarted in his attempt to overpower her with a chloroform-saturated sponge, continued to scuffle with her after her screams had roused even the members of her own household at 528 East Walnut street, fifty yards away.

The attack evidently had been carefully planned. It occurred after the man, who was between 25 and 30 years old, had followed Mrs. Denny from the local telephone office in his automobile. Police believed that Mrs. Denny's action in tearing away the man's hand, containing the sponge, from her nostrils, disconcerted him.

When his intended victim collapsed and fell in a vacant lot between her residence and the place of the attack, the assailant, realizing that her screams had aroused the neighborhood, ran to his automobile and at high speed drove around the corner on which Mrs. Denny lives and within plain sight of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prevost.

Suffers From Experience. Frightened and nervous from her experience, her lips and face slightly burned by the chloroform and with several cuts on her nose where the man had pressed his fingers into the skin, Mrs. Denny today was still suffering from the experience.

Health Minister In Capital of France Orders Great Precaution

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Plague is reported in various parts of Europe.

Two victims have died in the very outskirts of Paris, while in Algeria, Spain and Egypt pestilence is spreading, causing grave alarm. Steamers are held in quarantine in Mediterranean ports as a result of having cleared from Seville and Oran, where the plague is reported severe.

Superstition whispers that the dread germs emanated from the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, near Luxor, Egypt.

PARIS, May 29.—Four cases of plague have been discovered in the outskirts of Paris. Two victims have died.

The minister of health has ordered extreme precaution. The great sewers are to be completely cleaned and all the rats that infest them slain.

A dispatch to the Paris Journal from Alexandria states that plague has broken out in Egypt since the opening of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. Natives there believe germs from the ancient Pharaoh's catafalque caused the death of Lord Carnarvon and of George J. Gould, who visited Luxor.

ORAN, Algeria, May 29.—One case of plague is reported here. The steamer Gbel Gerjon, which left Oran, has been quarantined at Gibraltar, with sixty passengers aboard.

Pestilence is reported at Seville, and a steamer, the Jarlot, with Spanish passengers, is quarantined at Gibraltar.

Twelfth Italian Grocer Victim Of Ax Murderer

(By United Press Leased Wire)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 29.—Charles Graffee, Italian grocer, was found dead in his store today, the twelfth victim of an ax murderer in the Latin colony.

Graffee's store was looted. A bloody, short-handled ax was found near his body.

Police said he was the twelfth victim in two years of what they believe is the same murder fiend. All of the victims were Italian grocers.

In addition, fourteen Italians have been wounded during the past two years in attacks by a hatchet wielded on grocery men or their families, police said.

MAN SHOTS WIFE, THEN KILLS SELF

'There's My Last Cent,' Says Man as Rolling Coin Precedes Tragedy Watched by Youths.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CINCINNATI, May 29.—"That's my last cent, Mary!" J. W. Jones, 51, turned his pockets inside out and a lone penny rolled on the floor. He charged his wife with extravagance.

Pointing to the penny with one hand and drawing a revolver with the other, he shot the little mother, the children told police, and then turned the gun on himself.

"Daddy shot mother and then tried to shoot Dola, my brother, but Dola knocked the gun away, and Daddy put it to his own head and fired," Una, 16, told police.

When the officers arrived Jones was dead. Mrs. Jones was rushed to a hospital where it was said she would probably die.

CITIES WIN IN DECISION ON MARKETS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Cities have the right to establish and operate free markets, the district court of appeals ruled today.

The ruling was made in the case of Bank vs. Bell, arising in Berkeley, Calif., to test the right of the city of Berkeley to operate a free market.

Justice A. F. Sture wrote the decision, holding that free markets are an entirely legal and logical field for municipal control and operation.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Evasion of the California "blue sky" law is charged to five officers of the Bankers' Mortgage and Discount company, a San Francisco firm, in indictments voted by the county grand jury last night.

The men indicted are Holmes Ives, president of the Bankers' Mortgage and Discount company and the Coast Tire and Rubber company; J. J. Pankratz, vice-president; J. J. Whelan, chairman of the board of directors; J. E. Eisenmann, vice-president and manager of the mortgage company and A. B. Abrams of the Bankers Security company, an allied concern.

The indictments charge that worthless stock was sold to stockholders of the Coast Tire and Rubber company.

Harding to Call Conference On Enforcement, Report at Capital

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A conference of state governors on the question of prohibition enforcement will be assembled here by President Harding before he leaves on his Western trip, a White House spokesman said today. No date has been set.

The conference will endeavor to work out closer co-operation between federal and state authorities in enforcing the dry law.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—A deluge of wet and dry propaganda literature is pouring into the office of Governor Al Smith—latest battleground of prohibition.

The governor, shylike, sits at his desk, reading what he can and examining statistics which may influence him either to sign or kill the repealer for the state enforcement act, already passed by the state legislature.

Indications that the governor will ignore the sentiments of President Harding, expressed by the chief executive in a letter condemning the repealer, were seen by his friends today.

While the governor himself refuses to drop the slightest word that may be taken as an indication of what he will do, his friends now say that he is approaching the problem from a state viewpoint only.

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 29.—Governor Al Smith of New York, a political Hamlet, holds the spotlight while politicians of both parties try to guess which horn of the dilemma he will choose.

To sign or not to sign—that is the question Smith must answer, with respect to the law repealing the New York state prohibition enforcement code. The choice is not simple. Smith will get in trouble whatever he does.

It would not matter so much if Smith were an insignificant, one-term governor somewhere, but he is one of the principal Democratic presidential possibilities.

In Quandary.
If he signs the repealer he will fly in the face not only of all the dry sentiment in New York state—which might be negligible—but will kill himself with all drys in the Democratic party elsewhere, will flaunt defiance in the face of President Harding, and worse than all these, politically, will be in the position of reviving the old dead states rights issue.

All this would be fatal to Presidential aspirations.

If he does not sign he will virtually kill himself with his own party in his own state. He will be denounced as a quitter and read out of the party by angry partisans who will accuse him of trucking to the Republican administration at Washington and to the drys.

Hard Time Coming Back.
He will have a hard time coming back to New York politics, and, if, after blotting his own people, he should run in the Democratic convention, he would be knifed.

To put it another way, Smith might help himself politically in the supposedly "wet" East, but he would undoubtedly ruin whatever Presidential chances he now has in the "dry" West by signing the repealer.

Politicians here believe he will sign. That way, they say, lies his only hope of continuing as an important political figure in his own state.

Securities Dealers Charged With Fraud

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—A complaint charging eight men with conspiracy to defraud by misrepresenting the value of securities has been issued by the district attorney's office at the request of the corporation commissioner's office.

It is charged that more than $200,000 was obtained by questionable methods.

Say Denver Mystery Twins May Be Phantom Children

DENVER, May 29.—Denver's mystery twins may be "phantom children," in the belief of investigators today who are trying to locate twin babies whom Mrs. Clinton Plantz says were born to her May 13 and who were taken away by the attending physician and have not been heard of since.

Mrs. Plantz declares the physician, a stranger, who was called in by a neighbor, took the babies immediately after their birth to place in an incubator. Neither the physician, the neighbor who called him nor the children can be found.

Officials of the Visiting Nurses' association, where Mrs. Plantz says she obtained a nurse, deny any knowledge of the twins.

Clinton Plantz, husband of the woman, said when he returned home from work the day of the babies' birth, he was told he was the father of twins but that they had been taken away.

Plantz, with the assistance of police, has conducted a vain search for them since.

Officers today continued their efforts to find Mrs. J. L. McKinzie, 1021 Cypress avenue, who disappeared Sunday night. Investigation officers have disclosed possibility of the woman having gone to Mexico.

Vernon Barnhill, motorcycle officer, according to a report on file at the city police station today, ascertained that the missing woman had confided to Mrs. A. C. Cummings, 825 1/2 Cypress avenue, intention of slipping away to the republic to the south.

According to Barnhill, Mrs. Cummings knows nothing of the details of the disappearance.

$100,000 Industrial Campaign Under Way

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—A $100,000 campaign to interest new industries and bring them to the Los Angeles district was under way today following a consultation between A. F. Osterloh, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce manufacturers' committee, and national advertising representatives.

Non-Privileged Publicity

Newspapers generally over the United States are adopting the policy of not accepting advertising and not using news reports in which one religious sect attacks another. As the result of years of experience in matters of this sort, The Register some years ago adopted a policy exactly along that line, believing such a policy to be right in principle.

We do not believe it is the duty or prerogative of a newspaper to open its columns to attacks by one individual upon another, or of one business firm upon another, or one church upon another. If newspapers were available for such purposes where would such things end?

To permit the use of the columns of The Register for advertising and reporting attacks of Catholics by non-Catholics would be no better and no worse than to permit their use for advertising and reporting attacks of Protestants by non-Protestants. We will permit neither.

This attitude is assumed as a matter of principle as well as of policy. If The Register were ruled in this matter by policy alone, or church favoritism, it would probably favor anti-Catholic propaganda to the fullest possible extent; for it has, probably, twenty Protestant readers to one Catholic, and its owners and editors all are Protestants. We never have asked and never will ask our employees what church or lodge or political party they belong to. We are 100 per cent Americans and believe in the American doctrine of civil and religious liberty and the right of every citizen to earn an honest living.

Aside from the matter of courtesy and fairness to its readers—of all sects and denominations—The Register is confident that the best interests of the community as a whole are served by not giving publicity to the attacks of one religious denomination on another. And a Jew who is a good citizen and an honorable man looks just as good to us as a Gentile of like character.

We have no sympathy whatever for any kind of race prejudice or religious intolerance or political piracy.

CLARA TELLS OF PRISON ESCAPE

Alleged Slayer Arrives At New Orleans, Says She'll Clear Name of Charge

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW ORLEANS, La., May 29.—Clara Phillips, fugitive "hammer murderess" who defied authorities of several nations to make her captive was safely returned to the United States from Honduras today.

The sensational career of the notorious "tiger woman," gilded with tales of international intrigue and cunning, came to a dramatic climax as the slayer of Alberta Meadows, in custody of Los Angeles officials, was brought ashore here from the steamer Copacabana.

The woman whose daring break from the Los Angeles jail attracted nationwide attention, was detained in the city hall under close guard, pending departure of a train for Los Angeles.

In an interview given the United Press as she calmly walked down the gang plank of the steamer here, Clara outlined her version of the situation.

Her face reflected grim determination as she stepped on American soil at 1:25 o'clock after a flight which had taken her to many parts of the United States, Mexico and Honduras.

Close behind Clara Phillips was Under Sheriff Biscailuz, evidently on the most friendly terms with his captive.

Curiosity Seekers Gather

A crowd of curiosity seekers at the pier maintained a grave silence as the ship warped to the dock and only hushed murmurs were heard as Mrs. Phillips walked down the gang plank, through the narrow lane to a waiting automobile where she was whisked away to imprisonment.

The "tiger woman" was dressed in a simple brown frock which accentuated the slender lines of her figure.

"I never wielded a hammer in my life," Mrs. Phillips said with determination, as she left the steamer. "I did not kill Alberta Meadows, the rival for my husband's affections. Another woman did it and I am going to tell the whole story when I get back to Los Angeles."

"I am returning of my own free will, although I could have remained in Honduras. I am confident I will prove my innocence. I was the victim of poor and unscrupulous attorneys who gave me bad advice. I am glad to pass back through New Orleans where I passed nine happy days last winter and where I went about through the streets with never a person suspecting who I was."

"I am not the awful woman I have been painted. I am coming back to my country to prove to the world that I did not kill Alberta Meadows."

Got Room, Board
"When we arrived in New Orleans we looked up the want ads in one of the newspapers and found a place where we could get room and board. I preferred this because I do not like hotels."

"While we were enjoying ourselves here, Mr. Carson, who aided me to escape from the prison in Los Angeles, was arranging for our passage to Vera Cruz on the steamship Baja."

"Mr. Carson," she said slowly and with great emphasis, "acted as my bodyguard. That was all."

"The 'tiger woman' told of her hairbreadth escape from the Los Angeles jail. The mysterious male in her case, Jesse Carson, whom she termed a soldier of fortune and revolutionary adventurer, who has taken part in several uprisings in Mexico and Central America, became stirred profoundly by her dramatic experiences in the California courts, she said, and in turn was infatuated with her."

In the mind of Carson arose a dream of conquest, the overthrow of the Honduran government, with the aid of a beautiful and romantic American woman as his confidante and diplomatic aide.

Daring to the point of foolhardiness, Carson studied the jail building at Los Angeles for several days.

Then one night with a steel hack saw belted to him, he scaled the outer wall of the prison, crept over a roof to her cell and sawed

FIND SKULL BURIED FOR MANY YEARS

Mute Evidence of Murder Is Dug Up on Artesia Street By Group of Laborers.

Mute evidence of probable murder was found in the middle of North Artesia street, just off Hickey street, but three feet below the surface, by laborers digging a sewer about 9:30 a. m. today. City and county authorities immediately investigated, but a skull and a few large and small bones and teeth furnished the only clue.

Because of the state of deterioration of the bones, police estimated the date of death at between 15 and 25 years ago.

About 12 years ago a Chinese colony was in this sector. Trouble was the byword. Tong threats were common. The man, possibly was a Chinese, and may have been affiliated with one of these tongs and lost his life in their constant but hidden warfare, local officers pointed out.

The bones were immediately reburied. The skull will be retained for the present.

MOTOR OFFICER ARRESTED IN LIGHT CASE

That possession of a deputy sheriff's badge and official appointment as a county motorcycle officer does not make such an officer immune from arrest for violation of traffic laws, was firmly impressed today on the mind of Louis J. Heffner, county motorcycle officer.

Heffner today was under citation to appear in the city recorder's court at Fullerton at 2 p. m. June 5, to plead to a charge of operating his automobile with a searchlight loose on its attachment.

He was arrested last night by J. W. Deist, motorcycle officer at Fullerton.

"I recognize you as a motorcycle officer, Heffner, but I am going to give you a slip just the same," Deist said.

Heffner pointed out that he has been using his car a great deal of late in liquor raids and that he had loosened the spotlight as a matter of convenience in throwing rays of lights on objects.

Heffner said today that he would report at court at the designated time, and looked forward with keen interest to the possible termination of the case.

Pennsylvania Lines Are Due for Rebukey

CHICAGO, May 29.—A public rebuke of the Pennsylvania railroad for insisting on dealing directly with its men through company unions rather than through regularly organized labor bodies, was expected today from the United States railroad labor board.

The Pennsylvania refused to order an election among the union clerks in which names of men not employed by the road would appear on the ballot.

Authorities here today conducted a determined search for a man, described as roughly dressed and possibly a foreigner, who shortly after 11 o'clock last night boldly attacked Mrs. Jennie Denny, 23, pretty telephone operator, and although thwarted in his attempt to overpower her with a chloroform-saturated sponge, continued to scuffle with her after her screams had roused even the members of her own household at 528 East Walnut street, fifty yards away.

The attack evidently had been carefully planned. It occurred after the man, who was between 25 and 30 years old, had followed Mrs. Denny from the local telephone office in his automobile. Police believed that Mrs. Denny's action in tearing away the man's hand, containing the sponge, from her nostrils disconcerted him.

When his intended victim collapsed and fell in a swoon, not between her residence and the place of the attack, the assailant, realizing that her screams had aroused the neighborhood, ran to his automobile and at high speed drove around the corner on which Mrs. Denny lives and within plain sight of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prevost.

Frightened and nervous from her experience, her lips and face slightly burned by the chloroform and with several cuts on her nose where the man had pressed his fingers into the skin, Mrs. Denny today was still suffering from the experience.

Patrolman C. L. Neuschwanger and Deputy Sheriff G. E. McClellan investigated the case last night but were unable to find a trace of the man. Other officers were assigned to the probe today.

Mrs. Denny described her assailant as being about 5 feet 6 inches in height, weight approximately 160 pounds and as wearing a heavy leather coat. His cap, she said, was pulled down far over his eyes. Because of this and by reason of the fact that the attack occurred under a group of trees in the middle of the block she was unable to get a good glimpse of his face, she said.

"I usually go home from work with my mother or father or with a girl friend," said Mrs. Denny, who was with the telephone company here for about two weeks after six years as a long distance operator in Los Angeles. "Last night I got through my shift at 11 o'clock and immediately left for home."

FLOOD DANGER INCREASES IN SOUTHLAND

(By United Press Leased Wire)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 29.—One man was drowned, hundreds were made homeless and property damage totalling hundreds of thousands of dollars resulted from flood waters which swept suburban sections here.

With heavy rains continuing throughout northwestern Oklahoma today, danger increased hourly.

The North Canadian river has splashed over its banks, sweeping away homes and inundating lowland crops for miles about.

Oklahoma City, cut off from its packing house district by sweeping torrents and with bridges down, faced a meat famine. Plans were made to use airplanes to bring supplies from the packing district in event the waters do not recede.

Hundreds of refugees, driven from their homes by flood waters, were being cared for by emergency relief organizations. The first death resulted when an unidentified rescue worker was drawn beneath the walls of a falling house and disappeared in the waters.

Hundreds of homes, with flooded cellars, were threatened as the waters continued to rise.

SYNOD MEETING WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK

By a special act of the joint synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, assembled in convention at Detroit, Mich., last summer, the congregations of this synod will be organized into separate districts to be known as the California district synod.

The organization meeting will be held in Santa Ana May 31—June 4, at the St. Peter Lutheran church, Sixth street and Van Ness avenue, of which the Rev. G. F. Pauschert is pastor. It will be called to order Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. W. Hoberger of Los Angeles, conference chairman. The conference then will be organized into a synod, elect synodical officers. Pastors and lay delegates from the southern counties of the state will be in attendance.

Morning sessions will be devoted to discussion of Biblical and theological questions, and the afternoon given over to subjects pertaining to missions and business matters. Papers to be presented are: "An Exegesis on Galatians," by the Rev. J. H. Peters of Anaheim; "Our Home Mission Work," by the Rev. Mr. Hoberger, and "Divine Healing," by the Rev. Mr. Pauschert.

The Rev. A. C. Schultz of Pomona will deliver the conference sermon on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. On Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Peters will speak to the teachers and scholars of the Sunday school, and the Rev. Mr. Hoberger will deliver the communion sermon at 10:45 a. m. In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Dr. E. T. W. Stellhorn of Columbus, Ohio, will speak on "Our Synodical Mission Work."

Pastors and lay delegates will be entertained in the homes of the members of the local church. Dr. Stellhorn, who is superintendent of joint synod mission work, will assist in the organization meeting of the new district. He will also represent the general president, Dr. C. H. L. Schuette of Columbus, who cannot be here on account of other engagements.

BREA TOWNSHIP HAS 6977 FOLK

H. E. Hart, justice of the peace, and J. N. Hurst, constable of Brea township, today were anticipating the date when they will have their salaries boosted from $10 to $75 per month.

Their anticipation is based on disclosures at the meeting of the board of supervisors today that Brea township has 6977 inhabitants. A special census of the township had been taken by J. G. Launer of La Habra and J. B. McBride of Brea, appointed to comply with a census petition approved some months ago.

Police Must Gather Evidence on Sinclair Likely to be Freed

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Prosecution of Upton Sinclair and his three associates, arrested during the "free speech" demonstration at the harbor, rests with Chief of Police Oaks, Captain Plummer of the harbor district, and other officials involved, according to J. C. Friedlander, assistant city prosecutor.

"We are ready to prosecute provided the police supply us with evidence," said Friedlander. "We do not dig up the evidence; we merely provide the attorneys for the prosecution of cases."

Sinclair's trial on a series of misdemeanor charges is set for June 15. He and his three companions are at liberty on $500 bail each. At the time of the trial Chief Oaks will not be in Los Angeles, as he will not have returned from the east from a police convention, it is announced.

Girl Graduates Honored at High School Reception

Junior high school girl graduates were today recalling the courtesy extended to them yesterday afternoon when the Girls' league cabinet and the junior girls of the high school gave, in their honor, an informal reception in the Y. W. C. A. hut.

Just 115 girl graduates from the Junior high school were at the same time preparing for their commencement exercises.

To meet them, to explain to them some of the traditions of the high school and to answer some of their many questions about the school, the older girls welcomed their new little sisters.

Arrangements for the afternoon were under the direction of Miss Kathleen Trago, president of the Girls' league, Miss Jane Griffith, vice-president of the league; Miss Wilma Silver, Miss Virginia Thatcher and Miss Fern Flood. These, with the assistance of a committee from the Y. W. C. A., composed of the Misses Frances Battey, Wilma Plavan, Dorothy Dresser and Leona Rabe, served refreshments at the conclusion of the program which was made up of short talks by Miss Trago, Miss Thatcher and Miss Isabel Anderson, Girls' league advisor, and a dance number by Miss Calla Gillette.

STUDENT LEADER STILL UNCHOSEN

Because Miss Alice Richards did not receive a majority of the votes cast over her two main opponents, Roy ("Barney") Le Bard, pitcher on the baseball team, and Don Williams, football star, the office of president of the Santa Ana high school student body for the 1923 fall semester today still was unfilled.

At the primary elections yesterday, Miss Richards, said to be the first girl pupil ever to stand a real chance of winning the presidency, received 212 votes to 188 for Le Bard. Williams, who received less votes than Le Bard, will not be a candidate in the final election.

James Gilstrap was elected vice-president and Miss Constance Crookshank was named secretary. Lloyd Harper received the most votes for commissioner of athletics. Lloyd Morris for commissioner of finance, Lorraine Bows for commissioner of publications and Gordon Middlebrook for commissioner of athletics.

Daniel Cook and Edmund Linsbard were selected as boy members of the self-government committee. The Misses Josephine Crookshank and Virginia Stewart as girl members.

through the bars. None but an athletic woman could have made the escape as she did. Following her powerful liberator and depending upon his giant muscles to lower her safely down a roof gutter to a wall, she crept with him to safety. A waiting automobile spirited them away to a secluded dwelling in the city.

After a month in hiding, Clara and her married sister, Mrs. Elta May Jackson, disguised themselves in loose fitting clothes and horn rimmed spectacles and went to St. Louis over the Salt Lake route. They were immediately transferred to New Orleans by the Southern Pacific.

From here they went to Vera Cruz, thence to Mexico City where they were traced by a newspaper reporter working in conjunction with Sheriff Traeger of Los Angeles.

Learning she was discovered, Clara and her two companions dashed by rail to the southern Mexican border. They finally worked their way through Guatemala and Salvador and arrived at their last destination in Central America, Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Autos Crash Near Katella, but Fate of Riders Mystery

Mystery today surrounded the possible results to occupants of two automobiles that came together, head on, about 1:30 o'clock this morning, at a point on the state highway near the Katella subdivision of the Southern California Edison company. A Stdebaker owned by M. K. Baessler, 330 Van Bibber street, Orange, and a Ford coupe owned by W. D. Murphy, Huntington Beach, were involved. The latter was badly damaged. G. E. McClellan, deputy sheriff, was called to the scene of the accident at 2 o'clock this morning. Upon his arrival occupants of the car had departed. Whether or not anyone was injured, McClellan could not ascertain. Inquiry at hospitals in Santa Ana and Anaheim revealed the fact that no one had been brought into the institutions for treatment.

Check Charge Faces Santa Ana Resident

Issuance of a bogus check was charged against R. R. Garrison in a complaint issued by the district attorney's office today at the instance of H. S. Vaughn, proprietor of a local auto-parking station. A check for $25, drawn on the First National bank of this city, on Friday last has been returned to Vaughn, with notation by the bank that Garrison had no account.

PAIR ACCUSED IN OIL PIPE THEFT HELD

At conclusion today of the preliminary examination of G. E. Putnam and L. Sissle, Huntington Beach oil workers, charged with the theft of pipe from the Petroleum Midway Oil company at Seal Beach, the men were held for trial in the superior court on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The preliminary hearing was held before Justice J. B. Cox.

In the opinion of the justice testimony was not conclusive that the accused stole the pipe, but indicated they had received stolen goods.

At the time of their arrest the men were believed by officers to have been members of what officers termed an organized gang of oil well equipment thieves. Bail supplied for the preliminary was continued in effect and the men were released for appearance at trial on a date to be set later by the superior court.

ORANGE COUNTY OFFICIALS IN ASSOCIATION

With temporary organization of the Orange County Officers and Employees association perfected at a meeting called by the heads of departments and held last night, the "co-ho-ho-ho" bunch today was looking forward to permanent organization to be effected on the afternoon of Saturday, June 15. At that time the officers and employees will hold their fifth annual picnic at Orange County park.

Not the least interesting fact concerning the movement for permanent organization was the appointment of Earl Abbey, deputy county clerk, as chairman of a committee to prepare a ritual for use in initiation of members. It is anticipated that the ritual will provide comedy stuff.

Dr. F. W. Shabough, purchasing agent, was made president of the organization; T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors, vice president; Miss Justine Whitney, recorder, secretary, and Mrs. Marjorie Joplin, assistant county treasurer, treasurer.

San Jernigan, sheriff, was appointed chairman of the committee on banquet, and it will devolve on Jernigan to provide the "eats" for the annual picnic. Lester Shaback, court reporter, Maurice Enderle, chief deputy assessor, and Warren Hillyard, surveyor, compose the executive committee.

An entertainment program for the picnic will be provided as each office is developing some kind of a stunt. Conference notices today among employees of some of the offices indicated the interest. Dinner will be at 5:30 p. m., followed by dancing.

GENERAL ROYER DIED WITHOUT WILL, DECREE

General Julian O. Royer died intestate.

This was one of the features in a decree handed down today by Judge R. Y. Williams as the result of findings following the sensational case heard here two weeks ago, when heirs of the late general contested the petition of Marie Feraud, Royer's housekeeper for years, to have probated a will which bequeathed to her the major portion of Royer's $250,000 estate.

The judgment and decree filed with the county clerk declares the legal heirs to be Mrs. Louise Royer, widow; Mrs. Marie Louise Amstutz, daughter, and Max Royer, son. Under the decree the contestants of the purported will of Royer may recover their costs from the contestee, Miss Feraud.

It is intimated that another court fight will result when attempt is made to carry out the decree of the court.

Supervisors Fix Date For Abandonment Case

The board of supervisors in session here today set 10 a. m., June 19, as the date for hearing on a petition for abandonment of Valencia avenue at Placentia. The avenue runs a short distance northwesterly from Arroyo street.

DOCTORS ADVISE PORT WINE AND OLIVE OIL

A prominent physician in an interview today says if the public only knew the tonic value of port wine and olive oil they would quickly regain their health. Port wine is a combination of rich cream, olive oil and pure old port wine scientifically blended with other medicinal agents. It quickly restores tired out, run-down systems, is especially valuable in anemic and all wasting diseases, increases weight and strength. Start today taking Port Olive nature's food tonic, and see how quickly you improve. On sale at all druggists. The Port Olive Co., 216 S. Broadway, Los Angeles.—adv.

Community service plans of the Santa Ana association for the next six months will be made tonight at a meeting in the council chamber at the city hall, according to Miss Mildred Wiley, director of community service work here. The meeting will convene at 7:30.

Invitation, she said, has been extended to all churches, schools and parent-teacher associations to send representatives.

"Everyone interested in community service work," Miss Wiley said, "should attend this meeting. Plans for the work of the service here during the next six months will be made tonight."

Visitors, Miss Wiley said, would include two community service leaders—Hugh Gilmore of New York, members of the national council, and J. B. Pendleton, district director at San Diego. They are scheduled to speak.

"Then he turned and ran back to his car, and I saw him drive away rapidly. Then the neighbors came. One of them saw the man drive away and my parents, coming out of the house in answer to my screams, also saw him speeding around the corner."

Mrs. Denny's husband was drowned at Newport Beach two years ago last month when he made a misstep from a barge to a dredger, on which he was employed.

VIRGINIA FOSTER GIRLS' PRESIDENT

Miss Virginia Foster today was preparing to take the oath of office as president of the Santa Ana high school Girls' league following her election for the fall semester yesterday afternoon.

Miss Wilma Silver was elected vice-president; Miss Josephine Crookshank, secretary and Miss Lorraine Porter, Generator reporter.

The contests for treasurer and parliamentary will be decided later this week at the final election. At the primaries neither the Misses Alice Richards and Annie Tarver nor the Misses Ethel Smallwood and Elizabeth Baker received a majority of the votes cast for the offices respectively of treasurer and parliamentary.

FLOOD DANGER INCREASES IN SOUTHLAND

(By United Press Leased Wire)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 29.—One man was drowned, hundreds were made homeless and property damage totalling hundreds of thousands of dollars resulted from flood waters which swept suburban sections here.

With heavy rains continuing throughout northwestern Oklahoma today, danger increased hourly.

The North Canadian river has splashed over its banks, sweeping away homes and inundating lowland crops for miles about.

Oklahoma City, cut off from its packing house district by sweeping torrents and with bridges down, faced a meat famine. Plans were made to use airplanes to bring supplies from the packing district in event the waters do not recede.

Hundreds of refugees, driven from their homes by flood waters, were being cared for by emergency relief organizations. The first death resulted when an unidentified rescue worker was drawn beneath the walls of a falling house and disappeared in the waters.

Hundreds of homes, with flooded cellars, were threatened as the waters continued to rise.

SYNOD MEETING WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK

By a special act of the joint synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, assembled in convention at Detroit, Mich., last summer, the congregations of this synod will be organized into separate districts to be known as the California district synod.

The organization meeting will be held in Santa Ana May 31—June 4, at the St. Peter Lutheran church, Sixth street and Van Ness avenue, of which the Rev. G. F. Pauschert is pastor. It will be called to order Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by the Rev. W. Hohberger of Los Angeles, conference chairman. The conference then will be organized into a synod, elect synodical officers. Pastors and lay delegates from the southern counties of the state will be in attendance.

Morning sessions will be devoted to discussion of Biblical and theological questions, and the afternoon given over to subjects pertaining to missions and business matters. Papers to be presented are: "An Exegesis on Galatians," by the Rev. J. H. Peters of Anaheim; "Our Home Mission Work," by the Rev. Mr. Hohberger, and "Divine Healing," by the Rev. Mr. Pauschert.

The Rev. A. C. Schultz of Pomona will deliver the conference sermon on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. On Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Peters will speak to the teachers and scholars of the Sunday school, and the Rev. Mr. Hohberger will deliver the communion sermon at 10:45 a. m. In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Dr. E. T. W. Stelthorn of Columbus, Ohio, will speak on "Our Synodical Mission Work." Pastors and lay delegates will be entertained in the homes of the members of the local church. Dr. Stelthorn, who is superintendent of joint synod mission work, will assist in the organization meeting of the new district. He will also represent the general president, Dr. C. H. L. Schuette of Columbus, who cannot be here on account of other engagements.

BREA TOWNSHIP HAS 6977 FOLK

H. E. Hart, justice of the peace, and I. N. Hurst, constable of Brea township, today were anticipating the date when they will have their salaries boosted from $10 to $75 per month.

Their anticipation is based on disclosures at the meeting of the board of supervisors today that Brea township has 6977 inhabitants. A special census of the township had been taken by J. G. Launer of La Habra and J. B. McBride of Brea, appointed to comply with a census petition approved some months ago.

Entertaining Program At Spurgeon School

Are you going to Spurgeon school entertainment Friday night? From all accounts it will be one of the most interesting of the many unusual events taking place at that school, a fact assured by the very efficient committee in charge of the entertainment. This committee, headed by Mrs. John Estes Jr., includes also Mrs. J. C. Horton, Mrs. Neal Beisel and Mrs. Mary White, who promises to present an evening worth while.

As for the array of talent, it will include Miss Harriet Owens, one of the city's best trained entertainers, in readings; Miss Margaret White, pupil of Joy Palmer Leitch, in an interpretative dance; two numbers by pupils of Mrs. Maude Putnam of the Rockwell School of Dancing; a dramatic sketch by Mrs. Charles L. Johnson assisted by a group of young matrons; clever pianologues by Mrs. J. A. Gardner; a solo dance by small Nancy White; musical numbers by both Spurgeon and Junior High school orchestras and entertaining little plays, songs, etc., by the small folk presented by their teachers, the Misses Maurie Hamill, Emma Fischer, Dorothy Clark and Gretchen Lieberman.

Unsuccessful in their attempts to retain the patriotic decorations on the downtown streets, the Lions club was today keenly disappointed that the Los Angeles firm owning the decorations, found it necessary to refuse an offer of $100 for the use of them over Memorial day. In consequence of that refusal, Judge E. T. Langley, patriotic instructor of Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R., today issued a request that every one display the national colors as prominently as possible tomorrow in honor of Memorial day, that the city may avoid the appearance of bareness or a seeming disregard for the flag.

Eastern Star

The annual official visit of the district deputy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star was recognized in a most pleasing manner last night at the stated session of Santa Ana chapter, held in the Masonic temple.

Preceding the chapter session at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Adele Kellenberger, the distinguished visitor, was honored guest at a dinner of attractive appointments arranged for members of the chapter alone. The banquet room was a wilderness of mountain flowers arranged under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Sylvester while the delectable six course menu prepared by Mrs. Bullock, was planned by Mrs. Elton R. Roehm and her committee.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Kellenberger was her husband who accompanied her from Anaheim, their home. Following the dinner, the entire ritualistic work of the order was exemplified by the officers of the chapter and Mrs. Kellenberger expressed much appreciation for the manner in which it was presented. As she entered the room escorted by the marshal, she carried a great sheaf of gladioli as a gift from the officers while later, Mrs. Caroline Carter, worthy matron, in the course of a pleasant little talk, presented the distinguished guest with a beautiful serving tray in hammered brass as a gift from the chapter.

To add to the interest of the occasion, an impressive memorial service was held with special music played by Ethel Troxell Thompson and "Crossing the Bar" sung as a delightful solo by Mr. Herschel Clayton.

Score to Testify In Big Oil Fraud Cases

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 29. A score of alleged "victims" arrived here today, to testify in the first of the government's suits against Texas oil promoters.

Three of the ninety-two promoters indicted by the government have already pleaded guilty to the sale of worthless oil stocks. They are Walter Marks, Phillip Goldstein and Max Hirsch, who will be sentenced Friday.

Three additional members of the General Lee Development company were to be arraigned today. They included "General" Robert E. Lee, once janitor at the state capital in Boise, Idaho, who was paid $50 a month, the government claims, for the use of his name in firm advertising, and the two officials of the company, Charles Sherwin and Harry H. Schwarz.

RED RIOT PLAN AT BERLIN IS POLICE FEAR

BERLIN, May 29.—Communists who have rioted in many Ruhr cities and in Saxony, plan a great upheaval in Berlin tomorrow, according to unconfirmed rumors afloat here.

Bloody fighting between reds and police at Dresden at midnight resulted in eleven deaths, according to reports reaching here.

The French, who have withheld from interference in the disturbances in most instances, today prohibited public assemblies at Recklinghausen and probably will extend the prohibition to other parts of the Ruhr.

Authorities Alarmed.

The move, it is believed, may mark the beginning of French intervention to prevent serious consequences of the rioting.

The possibility of a red disturbance in Berlin is alarming the authorities, as this, it is felt, would be far more serious than those elsewhere.

At Dresden during the night communists plundered a shop where arms were sold. Then they pressed in upon a little group of police, assailing the latter from both sides. Volleys were exchanged and many fell.

Battle Terrible.

Besides eleven dead, sixty are reported to have been wounded. The battle was terrible in that it was fought in the darkness; it was impossible for the police to dispose of the communists, who fired from concealment.

A mob stoned the French patrol at Stoppenberg today and two Germans were wounded in the fighting which followed. The chief officer of the French ordered his troops to clear the streets. A woman and a worker were killed near Solingen in a communist clash.

One was killed and two were wounded in an uprising at Dueseldorf.

A crowd of strikers tried to force workers to quit at a factory. Police intervened but the strikers refused to disperse and fighting followed.

NAME OF FIRM BIDDING FOR SHIPS TOLD

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Columbia Postal Supply company of Silver Creek, Chautauqua county, New York, was today revealed by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board as the bidder offering $1,061,000,000 for the shipping board's merchant fleet.

The offer was made by John W. Slack, president of the company, subject to acceptance any time up to July 12.

Payment of $51,000,000 would be made by October 1, 1923, and $50,000,000 yearly thereafter in quarterly installments until the entire sum is paid. All deferred payments would bear interest at four and a half per cent.

For All Property

The offer was made "for all the ships, active and inactive, and all the other property of the United States shipping board, real, personal and mixed."

"We agree to operate present lines with at least as good service as that rendered by the United States shipping board, during the entire life of the agreement," the offer stated, "the government to have the right to repossess all the property at any time that there is a default in payment of any part of the principal sum or any installment of interest."

"We are prepared to furnish a bond of $1,000,000 guaranteeing that we sign a contract if awarded same and to discuss any or all other details of such a contract."

Lasker Comments

Chairman Lasker issued this comment on the offer:

"Not one cent accompanied the offer. The $1,000,000 guarantee to be paid down represents one-tenth of one per cent down payment, and it is asked we hold our property intact and do nothing until next October when $50,000,000, or five per cent of the purchase price, would be paid."

"While, of course, the board would like to sell its fleet for $1,000,000, it should be said in passing that $1,000,000,000 is several times the highest inventory value of the fleet the government owns, based on present world market prices."

MELODIANS' BILL KFAW RADIO HIT

Lester Schroeder's Melodians gave a fine program at KFAW, The Register's broadcasting station last night from 8:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Their offerings consisted of snappy, syncopated numbers rendered in a fashion marking the Melodians as very capable musicians.

One of the features of the evening "Sacramento," made such a pronounced hit when played as the fourth number that a telephonic request for a repetition of this number was received just in time to offer it as the finale of the evening's entertainment.

The Melodians are composed of Lester Schroeder and Jack Crowell, saxophones; Loren Cannon, violin; Buzz Barnes, piano; and Bill Luck Drums.

Two new numbers were played during the hour allotted to KFAW and these included "Fate," "Rose of the Rio Grande," "Cuddle Up," "Sacramento," "Chicago," "After Every Party," "All the World is Waiting for the Sunrise," "Will You Always Love Me," "Bees Knees," "Peggy Dear," "Black Eyed Blues" and "Blue."

Pro-Federation Candidate Heads L. A. Woman's Club

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Mrs. John T. Coleman was elected president of the Woman's Club after a bitter fight. The defeated candidate was Mrs. Mary Avery Scherfee. Mrs. Coleman's friends, following the recent recommendations of the state federation, condemned Mrs. Scherfee's candidacy because she is employed by the Los Angeles Street Railway company. The state federation puts itself on record as opposing the election of candidates affiliated with political groups, or public utilities, or similar bodies who may wish to lobby through the medium of the women's clubs.

Disarming Order of De Valera Published

DUBLIN, May 29.—The publicity department of the Irish rebels today made public the order of Eamonn De Valera, commanding all his followers to lay down their arms. The insurgent leader issued his proclamation to his followers last Thursday, advising that they "cease firing."

All arms were to be "dumped" by May 28, yesterday.

Pressed By Officers, Young Bandit Suicides

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 29.—Seeing his pursuers gaining on the machine he had commandeered after holding up the store of E. J. Hottenroth at Hynes, Jack Hubbard, a youthful bandit, slumped down in the rear of the machine and committed suicide. He had obtained $45 in the robbery and forced Hottenroth to drive him away from the scene of the crime.

Pilot Who Ran Auto, Patted Woman, Fined

HAMMONTON, N. J., May 29.—A man can't run an automobile and pet a woman at the same time, Justice Mischlich said as he fined William Sciovene $10, for one-handed motoring.

Turkey Given More Territory to North

LAUSANNE, May 29.—The Turks were given a new slice of territory in Europe today by the diplomats devising Near East peace here.

Disregarding objections of the Serbian delegation, the experts decided that the Karagatch frontier should run north from the Arda river to the Maritza river, passing westward to the Karagatch.

This action gives the Turks several additional villages.

ARGENTINE NOT VERY CROWDED BY YANKEES

BUENOS AIRES (By Mail to United Press)—Young men from up north suffering from chronic unrest or stirred to desire for high adventure by wild-west moving picture plays find the pampas (plains) of the Argentine a panacea for all their ailments.

One youthful filibuster from the United States recently took a short course and was entirely cured. He loved the roar of a Colt and in his mind he was as wild as Hassayampa Sam, the Rio Grande's pride. He yearned for life in the raw, and some careless persons advised him to visit the pampas.

The northerner followed the prescribed route. Before he reached his detaining point the train drew up at a wayside station. The young man put his head out of the window and observed a number of greasy, half-caste Indian cow-punchers strolling around. They saw him, too. They pointed at him and grinned, and he grinned back, superciliously. The Indians did not like his grin, and as the train moved out one of them observed loudly that the strange galoot had an ugly face and in order to change it pulled out his gun and directed a few shots at the window.

Splinters of glass of glass and the seeker after excitement got down on all-fours and remained there with his head under the seat until the train was well under way. He kept right on until he reached a town where he could catch an express train back to Buenos Aires.

The Indians of the pampas are held cheaply by the big bosses of the estancias, and they accept their fortune. An overseer was showing a North American visitor how a wild horse could cut up and was making a mess of handling the unruly animal. A little brown boy watching the performance sent out a peal of laughter. The overseer, enraged, dismounted and ordered the boy hoisted on to the wild horse. Pale and trembling the youngster was forced to the saddle and the maddened animal given his head. The little brown boy went hurtling through the air and crashed into a fence. The overseer laughed, and the cow-punchers laughed, but the North American did not see the joke.

"He's hurt," said the visitor, but the stolid dirty woman who came out to pick the child up said he was dead. He was her son. The overseer laughed again.

"It doesn't matter," he said. "He's only the son of an Indian."

The peons are poor people, but they do not have a monopoly of poverty on the pampas. Even the state policemen who remain in the village have their pecuniary troubles. They are supposed to be paid a salary and sometimes they are. An eye-witness tells of watching a beggar in a rather popular town of the pampas. Begging is prohibited but right behind this beggar walked a policeman, keeping his eye on the fellow. The eyewitness expostulated with the cop.

"It's all right," said the policeman. "You see he's my prisoner. We haven't been paid for a long time and we're short of money so we've let out the prisoners to beg for us."

There is much brigandage on the plains. One police officer was ordered to capture a band of four or five. He called in his men. One by one he sent them off to different parts of his territory on fools' errands, and then said:

"Now I'm ready to bring those fellows in."

"But you've sent away all your assistants."

"Certainly. You don't suppose I'd take them with me, do you? They'd shoot me in the back at the first opportunity and steal everything in sight."

The man went out alone, but the outlaws killed him.

Some time ago a little river which runs through an estancia whose overseers are reputed to be rough on peons brought down the body of a young man, apparently mutilated with club and whip. Shortly afterwards another body was found, and then a third.

KIDNEY TROUBLE BECOMES SERIOUS

"Suffered with severe headache, backache and pain in my legs and arms and bladder was in bad condition. I was weak and nervous and felt tired and worn out. Walking made me short of breath. Every morning my face and hands were bloated. Medicines failed to help my condition, and doctors advised an operation," writes Maggie Nelson, Mossdale, Fla. "Fortunately I read about Foley Kidney Pills, tried them and got relief." Sold everywhere.

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—H. H. Rose, former mayor of Los Angeles and of one time police judge, was confined in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital today following the complaint of his wife before the lunacy board. She declared he had spells when he became wild and unmanageable. He has been under the care of a physician for some time.

Lutheran Minister Unfrosted for Life

FRESNO, Calif., May 29.—The Rev. C. W. Wolter of Orange Cove, former pastor of the Free Evangelical Lutheran Cross church here and recently called to this city to take the pastorate of the Third Congregational church, was dismissed from the ministry here yesterday by action of the California Association of German Congregational churches. He was found guilty of intoxication, untruthfulness, disregard of orders and conduct unbecoming a minister.

Business Women Meet For Dinner at Inn

The final one of the 6 o'clock dinners of the Business and Professional Women's club was an event of last night at St. Ann's Inn where under the leadership of the president, Miss Doris Robbins, a certain amount of business was transacted followed by an enjoyable program and social time.

Among matters discussed was the question of continuing the dinners or functioning as a luncheon club and it was decided that the latter plan had proven more satisfactory. The next meeting will be Monday, June 4 when Miss Edna Wurster will be chairman of the committee to present the program in connection with the noon luncheon at the Inn.

Last night's program committee was composed of Miss Nellie Vance Wilson, Miss Floy Donaldson and Miss Lorraine French. Their array of talent was a delightful one featuring Miss Effie Jessup pianist, Miss Ethel Smallwood, dancer and Miss Evelyn Nunn, artist-traveler.

Miss Jessup, winner in the recent county musical contest, gave the numbers played at that event, the First Movement from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and "The Witches' Dance" by McDowell. Her playing was truly delightful and was followed by the equally enjoyable dance numbers by Miss Smallwood.

Arrayed in a sea-green Egyptian costume, with her heavy masses of blonde hair flying from a jeweled head-dress, the tiny dancer was a charming picture in the graceful and sinuous poses of an Egyptian snake dance for which Miss Bernice Bull played the piano accompaniment.

Introduction of Miss Nunn was followed by a happy ramble through unaccustomed scenes of Japan as the speaker carried her hearers with her to that land of the cherry blossom and told of the "Women of Japan." Miss Nunn wore a beautiful gown, fashioned from the native dress of the women of the Orient. Her talk was an interesting symposium of experiences gained through several years of painting and teaching in Nippon.

—a Token

If Memorial day is made an occasion just for looking backward it is not a fitting tribute. May it not better be a day of looking forward, of resolve to carry forward to a more complete realization the ideals for which those whom this day honors laid down their lives.

NEWS BRIEFS

The Santa Ana Radio club will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the residence of L. O. Vaughn, North Main street, George Sackman, a member, announced today. A former commercial operator is scheduled to give a talk.

All Julian people, former Julian people, their friends and relatives are invited to attend an all-day picnic, Sunday, June 10th, at the Pepper Grove, Balboa Park, in San Diego. Come early and bring your basket lunch. Committee.

Word has been received, from Mrs. R. H. Cartwright of 631 North Ross street, that she underwent a serious operation several weeks ago in a Los Angeles hospital, that she is somewhat improved. This will be good news to her many friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Cartwright underwent a major operation two years ago, from which she did not make a good recovery, but there is hope and belief that she will now gain back some of her usual strength, but will remain for some time under treatment.

The last class of the one-day tractor schools held under direction of the Orange county farm bureau and the Agricultural Extension service was held today at La Habra.

A meeting of the board of education was to be held today at 4 p. m.

Due to a message demanding her presence at the bedside of her mother in Chicago, Mrs. Crittenden, who was scheduled to address a meeting of the Unit Center of Christianity tonight at 11:15 East Fourth street, was compelled to cancel plans for the meeting. Mrs. Crittenden left at once for Chicago.

Unsuccessful in their attempts to retain the patriotic decorations on the downtown streets, the Lions club was today keenly disappointed that the Los Angeles firm owning the decorations, found it necessary to refuse an offer of $100 for the use of them over Memorial day. In consequence of that refusal, Judge E. T. Langley, patriotic instructor of Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R., today issued a request that every one display the national colors as prominently as possible tomorrow in honor of Memorial day, that the city may avoid the appearance of bareness or a seeming disregard for the flag.

Eastern Star

The annual official visit of the district deputy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, who recognized in most pleasing manner last night at the stated session of Santa Ana chapter, held in the Masonic temple.

Preceding the chapter session at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Adele Kellenberger, the distinguished visitor, was honored guest at a dinner of attractive appointments arranged for members of the chapter alone. The banquet room was a wilderness of mountain flowers arranged under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Sylvester while the delectable six course menu prepared by Mrs. Bullock, was planned by Mrs. Elton R. Roehm and her committee.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Kellenberger was her husband who accompanied her from Anaheim, their home. Following the dinner, the entire ritualistic work of the order was exemplified by the officers of the chapter and Mrs. Kellenberger expressed much appreciation for the manner in which it was presented. As she entered the room escorted by the marshal, she carried a great sheaf of gladness as a gift from the officers while later, Mrs. Caroline Carter, worthy matron, in the course of a pleasant little talk presented the distinguished guest with a beautiful serving tray in hammered brass as a gift from the chapter.

To add to the interest of the occasion, an impressive memorial service was held with special music played by Ethel Troxell Thompson and "Crossing the Bar" sung as a delightful solo by Mr. Herschel Clayton.

Score to Testify In Big Oil Fraud Cases

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 29.—A score of alleged "victims" arrived here today, to testify in the first of the government's suits against Texas oil promoters.

Three of the ninety-two promoters indicted by the government have already pleaded guilty to the sale of worthless oil stocks. They are Walter Marks, Phillip Goldstein and Max Hirsch, who will be sentenced Friday.

Three additional members of the General Lee Development company were to be arraigned today. They included "General" Robert E. Lee, once janitor at the state capital in Boise, Idaho, who was paid $5 a month, the government claims, for the use of his name in firm advertising, and the two officials of the company, Charles Sherwin and Harry H. Schwarz.

RED RIOT PLAN AT BERLIN IS POLICE FEAR

BERLIN, May 29.—Communists who have rioted in many Ruhr cities and in Saxony, plan a great upheaval in Berlin tomorrow, according to unconfirmed rumors afloat here.

Bloody fighting between reds and police at Dresden at midnight resulted in eleven deaths, according to reports reaching here.

The French, who have withheld from interference in the disturbances in most instances, today prohibited public assemblies at Recklinhausen and probably will extend the prohibition to other parts of the Ruhr.

Authorities Alarmed.
The move, it is believed, may mark the beginning of French intervention to prevent serious consequences of the rioting.

The possibility of a red disturbance in Berlin is alarming the authorities, as this, it is felt, would be far more serious than those elsewhere.

At Dresden during the night communists plundered a shop where arms were sold. Then they pressed in upon a little group of police, assaulting the latter from both sides. Volleys were exchanged and many fell.

Battle Terrible.
Besides eleven dead, sixty are reported to have been wounded. The battle was terrible in that it was fought in the darkness; it was impossible for the police to dispose of the communists, who fired from concealment.

A mob stoned the French patrol at Stoppenberg today and two Germans were wounded in the fighting which followed. The chief officer of the French ordered his troops to clear the streets. A woman and a worker were killed near Solingen in a communist clash.

One was killed and two were wounded in an uprising at Dueseldorf.

A crowd of strikers tried to force workers to quit at a factory. Police intervened but the strikers refused to disperse and fighting followed.

MELODIANS' BILL KFAW RADIO HIT

Lester Schroeder's Melodians gave a fine program at KFAW, The Register's broadcasting station last night (May 28) from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Their offerings consisted of snappy, syncopated numbers rendered in a fashion marking the Melodians as very capable musicians.

One of the features of the evening "Sacramento," made such a pronounced hit when played as the fourth number that a telephonic request for a repetition of this number was received just in time to offer it as the finale of the evening's entertainment.

The Melodians are composed of Lester Schroeder and Jack Crowell, saxophones; Loren Cannon, violin; Buzz Barnes, piano; and Bill Luck Drums.

Twelve numbers were played during the hour allotted to KFAW and these included "Pete," "Rose of the Rio Grande," "Cuddle Up," "Sacramento," "Chicago," "After Every Party," "All the World is Waiting for the Sunrise," "Will You Always Love Me," "Bees Knees," "Peggy Dear," "Black Eyed Blues" and "Blue."

Pro-Federation Candidate Heads L. A. Woman's Club

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Mrs. John T. Coleman was elected president of the Woman's City club after a bitter fight. The defeated candidate was Mrs. Mary Avery Scherfee. Mrs. Coleman's friends, following the recent recommendations of the state federation, condemned Mrs. Scherfee's candidacy because she is employed by the home. The state federation puts itself on record as opposing the election of candidates affiliated with political groups, or public utilities, or similar bodies who may wish to lobby through the medium of the women's clubs.

Pilot Who Ran Auto, Patted Woman, Fined

HAMMONTON, N. J., May 29.—A man can't run an automobile and pet a woman at the same time, Justice Mischel said as he fined William Sciovene $10, for one-handed motoring.

Turkey Given More Territory to North

LAUSANNE, May 29.—The Turks were given a new slice of territory in Europe today by the diplomats devising Near East peace here.

Disregarding objections of the Serbian delegation, the experts decided that the Karagatch frontier should run north from the Arda river to the Maritza river, passing westward to the Karagatch.

This action gives the Turks several additional villages.

NAME OF FIRM BIDDING FOR SHIPS TOLD

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Columbia Postal Supply company of Silver Creek, Chautauqua county, New York, was today revealed by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board as the bidder offering $1,051,000,000 for the shipping board's merchant fleet.

The offer was made by John W. Slack, president of the company, subject to acceptance any time up to July 12.

Payment of $51,000,000 would be made by October 1, 1923, and $50,000,000 yearly thereafter in quarterly installments until the entire sum is paid. All deferred payments would bear interest at four and a half per cent.

For All Property
The offer was made "for all the ships, active and inactive, and all the other property of the United States shipping board, real, personal and mixed."

"We agree to operate present lines with at least as good service as that rendered by the United States shipping board, during the entire life of the agreement," the offer stated, "the government to have the right to repossess all the property at any time that there is a default in payment of any part of the principal sum or any installment of interest."

"We are prepared to furnish a bond of $1,000,000, guaranteeing that we sign a contract if awarded same and to discuss any or all other details of such a contract."

Lasker Comments
Chairman Lasker issued this comment on the offer:

"Not one cent accompanied the offer. The $1,000,000 guarantee to be paid down represents one-tenth of one per cent down payment, and it is asked we hold all our property intact and do nothing until next October when $50,000,000, or five per cent of the purchase price, would be paid."

"While, of course, the board would like to sell its fleet for $1,000,000, it should be said in passing that $1,000,000,000 is several times the highest inventory value of the fleet the government owns, based on present world market prices."

Prohibition Made Issue In Senatorial Campaign

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 29.—The light wine and beer question was injected today into the campaign for the senatorial seat made vacant by the death of Knute Nelson.

Ernest Lundeen, one of the seven Republicans seeking the nomination in the primary to be held June 18, issued a statement favoring "sane and sensible temperance legislation."

He said an American should have the right to "eat and drink what he pleases and if this means light wines and beer, then I am for light wines and beer."

J. A. A. Burnquist, former governor, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination, bringing the total in the field to seven.

Disarming Order of De Valera Published

DUBLIN, May 29.—The publicity department of the Irish rebels today made public the order of Eamonn De Valera, commanding all his followers to lay down their arms. The insurgent leader issued his proclamation to his followers last Thursday, advising that they "cease firing."

All arms were to be "dumped" by May 28, yesterday.

Pressed By Officers, Young Bandit Suicides

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 29.—Seeing his pursuers gaining on the machine he had commandeered, a little fellow holding up the store of E. J. Hottenroth at Hynes, Jack Hubbard, a youthful bandit, slumped down in the rear of the machine and committed suicide. He had obtained $45 in the robbery and forced Ed Steiner to drive him away from the scene of the crime.

ARGENTINE NOT VERY CROWDED BY YANKEES

BUENOS AIRES (By Mail to United Press)—Young men from up north suffering from chronic unrest or stirred to desire for high adventure by wild-west moving picture plays find the pampas (plains) of the Argentine a panacea for all their ailments.

One youthful filibuster from the United States recently took a short course and was entirely cured. He loved the roar of a Colt and in his mind he was as wild as Hassam's Sam, the Rio Grande's pride. He yearned for life in the raw, and some careless persons advised him to visit the pampas.

The northerner followed the prescribed route. Before he reached his detaining point the train drew up at a wayside station. The young man put his head out of the window and observed a number of greasy, half-caste Indian cow-punchers strolling around. They saw him, too. They pointed at him and grinned, and he grinned back, superciliously. The Indians did not like his grin, and as the train moved out one of them observed loudly that the strange galoot has an ugly face and in order to change it pulled out his gun and directed a few shots at the window.

Splinters Glass
There was a splinter of glass and the seeker after excitement got down on all-fours and remained there with his head under the seat until the train was well under way. He kept right on until he reached a town where he could catch an express train back to Buenos Aires.

The Indians of the pampas are held cheaply by the big bosses of the estancias, and they accept their fortune. An overseer was showing a North American visitor how a wild horse could cut up and was making a mess of handling the unruly animal. A little brown boy watching the performance sent out a peal of laughter. The overseer, enraged, dismounted and ordered the boy hoisted on to the wild horse. Pale and trembling the youngster was forced to the saddle and the maddened animal given his head. The little brown boy went hurtling through the air and crashed into a fence.

The overseer laughed, and the cow-punchers laughed, but the North American did not see the joke. "He's hurt," said the visitor, but the stolid dirty woman who came out to pick the child up said he was dead. He was her son. The overseer laughed again.

"It doesn't matter," he said. "He's only the son of an Indian."

The peons are poor people, but they do not have a monopoly of poverty on the pampas. Even the state policemen who remain in the village have their pecuniary troubles. They are supposed to be paid a salary and sometimes they are.

An eye-witness tells of watching a beggar in a rather popular town of the pampas. Begging is prohibited but right behind this beggar walked a policeman, keeping his eye on the fellow. The eyewitness expostulated with the cop.

"It's all right," said the policeman. "You see he's my prisoner. We haven't been paid for a long time and we're short of money so we've let out the prisoners to beg for us."

There is much brigandage on the plains. One police official was ordered to capture a band of four or five. He called in his men. One by one he sent them off to different parts of his territory on fools' errands, and then said:

"Now I'm ready to bring those fellows in."

"But you've sent away all your assistants."

"Certainly. You don't suppose I'd take them with me, do you? They'd shoot me in the back at the first opportunity and steal everything in sight."

The man went out alone, but the outlaws killed him.

Some time ago a little river which runs through an estancia whose overseers are reputed to be rough on peons brought down the body of a young man, apparently mutilated with club and whip. Shortly afterwards another body was found, and then a third.

KIDNEY TROUBLE BECOMES SERIOUS

"Suffered with severe headache, backache and pains in my legs and under my shoulder blade. My kidneys and bladder were in bad condition. I was weak and nervous and felt tired and worn out. Walking made me short of breath. Every morning my face and hands were bloated. Medicines failed to help my condition and doctors advised an operation," writes Maggie Nelson, Mossdale, Fla. "Fortunately I read about Foley Kidney Pills, tried them and got relief." Sold everywhere.

Lutheran Minister Unfrooked for Life

FRESNO, Calif., May 29.—The Rev. C. W. Wolter of Orange Cove, former pastor of the Free Evangelical Lutheran Cross church here and recently called to this city to take the pastorate of the Third Congregational church, was dismissed from the ministry here yesterday by action of the California Association of German Congregational churches. He was found guilty of intoxication, untruthfulness, disregard of orders and conduct unbecoming a minister.

Business Women Meet For Dinner at Inn

The final one of the 6 o'clock dinners of the Business and Professional Women's club was an event of last night at St. Ann's Inn where under the leadership of the president, Miss Doris Robbins, a certain amount of business was transacted followed by an enjoyable program and social time.

Among matters discussed was the question of continuing the dinners or functioning as a luncheon club and it was decided that the latter plan had proven more satisfactory. The next meeting will be Monday, June 4 when Miss Edna Wurster will be chairman of the committee to present the program in connection with the noon luncheon at the Inn.

Last night's program committee was composed of Miss Nellie Vance Wilson, Miss Ploy Donaldson and Miss Lorraine French. Their array of talent was a delightful one featuring Miss Effie Jessup pianist, Miss Ethel Smallwood, dancer and Miss Evelyn Nunn, artist-traveler.

Miss Jessup, winner in the recent county musical contest, gave the numbers played at that event, the First Movement from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and "The Witches' Dance" by McDowell. Her playing was truly delightful and was followed by the equally enjoyable dance numbers by Miss Smallwood.

Arrayed in a sea-green Egyptian costume, with her heavy masses of blonde hair flying from a jeweled head-dress, the tiny dancer was a charming picture in the graceful and sinuous poses of an Egyptian snake dance for which Miss Berenice Bull played the piano accompaniment.

Introduction of Miss Nunn was followed by a happy ramble through unaccustomed scenes of Japan as the speaker carried her hearers with her to that land of the cherry blossom and told of the "Women of Japan." Miss Nunn wore a beautiful gown, fashioned from the native dress of the women of the Orient. Her talk was an interesting symposium of experiences gained through several years of painting and teaching in Nippon.

Ex-Mayor H. H. Rose Before Lunacy Board

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—H. H. Rose, former mayor of Los Angeles and at one time police judge, was confined in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital today following the complaint of his wife before the lunacy board. She declared he had spells when he became wild and unmanageable. He has been under the care of a physician for some time.

If Memorial day is made an occasion just for looking backward it is not a fitting tribute.

May it not better be a day of looking forward, of resolve to carry forward to a more complete realization the ideals for which those whom this day honors laid down their lives.

FOR CITRUS SCALE

Rosin soap spray is especially good to use for scale on lemons and orange trees. Use one pound to about three gallons of water. A thorough spraying is almost as effective as a fumigation, if done at the proper time. Kerosene or distillate is often added, but should be used with care to prevent burning of foliage and fruit. We handle the Rosin soaps in one, three and forty pound cans.

COUNCIL MOVES TO COMPEL REPAVING JOB

MORE MEN FOR POLICE FORCE APPROVED

Declaring that residents outside the "center of gravitation" were entitled to police protection, George McPhee, as police commissioner, last night recommended to the council the appointment of two additional police officers for patrol duty in the residential districts. The recommendation was approved.

Incidentally the police commissioner advised that the two new officers patrol the outside districts on bicycles, instead of motorcycles. "Might as well tie a cow-bell to the officers as to send them out on motorcycles," was the comment of the councilman.

The recommendation was the result of the hold-up at the home of C. F. Skirvin Saturday night.

Electrical Detector Bares Spirit Hoax

NEW YORK, May 29.—An intricate electrical detector proved the false origin of spirit communications at a recent test before a board of jurors. The Scientific American announced today.

The magazine, having offered a reward of $5000 to any spiritualist who could baffie this select jury with special delivered messages from the spirits, declared the first medium had failed entirely.

Stenographers and an electric light attachment to the medium's chair revealed that every time the medium moved about the room the special messages came. By timing the dictaphone and the electric attachment, the special investigators traced every movement of the spiritualist in the darkness.

Klan Crosses Blaze In Mask Law Protest

WILMINGTON, Del., May 29.—Delaware was ablaze with fiery crosses last night in protests staged by the Ku Klux Klan against the Walker law in New York forbidding disguises in public and requiring registration of secret society members. A belated demonstration was staged in the outskirts of this city. As in other instances, a cross wrapped with cloth and soaked with oil was blazing brightly.

Crosses of various heights were set up throughout the state and the torch was applied, following in each case the explosion of two huge bombs. The detonations attracted large crowds of people.

Pacific Electric Heads Wanted to Visit Santa Ana

Accepting a suggestion of Councilman Charles H. Chapman, the council last night appointed George McPhee and Nat H. Neff a committee to interview Pacific Electric officials, and invite them to Santa Ana for a conference with the council on certain matters of right of way improvement and maintenance of railroad crossings.

According to the councilmen, there are a number of questions to present to the officials for their consideration, and it was thought that it would be to the advantage of both parties to have the officials come here and go over the ground with the councilmen.

Repair of the company's right of way on North Main street is one of the questions that will come up for discussion, it was indicated.

STORM WATER PROBLEM IS NEAR END

As a preliminary to final preparations for taking care of storm water of the city diverted to Fairview avenue, arrangements were to be made today for a conference some time this week between the council and representatives of the Havens Seed company.

The conference will concern the opening of Flower street south to Edinger street, and a storm drain through the Havens property, south from Edinger, to a ditch of the Delhi drainage district.

Whether the water shall be carried through the Havens property in an open ditch, a pipe line, or a combination curb and gutter are points to be discussed. It was reported at a meeting of the city council last night that should Flower street be extended south through the Havens acreage, it would be necessary to move a large barn on the ranch or cut off five feet. There is a possibility of the street, at some future date, extending through the seed company's holdings, and it is understood, the company favors the curb and gutter plan.

Sycamore Street Opening Up Martin Shields, an interested property owner, presented a plan for the opening of Sycamore street north from Washington to Fifth, by which court proceedings could be avoided and costs greatly reduced. He had worked out a plan by which property exchanges could be made so that damages would be slight. In order to execute the plan it will be necessary for the council or property owners to advance $4,000. The council cannot do so legally. Shields will attempt to solve the problem by taking the matter up with owners who would have to bear the burden of the expense of opening.

Claude Killen recommended the location of an electric sign on the North Main street bridge. Reports last night disclosed that one sign will cost approximately $475, with monthly operating cost of $7.50. He was directed to submit to the next meeting definite recommendation for the one sign, with the costs divided as to the sign itself and the installation. By doing so the necessity of advertising for bids will be obviated. The cost of installation will be charged to the advertising fund. The wording on the electric sign will be "Santa Ana" on one side, and "Call Again" on the opposite.

Suggested signs for West Fifth and East First will be installed later, one each year, probably.

The Southern Counties Gas company has promised to "be good," according to a report to the council by Killen. Killen was appointed to take up with J. C. Hayden, local manager, the matter of the company's alleged carelessness in filling trenches after installation of gas mains. Hayden said that he would see that there is no further cause for complaint. He also will take up with company officials the point of installation of service stubs on Bristol street. Killen warned him that in all probability the council would refuse permission should the company desire to break into the pavement for installations, after laying of the paving on Bristol street.

Communication from W. S. Culver, Los Angeles, director of a band, offering to provide band concerts here during the summer was filed for future reference.

Orange County Building Trades council was given permission to conduct a carnival on the corner of Third and Birch streets, starting today. The license fee will be $5 per day, with the carnival company responsible for the pay of two special officers for duty at the grounds in the evening. The carnival will continue until June 6.

An ordinance was adopted changing the name of Hickey to Eighth street, the change becoming effective in thirty days.

6000 Kiwanians Open International Meet

ATLANTA, Ga., May 29.—Kiwanis delegates were here six thousand strong today as they settled into discussion of the business problems at their international convention.

DECISION TO FINISH STREET AT CITY EXPENSE REVERSED

Reversing action of a week ago, when it was decided that completion of the paving of an unpaved section of East Fourth street, in front of property of Frank Thompson, 904 East Fourth, should be done at the expense of the city, the city council last night directed City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. and City Engineer W. G. Knox to take necessary steps to have the work done at the expense of the owner.

The construction includes paving in front of what is known as the Compton property, almost directly opposite that of Thomson.

When the street was repaved two or three years ago the owners of the two properties refused to have the work done. The paving job was done under private contract, so the council could not force the work at that time.

Thomson at one time started the improvement under a formula of his own and was halted by the council because the type of work was not satisfactory. Since then various attempts have been made to force Thomson to put down the pavement.

The council last night indicated determination to force repaving in front of both properties.

CALIFORNIA IS NOW RICHEST OF STATES

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—An astonishing story of the wealth of California is revealed in a Federal report complete yesterday under the direction of United States Revenue Collector Goodell, in the series of official surveys covering the development of western states during the past year. This report, which will be placed in the records at Washington, reveals that the value of the United States government securities now owned and held in California is twice the combined total of similar securities owned by the residents of fifteen western states.

This report, which is officially based on income reported from taxation by California taxpayers, proves beyond doubt that California is now the richest state in the union, the federal collector declared.

During the last fiscal year California taxpayers reported their income tax returns interest received from United States government obligations amounting to $3,495,000, which the survey shows is double the entire amount reported by the States of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Arkansas, Kansas, Texas, with Alaska and Hawaii. Including the eastern states of Delaware, New Hampshire and Vermont, the combined total was $3,464,000, which is less than the amount returned by California alone.

Dividends amounting to $134,333,000 were received by California taxpayers, this amount exceeding by $3,000,000 the total amount returned by Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware and Vermont.

The normal income tax paid by Californians was $28,742,000, a greater sum than the combined total paid in the fifteen other western states. Income surtax receipts from California were $21,706,000, which exceeded by a million dollars the combined collections in fifteen western states, with the eastern states of Delaware, New Hampshire and Vermont.

One of the outstanding features of the survey is the fact that under the new revenue act $674,115,000 in personal exemptions were allowed California taxpayers. More than $500,000,000 of this amount was distributed among 351,309 citizens whose incomes were less than $5000, while only approximately $150,000,000 went to persons reporting incomes in excess of $5000.

Under the new revenue act $12,000,772 in exemptions of all classes were allowed California income taxpayers for the calendar year.

FOR CITRUS SCALE

Rosin soap spray is especially good to use for scale on lemon and orange trees. Use one pound to about three gallons of water. A thorough spraying is almost as effective as a fumigation, if done at the proper time. Kerosene or disinfectant is often added, but should be used with care to prevent burning of foliage and fruit. We handle the Rosin soaps in one, three and forty pound cans.

COUNCIL MOVES TO COMPEL REPAVING JOB

MORE MEN FOR POLICE FORCE APPROVED

Declaring that residents outside the "center of gravitation" were entitled to police protection, George McPhee, as police commissioner, last night recommended to the council the appointment of two additional police officers for patrol duty in the residential districts. The recommendation was approved.

Incidentally the police commissioner advised that the two new officers patrol the outside districts on bicycles, instead of motorcycles. "Might as well tie a cow-bell to the officers as to send them out on motorcycles," was the comment of the councilman.

The recommendation was the result of the hold-up at the home of C. F. Skirvin Saturday night.

Electrical Detector Bares Spirit Hoax

NEW YORK, May 29.—An intricate electrical detector proved the false origin of spirit communications at a recent test session before a board of jurors. The Scientific American announced today.

The magazine, having offered a reward of $5000 to any spiritual medium who could baffles this select jury with special delivered messages from the spirits, declared the first medium had failed entirely.

Stenographers and an electric light attachment to the medium's chair revealed that every time the medium moved about the room the special messages came. By timing the dictaphone and the electric attachment, the special investigators traced every movement of the spiritualist in the darkness.

Klan Crosses Blaze In Mask Law Protest

WILMINGTON, Del., May 29.—Delaware was ablaze with fiery crosses last night in protests staged by the Ku Klux Klan against the Walker law in New York forbidding disguises in public and requiring registration of secret society members. A belated demonstration was staged in the outskirts of this city. As in other instances, a cross wrapped with cloth and soaked with oil was blazing brightly.

Crosses of various heights were set up throughout the state and the torch was applied, following in each case the explosion of two huge bombs. The detonations attracted large crowds of people.

Pacific Electric Heads Wanted to Visit Santa Ana

Accepting a suggestion of Councilman Charles H. Chapman, the council last night appointed George McPhee and Nat H. Neff a committee to interview Pacific Electric officials, and invite them to Santa Ana for a conference with the council on certain matters of right of way improvement and maintenance of railroad crossings.

According to the councilmen, there are a number of questions to present to the officials for their consideration, and it was thought that it would be to the advantage of both parties to have the officials come here and go over the ground with the councilmen.

Repair of the company's right of way on North Main street is one of the questions that will come up for discussion, it was indicated.

STORM WATER PROBLEM IS NEAR END

As a preliminary to final preparations for taking care of storm water of the city diverted to Fairview avenue, arrangements were to be made today for a conference some time this week between the council and representatives of the Havens Seed company.

The conference will concern the opening of Flower street south to Edinger street, and a storm drain through the Havens property, south from Edinger, to a ditch of the Delhi drainage district.

Whether the water shall be carried through the Havens property in an open ditch, a pipe line, or by a combination curb and gutter are points to be discussed. It was reported at a meeting of the city council last night that should Flower street be extended south through the Havens acreage, it would be necessary to move a large barn on the ranch or cut off five feet. There is a possibility of the street, at some future date, extending through the seed company's holdings, and, it is understood, the company favors the curb and gutter plan.

Sycamore Street Opening Up. Martin Shields, an interested property owner, presented a plan for the opening of Sycamore street north from Washington to Fifteenth, by which court proceedings could be avoided and costs greatly reduced. He had worked out a plan by which property exchanges could be made so that damages would be slight. In order to execute the plan it will be necessary for the council or property owners to advance $4,000. The council cannot do so legally. Shields will attempt to solve the problem by taking the matter up with owners who would have to bear the burden of the expense of opening.

Claude Killen recommended the location of an electric sign on the North Main street bridge. Reports last night disclosed that one sign will cost approximately $175, with monthly operating cost of $7.50. He was directed to submit to the next meeting definite recommendation for the one sign, with the costs divided as to the sign itself and the installation. By doing so the necessity of advertising for bids will be obviated. The cost of installation will be charged to the advertising fund. The wording on the electric sign will be "Santa Ana" on one side and "Call Again" on the opposite. Suggested signs for West Fifth and East First will be installed later, one each year, probably.

The Southern Counties Gas company has promised to "be good," according to a report to the council by Killen. Killen was appointed to take up with J. C. Hayden, local manager, the matter of the company's alleged carelessness in filling trenches after installation of gas mains. Hayden said that he would see that there is no further cause for complaint. He also will take up with company officials the point of installation of service stubs on Bristol street. Killen warned him that in all probability the council would refuse permission should the company desire to break into the pavement for installations, after laying of the paving on Bristol street.

Communication from W. S. Culver, Los Angeles, director of a band, offering to provide band concerts here during the summer was filed for future reference.

Orange County Building Trades council was given permission to conduct a carnival on the corner of Third and Birch streets, starting today. The license fee will be $5 per day, with the carnival company responsible for the pay of two special officers for duty at the grounds in the evening. The carnival will continue until June 6. An ordinance was adopted changing the name of Hickey to Elighth street, the change becoming effective in thirty days.

6000 Kiwanians Open International Meet

ATLANTA, Ga., May 29.—Kiwanis delegates were here six thousand strong today as they settled into discussion of the business problems at their international convention.

George H. Ross, Toronto, international president, at the opening business session, reviewed the work of Kiwanis clubs in fifty-four states and provinces.

For benefit of new-comers: Blumens rebuilds any old shoe: Men's Half Soles, $1.50, Ladies' Half Soles, $1.00; at 104 East Sixth.

DECISION TO FINISH STREET AT CITY EXPENSE REVERSED

Reversing action of a week ago, when it was decided that completion of the paving of an unpaved section of East Fourth street, in front of property of Frank Thompson, 904 East Fourth, should be done at the expense of the city, the city council last night directed City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. and City Engineer W. G. Knox to take necessary steps to have the work done at the expense of the owner.

The construction includes paving in front of what is known as the Compton property, almost directly opposite that of Thompson.

When the street was repaved two or three years ago the owners of the two properties refused to have the work done. The paving job was done under private contract, so the council could not force the work at that time.

Thomson at one time started the improvement under a formula of his own and was halted by the council because the type of work was not satisfactory. Since then various attempts have been made to force Thomson to put down the pavement.

The council last night indicated determination to force repaving in front of both properties.

CALIFORNIA IS NOW RICHEST OF STATES

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—An astonishing story of the wealth of California is revealed in a Federal report complete yesterday under the direction of United States Revenue Collector Goodell, in the series of official surveys covering the development of western states during the past year. This report, which will be placed in the records at Washington, reveals that the value of the United States government securities now owned and held in California is twice the combined total of similar securities owned by the residents of fifteen western states.

This report, which is officially based on income reported from taxation by California taxpayers, proves beyond doubt that California is now the richest state in the union, the federal collector declared.

During the last fiscal year California taxpayers reported in their income tax returns interest received from United States government obligations amounting to $3,495,000, which the survey shows is double the entire amount reported by the States of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Arkansas, Kansas and Texas, with Alaska and Hawaii. Including the eastern states of Delaware, New Hampshire and Vermont, the combined total was $3,464,000, which is less than the amount returned by California alone.

Dividends amounting to $134,393,000 were received by California taxpayers, this amount exceeding by $3,000,000 the total amount returned by Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware and Vermont.

The normal income tax paid by Californians was $23,742,000, a greater sum than the combined total paid in the fifteen other western states. Income surtax receipts from California were $21,706,000, which exceeded by a million dollars the combined collections in fifteen western states, with the eastern states of Delaware, New Hampshire and Vermont.

One of the outstanding features of the survey is the fact that under the new revenue act $674,115,000 in personal exemptions were allowed California taxpayers. More than $500,000,000 of this amount was distributed among 351,309 citizens whose incomes were less than $5000, while only approximately $150,000,000 went to persons reporting incomes in excess of $5000.

Under the new revenue act, $812,000,772 in exemptions of all classes were allowed California income taxpayers for the calendar year.

Musical Program
Proves Delightful
Under Ebell Auspices

Yesterday was truly a red-letter day on the season's calendar for the Ebell society, for the program was one of the most perfect musical programs that has been presented in Santa Ana during the past year and in bringing before its members so eminent a group of artists, Ebell assures itself of a prominent place on the city's musical map.

The program was presented by the Jules Lepeske ensemble, through arrangement with L. E. Behrmer of Los Angeles.

Jules Lepeske himself, founder and director of the ensemble, is a concert artist of note not only in America, but also in the musical centers of Europe. He has appeared as soloist with such famous organizations as The Detroit and St. Louis Symphony orchestras, and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Ernest Huber, bass viol, was for seventeen years with the Boston Symphony, and is now solo bass with the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Joseph Hindl, cellist, was for nine years with the New York Philharmonic and is now with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, as is also Ben Bloom, second violin. In Henry Erb the ensemble has a perfect accompanist.

Every number given was in itself a perfect musical gem, and in the encores, with which the organization was truly generous the added pleasure lay partly in the fact that most of them were familiar. The "William Tell" overture was given a masterly presentation, the magnificent "storm" being given with a power that held the audience breathless. The serenade given as final encore was a thing of exquisite harmony.

The "nocturne in E flat" (Chopin-Sarasate) and the exquisite "Caprice Viennoise" (Kreisler) given as violin solos by Jules Lepeske were as rare bits of artistry as have ever been given on a local program, and they met a warmly enthusiastic and appreciative burst of applause.

Sharing honors with the ensemble and with Mr. Lepeske, Alice Forsythe Mosher, accompanied by Gertrude Frohman Jones, gave a half dozen numbers that in themselves would have constituted a perfectly satisfying afternoon's program.

Combined with a most delightful soprano voice of rare sweetness and purity, Miss Mosher has also that rarely even among artists of the highest type—a perfect enunciation in perfect that not a word is lost, even in the remotest corner of the auditorium. Beside these two gifts, Miss Mosher has a strikingly attractive appearance and personality. In Miss Jones, she has a sympathetic accompanist, responsive to her every mood.

There was something so exquisitely sweet in her rendition of Nevin's "O, That We Two Were Maying," that it left her hearers close to tears. "The Blackbird's Song," by Cyril Scott, "My Heart is a Lute," by Woodman, "Lithuanian Love Song" (Chopin), "The Bitterness of Love" (Dunn), and "I Came With a Song" (La Forge) were other delightful numbers given by Miss Mosher, who also responded generously with encores.

Preceding the musical program was a business session devoted mostly to reports.

Mrs. John Clarkson, Ebell's president, and delegate to the state convention of Federated Women's clubs held recently at Eureka, gave a few brief notes on the convention, with the promise of a more detailed report at the next meeting.

Mrs. James Harding, temporary chairman of the Day Nursery committee, reported the removal of the nursery to the property recently purchased, through the assistance of the Santa Ana Rotary club, for that purpose.

Many generous donations of money, material and work were given Ebell for the nursery, among those mentioned by Mrs. Harding being a gift of lumber from C. H. Chapman to build the room needed for the Day Nursery's second-hand clothing store, a gift involved in painting, with the material given at cost, and the gift of plans and labor by E. A. Noe, contractor who built the room. Many other gifts have also been gratefully received.

Reporting for the building committee of which she is chairman, Mrs. O. M. Robbins outlined a building plan approved by her committee, expressing the hope and belief that the building may be started by the first of August.

Personals

Mrs. Edward Power will return tomorrow to her home in Berkeley, after a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Visel of North Bush street.

Arriving yesterday from Rochester, Minn., R. E. Finch and Frank Rock, guests in the J. F. Plank home, 695 Batavia street, Orange, are already imbued with the charm and progressive air of Orange county. The Minnesotans will remain for an extended visit.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT SANTA ANA HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Maryatt, he wearing the insignia of his patriotic organizations and she adorned with the ornaments worn as a bride, fifty years ago.

Fifty golden years of wedded happiness fittingly celebrated in the golden west yesterday called together scores of friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Maryatt at their spacious and beautiful home, 331 East Chestnut street, to offer congratulations and happy wishes to the silver haired bridal couple of half a century ago.

It was on May 23, 1873 in Waukon, Iowa that O. H. Maryatt, a young lawyer who had entered his chosen profession after the stirring days of the Civil War, won for his wife pretty Hannah Hall, a young "school marm" of Waukon.

In addition to his general practice of law, the bridegroom assumed the legal business of the C. D. and M. railroad in eastern Iowa and later became judge of Rio Grande county, Colorado.

Since their residence in this city, Mr. Maryatt has served on the city council and as commander of the G. A. R. post, where he served two terms as he had previously done in Colorado. His affiliations with patriotic organizations also led him to the post of commander of the Southern California Veterans' association of which he is now past-commander.

Yesterday in celebrating the wedding anniversary of the splendid couple, members of the Woman's Relief corps gathered at the flower decked home from 2 to 4 p. m. and held a floral shower whose details were planned by Mrs. Cara Wedgewood, president. Mrs. Wedgewood presented Mrs. Maryatt with a perfect red rose with a golden heart formed of a five dollar gold piece. She voiced sentiment that the rose would soon fade but its heart was like the love in their hearts and would grow brighter with the passage of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Maryatt received their friends beneath a floral arch in white and gold where they were seated to enjoy the talks and Mr. Maryatt's favorite songs, "Beulah Land" and "Until We Meet Again" played by Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, president of the county W. R. C. federation.

Mrs. Maryatt wore the gown which she wore on that wedding day fifty years ago, carried the dainty lace handkerchief she used as a bride and was decked with bracelets, earrings, and brooch which formed the her adornment on that happy occasion.

As the day waned, scores of friends gathered to compliment the happy pair and many were the gifts received while the house soon became like a flower garden with the great baskets of blooms lavished upon them.

Refreshments of sherberts, ice cream and wedding cake were served the guests and happy talks were given. Mr. Edward W. Cochems made one pleasing talk and in a happy manner painted a word picture of the companionship which had ripened through fifty years of wedded life.

Mr. Maryatt in responding, related their love for Santa Ana the chosen home for their old age and prophesied a growth that would eventually carry the city to the sea. Mrs. Maryatt seconded her husband's remarks of appreciation and gave a very pleasant little talk.

A sorrow coming into their lives a dozen years ago, was the loss of their son but a daughter living at Hastings, Nebraska, thirteen grand-children and six great grand-children love and reverence the splendid pair.

Among the friends who yesterday greeted them were:

Mrs. Wedgewood, president of the W. R. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H.

Club Enjoys Beach Supper

Members of the Montmelie club hied themselves to Balboa yesterday where they took possession of the pleasant A. N. Cox cottage for a happy afternoon followed by the arrival at 6 o'clock, of their husbands who joined them in a most enjoyable dinner.

Fourteen members of the club enjoyed the affair and combined to shower Mr. J. B. Stewart who will depart soon for a summer in the east, with a shower of dainty handkerchiefs and other articles which will prove useful on a long trip.

Club to Meet

The Hammond Club of the high school will be entertained tonight at the A. J. Crookshank home in Tustin, as the guests of Miss Constance Crookshank, a member of the club.

Aid Society

Members of the north-west section of the First Presbyterian Aid society will meet Friday afternoon, June 1, at 2 o'clock as guests of Mrs. Alex Brownridge at her home, 1414 North Broadway. All are requested to be in readiness to spend the afternoon sewing.

Gulick (quarter master G. A. R.), Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leiser, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Yount, Mrs. Almada Smith, Mrs. Lulu E. Approaching Wedding Heralded By Shower Of Pretty Gifts

Never openly acknowledged until yesterday, the engagement of Miss Zella Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Darnell, 208 South Sycamore, to Mr. Herbert Salvason of Fullerton has been tacitly accepted by their friends ever since Miss Darnell half shyly—half proudly displayed to their gaze, the beautiful ring which she wears.

Yesterday that betrothal was recognized in a delightful manner by a group of girl friends who showered the bride-elect with gifts at the suggestion of Miss LuLu Crooks and Miss Beulah Sinnott. In planning the affair, the enterprising hostesses arranged with Mrs. Melvin Salvason, (formerly Miss Alpha Knox) to have her sister-in-law-to-be as her dinner guest yesterday evening.

During the consequent absence from home of the honoree, her friends assembled and upon her return were busily stitching away at a truly weird quilt whose general arrangement and color effect looked like the nightmare of a futuristic painter. At first, Miss Darnell was inclined to treat the matter lightly, but the serious and businesslike air with which the girls continued their sewing caused her to believe the amazing quilt was really designed for her hope-chest.

Her efforts to be appreciative were interrupted by the presentation of a huge dishpan filled with delightful packages. These revealed all manner of articles for a modern bride's kitchen. Following her pleased examination of them, the bride-elect and her friends assembled around the dining-room table where pink roses and white gladioli gave an attractive decoration and where each guest found a dainty pink and white corsage awaiting her, that of the bride, however, being true bridal white.

Quaint kewpie brides were favors, the queen of them all marking the place for Miss Yarnell. The wedding motif was also featured in the ices which were small bridal couples. Silver wedding bells tied with pink ribbons offered gay little fortunes which were read aloud.

Honoring Miss Darnell in addition to the hostesses, Miss Crooks and Miss Sinnott were the Misses Mary Carroll, Kathleen Carroll, Trienche Danneman of Orange, Gertrude Frasier, Lillian Pumphrey, Mrs. Melvin Salvason.

While no announcement of the wedding date has been made by Miss Darnell or her parents, it is anticipated by her friends as an event of June.

The Broadway Billiard Parlor will be opened to the public Tuesday, May 29th at 7 p. m. All games will be free opening night. Basement 312 1-2 N. Bdwy.

Unique nut baskets in the same color harmony carried also the names of the guests, thus serving as place cards while at the close of the delectable luncheon, tally cards in pastel tints were distributed by the hostesses and their aides, Mrs. Jerry Asher, daughter of Mrs. Lutz and Miss Elizabeth Spohr.

In the general group, Mrs. Addie Collins, holding high score, received a handsome large table piece in Venetian lace and linen, Mrs. William Flood received two hand made guest towels and Mrs. J. H. Musical Program Proves Delightful Under Ebells Auspices

Yesterday was truly a red-letter day on the season's calendar for the Ebells society, for the program was one of the most perfect musical programs that has been presented in Santa Ana during the past year and in bringing before its members so eminent a group of artists, Ebells assures itself of a prominent place on the city's musical map.

The program was presented by the Jules Lepski ensemble, through arrangement with L. E. Belymer of Los Angeles. Jules Lepski himself, founder and director of the ensemble, is a concert artist of note not only in America, but also in the musical centers of Europe. He has appeared as soloist with such famous organizations as The Detroit and St. Louis Symphony orchestras, and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Ernest Huber, bass viol, was for seventeen years with the Boston Symphony, and is now solo bass with the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Joseph Hindl, cellist, was for nine years with the New York Philharmonic and is now with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, as is also Ben Bloom, second violin. In Henry Erb the ensemble has a perfect accompanist.

Every number given was in itself a perfect musical gem, and in the encores, with which the organization was truly generous the added pleasure lay partly in the fact that most of them were familiar. The "William Tell" overture was given a masterly presentation, the magnificent "storm" being given with a power that held the audience breathless. The serene given as final encore was a thing of exquisite harmony.

The "nocturne in E Flat" (Chopin-Sarasate) and the exquisite "Caprice Viennoise" (Kreisler) given as violin solos by Jules Lepski were as rare bits of artistry as have ever been given on a local program, and they met a warmly enthusiastic and appreciative burst of applause.

Sharing honors with the ensemble and with Mr. Lepski, Alice Forsythe Mosher, accompanied by Gertrude Frohman Jones, gave a half dozen numbers that in themselves would have constituted a perfectly satisfying afternoon's program. Combined with a most delightful soprano voice of rare sweetness and purity, Miss Mosher has also that rarely even among artists of the highest type—an enunciation so perfect that not a word is lost, even in the remotest corner of the auditorium. Beside these two gifts, Miss Mosher has a strikingly attractive appearance and personality. In Miss Jones, she has a sympathetic accompanist, responsive to her every mood.

There was something so exquisitely sweet in her rendition of Nevin's "O, That We Two Were Maying," that it left her hearers close to tears. "The Blackbird's Song," by Cyril Scott, "My Heart is a Lute," by Woodman, "Lithuanian Love Song" (Chopin), "The Bitterness of Love" (Dunn), and "I Came With a Song" (La Forge) were other delightful numbers given by Miss Mosher, who also responded generously with encores.

Preceding the musical program was a business session devoted mostly to reports.

Mrs. John Clarkson, Ebells' president, and delegate to the state convention of Federated Women's clubs held recently at Eureka, gave a brief report on the convention, with the promise of a more detailed report at the next meeting.

Mrs. James Harding, temporary chairman of the Day Nursery committee, reported the removal of the nursery to the property recently purchased, through the assistance of the Santa Ana Rotary club, for that purpose.

Many generous donations of money, material and work were given Ebells for the nursery, among those mentioned by Mrs. Harding being a gift of lumber from C. H. Chapman to build the room needed for the Day Nursery's second-hand clothing store, a gift from C. F. Mitchell of the labor involved in painting, with the material given at cost, and the gift of plans and labor by E. A. Noel, contractor who built the room. Many other gifts have also been gratefully received.

Reporting for the building committee of which she is chairman, Mrs. O. M. Robbins outlined a building plan approved by her committee, expressing the hope and belief that the building may be started by the first of August.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT SANTA ANA HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Maryatt, he wearing the insignia of his patriotic organizations and she adorned with the ornaments worn as a bride, fifty years ago.

Fifty golden years of wedded happiness fittingly celebrated in the golden west yesterday called together scores of friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Maryatt at their spacious and beautiful home, 331 East Chestnut street, to offer congratulations and happy wishes to the silver haired bridal couple of half a century ago.

It was on May 28, 1873 in Waukon, Iowa that O. H. Maryatt, a young lawyer who had entered his chosen profession after the stirring days of the Civil War, son for his wife pretty Hannah Hall, a young "school marm" of Waukon.

In addition to his general practice of law, the bridegroom assumed the legal business of the C. D. and M. railroad in eastern Iowa and later became judge of Rio Grande county, Colorado.

Since their residence in this city, Mr. Maryatt has served on the city council and as commander of the G. A. R. post, where he served two terms as he had previously done in Colorado. His affiliations with patriotic organizations also led him to the post of commander of the Southern California Veterans' association of which he is now past-commander.

Yesterday in celebrating the wedding anniversary of the splendid couple, members of the Woman's Relief corps gathered at the flower decked home from 2 to 4 p. m. and held a floral shower whose details were planned by Mrs. Cara Wedgewood, president.

Mrs. Wedgewood presented Mrs. Maryatt with a perfect red rose with a golden heart formed of a five dollar fold piece. She voiced a beautifully expressed sentiment that the rose would soon fade but its heart was like the love in their hearts and would grow brighter with the passage of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Maryatt received their friends beneath a floral arch in white and gold where they were seated to enjoy the talks and Mrs. Maryatt's favorite songs, "Beulah Land" and "Until We Meet Again" played by Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, president of the county W. R. C. federation.

Mrs. Maryatt wore the gown which she wore on that wedding day fifty years ago, carried the dainty lace handkerchief she used as a bride and was decked with bracelets, ear-rings, and brooch which formed the her adornment on that happy occasion.

As the day waned, scores of friends gathered to compliment the happy pair and many were the gifts received while the house soon became like a flower garden with the great baskets of blooms lavished upon them.

Refreshments of sherberts, ice cream and wedding cake were served the guests and happy talks were given. Mr. Edward W. Cochems made one pleasing talk and in a happy manner painted a word picture of the companion-ship which had ripened through fifty years of wedded life.

Mr. Maryatt in responding, recalled their love for Santa Ana the chosen home for their old age and prophesied a growth that would eventually carry the city to the sea. Mrs. Maryatt seconded her husband's remarks of appreciation and gave a very pleasant little talk.

A sorrow coming into their lives a dozen years ago, was the loss of their son but a daughter living at Hastings, Nebraska, thirteen grand-children and six great-grand-children love and reverence the splendid pair.

Among the friends who yesterday greeted them were: Mrs. Wedgewood, president of the W. R. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H.

Club Enjoys Beach Supper

Members of the Montmelie club hid themselves to Balboa yesterday where they took possession of the pleasant A. N. Cox cottage for a happy afternoon followed by the arrival at 6 o'clock, of their husbands who joined them in a most enjoyable dinner.

Fourteen members of the club enjoyed the affair and combined to shower Mr. J. B. Stewart who will depart soon for a summer in the east, with a shower of dainty handkerchiefs and other articles which will prove useful on a long trip.

Bridge Event Offers Entertainment to Dual Groups

A delightful air of friendly intimacy pervaded the charming new apartments of Mrs. William F. Lutz, 918 North Spurgeon street, yesterday when Mrs. Lutz and Mrs. O. K. Forgy entertained a happy assemblage of friends with one of the prettiest luncheons of the season followed by an afternoon of bridge.

A party within a party would be a fitting manner in which to designate the affair, for Mrs. Lutz entertained her Tuesday Bridge Club at the same time, the players mingling and progressing with the other guests but having a different set of pretty gifts for which to compete.

Quantities of beautiful flowers added to the charm of the home and luncheon tables were a picture of dainty coloring, each centered with a crystal basket bearing a green tulle bow and holding a French bouquet in delicate tints. One long table around which smaller ones were clustered, bore a graceful cluster of brilliant Canterbury bells.

Unique but baskets in the same color harmony carried also the names of the guests, thus serving as place cards while at the close of the delectable luncheon, tally cards in pastel tints were distributed by the hostesses and their aides, Mrs. Jerry Asher, daughter of Mrs. Lutz and Miss Elizabeth Spohr.

Gift awards made to the Tuesday Club members yielded an exquisite hand-painted cup and saucer to Mrs. Cal Lester and an embroidered card table cover to Mrs. Walter Prince. In the general group, Mrs. Addie Collins, holding high score, received a handsome large table piece in Venetian lace and linen, Mrs. William Flood received two hand-made guest towels and Mrs. J. H. Metzgar a hand painted cup and saucer similar to that won by Mrs. Lester.

Mrs. Lutz and Mrs. Forgy numbered among the friends bidden to the pleasant affair, Mesdames O. H. Egge, George Briggs, A. W. Rutan, Earl Morrow, Robert Shafer, H. T. EXCHANGE TRADING IN NARROW RANGE

Deals Yield Few Clues As to Fundamental Trend of Market

(By United Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, May 29.—Today's market exerted little effort toward furnishing an interpretation on underlying economic conditions. With a holiday tomorrow, trading settled down into a narrow range and few positive clues were given to the fundamental trend.

But the session was significant from the standpoint of the steadiness displayed by the general list following the recovery in a single week of 43 per cent of the loss sustained in the drastic decline in the nine weeks from March 21 to May 22. Absence of selling pressure in the wake of such a violent rebound could only mean a complete reversal of the speculative sentiment of a few weeks ago.

The market closed irregular.

LIQUIDATION SENDS ALL GRAINS LOWER

Wheat Particularly Takes Sharp Drop, May Go Below July Price

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, May 29.—Heavy liquidation in grains, especially wheat for May delivery, caused quotations to drop sharply on the Chicago board of trade today. While selling orders were not large, there were many small ones. Traders did not care to carry grain over the holiday. Buying was light with only scattered orders.

For the first time in months, May wheat sold below July at the close of the market. May wheat was off nearly three cents from the opening.

Trade in corn was only moderate and the market was generally under the influence of wheat throughout the day. Cash demand was slow.

Oats was influenced by crop news, which reported the condition generally favorable in the southwest, with heavy acreage.

Provisions slumped.

Cherries Improve In Price When Receipts Decline; String Beans High

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—A large number of boxes of green apples of the Red Astrich variety were received today by several dealers and were offered at $1.25 to $2 per box.

Cherries were in lighter receipt and the market slightly improved. Dealers experienced less difficulty in moving their stocks. There was little demand for plums, with the Aspet variety bringing from $1.25 to $2 a crate.

Raspberries were weaker and sold from 60 to 75 cents per drawer. Loganberries sold slowly at 50 to 60 cents per drawer.

String beans from the south continue very light in supply and brought 16 1/2 to 17 cents per pound. Southern egg plant is in fair demand at prices ranging from 10 1/2 to 12 cents per pound. Southern cucumbers hold generally from $2.25 to $2.50 per lug with a few sales down to $2. Mercantile sweets are very scarce and dealers are now asking 5 1/2 cents per pound. New garnet potatoes sold from 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 per pound.

There is very little change on poultry except on heavy young roosters weighing four pounds or better. This class of poultry is very scarce and is bringing 50 to 55 cents per pound, according to dealers. One hundred and thirty-six coops of live poultry were received by express and two cars of live poultry from Texas were received late yesterday.

SENIOR'S PLAY AT TUSTIN IS REHEARSED

BY CHARLES CRAWFORD

TUSTIN, May 29.—Rehearsals of the senior play "Brown's in Town" are being held both this afternoon and evening, in the high school auditorium. The cast, under the direction of Miss Marion Underwood, dramatic teacher in the high school, is rapidly rounding into perfect form.

To Retain Flats
Not only the cast is busy but the work on the flats is pushing the work on the flats to be used in the play. It was necessary for the senior class to purchase the flats and an agreement was reached with Prof. J. W. Means by which the school will retain the flats after the production of the play by paying two thirds of the cost. The art department agreed to paint them. This department has done considerable work of this character this year, having painted rear drops for both the operettas given by the glee clubs, one of them an outdoor scene which will become a permanent feature of the stage and the other a special drop for the operetta "Windmills of Holland" which was disposed of to another school for a neat sum.

Stage managers are busy securing additional scenery and even the people of the community are rushing to get their tickets to see the play. A good seat by reserving it early at the Tustin drug store.

Final Rehearsal Thursday
A final dress rehearsal of the play will be held in the auditorium Thursday night, at which time a delegation of the parents, appointed by the president of the association, will be present to pass judgment on the "make ups" of the actors. This step was taken at the suggestion of numerous parents who objected to the young people putting on so much paint and artificial coloring that they are sometimes unrecognizable. Therefore the play will in all probability be put on minus a great deal of the usual make up and the fond parents will have the opportunity to recognize their offspring.

The play was the unanimous selection of the class after over seventy-five different plays had been reviewed, which covered a period of about six weeks.

The plot deals with the always popular subject of mistaken identity. Dick Preston, played by James Means, is a young college lad who desires to keep his marriage to Miss Letty Leonard, a secret from his father for one year, because his father who is very much against matrimony, will disinherit him if he marries before he is 25 years of age.

At the opening of the play Dick and his wife are living in a little country cottage under the assumed names of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. They have a gardener and a cook who give the first signs of the many complications ahead of the happy young couple, who imagine themselves quite secure in their country retreat.

Princess, the lady cook with a reputation, played by Miss Gertrude Cawthon, and Pollock, the gardener, Fred Miller see Mrs. Brown, as they know her, open a letter addressed to Mr. Preston, whom she unthinkingly tells them to be her husband.

Miss Susanne Dacre, played by Miss Elizabeth McDougall, enters and discovers their secret making matters worse. Then to make matters worse Charles Crawford, as Arthur Howard, a dentist, former suitor of Dick's wife, happens along.

Then on top of it all who should drop around but Dick's father himself. The many clever and comical situations produced by trying to keep their secret from being found out leads to one thing after another in rapid succession.

Worth Carew, in the person of Clarence Bowman, adds greatly to the comical element of the production. While Charlene Swartz in the character of Fred Von Hollenbeck, a German heiress, spends most of her time chasing Arthur Howard around.

TUSTIN BREVITIES

TUSTIN, May 29.—Miss Emma B. Held was a dinner guest at the home of her brother at his ranch on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. George B. Prather sr. of Tustin and Mrs. Fannie Lacy of Santa Ana will be honored guests at a reception of the Rebecca assembly to be held at Pasadena this evening, in honor of Vice President Marie C. Steinman.

Mrs. Prather was an overnight guest at the Rebecca Orphanage at Gilroy, where there are about eighty children cared for.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Alderman, who recently returned from a ten-day visit report that their visit was marred somewhat by the sickness of Mrs. Alderman, who was confined to the sanatorium during most of the stay. They returned to allow their small daughter, Miss Ida Alderman, to take part in the May Festival given at the grammar school May 25.

Miss Valeda Willard, formerly of Tustin, was visiting friends in and about the city over the week-end.

Foster Prather attended the ball game at Los Angeles Saturday.

John F. Pieper, proprietor of the Tustin Feed store, is installing a fine new scale at the side of his store on D street.

The crew of men have been at work for some time, and it is expected that they will soon be in use.

The sixth annual street dance, given by the Knights of Pythias, is scheduled for June 20 this year, and is being given for the benefit of the Boy Scout troop which is the ward of the lodge. It is the custom to give the proceeds toward something useful each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens left last week for a trip through Europe which will consume the entire summer and part of the fall if all their plans materialize. They will leave New York on the steamer Majestic and will visit England, France, Germany and Italy and other countries.

TINY QUEEN IS TUSTIN RULER FOR ONE DAY

TUSTIN, May 29.—Miss Ida Alderman, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Alderman, was crowned "Queen of May" at the Parent Teacher Association Circus held on the grammar school grounds last Friday afternoon and evening.

Booths Patronized
The circus was complete to the smallest detail, all of the hot dog stands, side shows, fortune teller, fish ponds, white elephant, were present. People moved from one wonder to another, first buying a pie at the pie booth, which was in charge of Mrs. Oscar Leiby, next paying a visit to the hot dog and candy establishment, in charge of Mrs. Harvey Ritner.

It was estimated by the officials of the organization that about $135 was cleared, which will go to furnish the teachers' rooms and the hospital room, included in the plans for the addition to the primary building.

The program as presented by the parents, assisted by the students and teachers, included ten numbers, each of which was given at both the afternoon and evening performances, with the exception of the skit "The Toy Shop" given by the kindergarten pupils in the evening only.

The crowning of the May queen, and the grand march presented by the first and second grades was the first number.

Skit Presented
The Toy Shop came second in the evening, while the Flower Quadrille was the second number on the program at the afternoon performance. The Quadrille was presented by the first grade pupils.

Fairies Dance, by the fourth and fifth grades was the next number.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the afternoon was the Winding of the May Pole by the first and second pupils.

A group of folk dances included Shoemaker's Dance, Clap

PICK OFFICERS OF P.-T. A. AT TUSTIN HIGH

TUSTIN, May 29.—Mrs. Charles Huffman was elected president of the high school Parent Teachers' Association at the regular meeting held by the organization last Thursday afternoon at the high school building.

Other Officers
Other officers elected as follows: first vice president, Mrs. D. D. Fields; second vice president, Mrs. A. C. Nordstrom; secretary, Miss Clara Macomber; treasurer, Mrs. Harvey Ritner; historian, Mrs. S. W. Stanley; parliamentarian, Rev. W. S. McDougall.

Miss Beulah Phiney, accompanied by her sister Lenna on the piano, rendered a vocal solo "Beautiful Evening Star."

Dr. Betts of Santa Ana followed with an excellent talk on music. Mrs. S. W. Stanley gave a reading on "What is the Aim of Education?"

J. W. Means, principal of the high school, set forth the advantages of the first year citizenship course as it is given in the Tustin Union High School. He also set forth the progress of the school made during the year.

Every effort has been made throughout the year to bring each department to the highest point of efficiency. Hearty co-operation on the part of both the students and the teachers has prevented much of the confusion usually found in a first year school, and the complete harmony which has attended the work of the school during the year has solved many of the hardest problems of the school officials.

Not only in studies but also in outside activities the school has proved itself to be among the best in the county, and with the prospect of a twenty-five per cent gain in attendance for next year the future of the school takes on a brighter aspect.

COMING BRIDE IS SHOWEROED IN BED

TUSTIN, May 29.—Measles were no obstacle to Miss Doris Marshall of this city when pre-nuptial showers were in order for her coming wedding to Jerald Allen, scheduled for June.

The retiring Parent-Teachers' association officers and the teachers of the John Muir school of Santa Ana, where Miss Marshall is a teacher, delightfully surprised her last Tuesday night when a delegation consisting of Mrs. A. T. Dugdale, Mrs. C. M. Scott, Miss Linda Mueller, Miss Stella Anderson brought to her bedside the many beautiful gifts she was to have been presented with at the J. L. McBride home in Santa Ana.

Freshments were served and Miss Marshall declared she had a good time in spite of the measles. A beautiful bridal bouquet accompanied the many presents given her.

Saturday morning Miss Marshall, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Marshall, motored to Los Angeles to the home of her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, where a number of her college girl friends honored her with a miscellaneous shower.

Among the many guests was a childhood playmate of Miss Marshall when she resided in Nevada several years ago.

Dance, Hopp Mor Annika were given by the fourth and fifth grades.

Teddy Bear's picnic, presented by the third grade, was the next feature. Miss Betty Smith, daughter of Mrs. Sue Smith, presented a number of solo dances, among which were, "The Wooden Soldier," "The Shadow Dance," and "Gavotte."

Again folk dances featured the program. "Ace of Diamonds," "Rovenacka," and "Blekling" were presented by the students of several of the different grades.

"THE GRUB-STAKE" AT WEST END TONIGHT
Nell Shipman's new picture, in which she appears at the West End theater for 3 days beginning tonight, is called "The Grub-Stake" and was written by the versatile star. The title is an attractive one although not everyone knows its literal meaning. Webster's dictionary gives grub-stake as United States slang, and it means "to supply a prospector with an outfit on condition of sharing in his findings, and the outfit and supplies so provided."

Grub-stake! What a world of meaning in the term! To thousands of men it has meant death; to other thousands a hazardous living, and to fortune's favored few, untold wealth.

Gaining their stake, perhaps, and hurriedly collecting an outfit; rushing out into the wilderness to prospect or joining a frantic race to be first at some new "strike," and then—success or failure. An endless fight against the earth they had come to rob; death in a hundred horrible forms, or stark madness just as fortune is within his grasp. Or a black failure made a return to Dawson to renew the cry, "Grub-Stake me, pardner!"

FAVOR AT YOST

The original and ever entertaining western star, Tom Mix, rode into town last night and scored one of the greatest hits of his screen career at the Yost theater. His latest photoplay "3 Jumps Ahead," presents a series of thrills that exceed even the previous efforts of this star.

In this picture which is a virile story of the Western plains, Mix is assisted by Alma Bennett and "Tony," the wonder horse of the films. This is the first engagement of Miss Bennett as leading lady for the popular star, and her role was very well handled.

A Mix night at the local playhouse has come to be a standard

"TRIFLING WOMEN" OPENS AT PRINCESS TONIGHT

Through the sombre settings of "Trifling Women," Rex Ingram's strange story, of which he has made a film production, which starts today at the Princess theater for two days, moves the brilliant figure of Zareda, the fortune teller, the only woman in the picture, exceptionally well played by the beautiful Barbara La Marr. Against the background of the story, Rex Ingram has made her a spot of radiant color, garbed in an infinity of hues, draped in exotic silks and satin, rich velvets and brocades.

It is estimated that upon the fifteen gowns worn by Barbara La Marr in the production over $20,000 has been spent, bringing the cost of each gown to more than $1000. Four dressmakers were kept busy throughout the two months of production, and because of the intricacies of design and pattern were barely able to keep pace with the demand.

The story of "Trifling Women" takes place in Paris in the days of the World War. Thus the gowns, ordered by Ingram, must be made to reflect the exquisite lines and skill which a Parisienne couturier would have incorporated in them.

Each gown on completion, was paraded before Ingram on a mannequin. With him rested the final word of approval or rejection. "Trifling Women" was written and adapted by Rex Ingram. In the cast are Barbara La Marr, Lewis Stone, Ramon Novarro, Edward J. Connelly, Hughie Mack, and Pomeroy Cannon.

SENIOR'S PLAY AT TUSTIN IS REHEARSED

BY CHARLES CRAWFORD

TUSTIN, May 29.—Rehearsals of the senior play "Brown's in Town" are being held both this afternoon and evening, in the high school auditorium. The cast, under the direction of Miss Marion Underwood, dramatic teacher in the high school, is rapidly rounding into perfect form.

To Retain Flats

Not only the cast is busy but the art department is pushing the work on the flats to be used in the play. It was necessary for the senior class to purchase the flats and an agreement was reached with Prof. J. W. Means by which the school will retain the flats after the production of the play by paying two thirds of the cost. The art department agreed to paint them. This department has done considerable work of this character this year, having painted rear drops for both the operettas given by the glee clubs, one of them an outdoor scene which will become a permanent feature of the stage and the other a special drop for the operetta "Windmills of Holland" which was disposed of to another school for a neat sum.

Stage managers are busy securing additional scenery and even the people of the community are rushing to get their tickets so they may be assured of a good seat by reserving it early at the Tustin drug store.

Final Rehearsal Thursday

A final dress rehearsal of the play will be held in the auditorium Thursday night, at which time a delegation of the parents, appointed by the president of the association, will be present to pass judgment on the "make ups" of the actors. This step was taken at the suggestion of numerous parents who objected to the young people putting on so much paint and artificial coloring that they are sometimes unrecognizable. Therefore the play will in all probability be put on minus a great deal of the usual make up and the fond parents will have the opportunity to recognize their offspring.

The play was the unanimous selection of the class after over seventy-five different plays had been reviewed, which coveted a period of about six weeks.

The plot deals with the always popular subject of mistaken identity. Dick Preston, played by James Means, is a young college lad who desires to keep his marriage to Miss Letty Leonard, played by Miss Nellie Ware, a secret from his father for one year, because his father who is very much against matrimony, will disinherit him if he marries before he is 25 years of age.

At the opening of the play Dick and his wife are living in a little country cottage under the assumed names of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. They have a gardener and a cook who give the first signs of the many complications ahead of the happy young couple, who imagine themselves quite secure in their country retreat. Primrose, the lady cook with a reputation, played by Miss Gertrude Cawthon, and Pollock, the gardener, Fred Miller see Mrs. Brown, as they know her, open a letter addressed to Mr. Preston, whom she unthinkingly tells them to be her husband.

Miss Susanne Dacre, played by Miss Elizabeth McDougall, enters and discovers their secret making matters worse. Then to make matters worse Charles Crawford, as Arthur Howard, a dentist, former suitor of Dick's wife, happens along.

Then on top of it all who should drop around but Dick's father himself.

The many clever and comical situations produced by trying to keep their secret from being found out leads to one thing after another in rapid succession.

TUSTIN BREVITIES

TUSTIN, May 29.—Miss Emma B. Held was a dinner guest at the home of her brother at his ranch on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. George B. Prather sr. of Tustin and Mrs. Fannie Lacy of Santa Ana will be honored guests at a reception of the Rebecca assembly to be held at Pasadena this evening, in honor of Vice President Marie C. Steinman.

Mrs. Prather was an overnight guest at the Rebecca Orphanage at Gilroy, where there are about eighty children cared for. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Alderman, who recently returned from a ten-day visit report that their visit was marred somewhat by the sickness of Mrs. Alderman, who was confined to the sanatorium during most of the stay. They returned to allow their small daughter, Miss Ida Alderman, to take part in the May Festival given at the grammar school May 25. Mrs. Alderman expects to leave soon for the hot springs to regain her strength.

Miss Valeda Willard, formerly of Tustin, was visiting friends in and about the city over the week-end.

Foster Prather attended the ball game at Los Angeles Saturday. John F. Pieper, proprietor of the Tustin Feed store, is installing a fine new scale at the side of his store on D street. The crew of men have been at work for some time, and it is expected that they will soon be in use.

The sixth annual street dance, given by the Knights of Pythias, is scheduled for June 20 this year, and is being given for the benefit of the Boy Scout troop which is the ward of the lodge. It is the custom to give the proceeds toward something useful each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens left last week for a trip through Europe which will consume the entire summer and part of the fall if all their plans materialize. They will leave New York on the steamer Majestic and will visit England, France, Germany and Italy and other countries.

TINY QUEEN IS TUSTIN RULER FOR ONE DAY

TUSTIN, May 29.—Miss Ida Alderman, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Alderman, was crowned "Queen of May" at the Parent Teacher Association Circus held on the grammar school grounds last Friday afternoon and evening.

The circus was complete to the smallest detail, all of the hot dog stands, side shows, fortune teller, fish pond, white elephant, were present. People moved from one wonder to another, first buying a pie at the pie booth, which was in charge of Mrs. Oscar Leiby, next paying a visit to the hot dog and candy establishment, in charge of Mrs. Harvey Rittner.

It was estimated by the officials of the organization that about $135 was cleared, which will go to furnish the teachers' rooms and the hospital room, included in the plans for the addition to the primary building.

The program as presented by the parents, assisted by the students and teachers, included ten numbers, each of which was given at both the afternoon and evening performances, with the exception of the skit "The Toy Shop" given by the kindergarten pupils in the evening only.

The crowning of the May queen, and the grand march presented by the first and second grades was the first number.

Skit Presented

The Toy Shop came second in the evening, while the Flower Quadrille was the second number on the program at the afternoon performance. The Quadrille was presented by the first grade pupils.

Fairies Dance, by the fourth and fifth grades was the next number.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the afternoon was the Winding of the May Pole by the first and second pupils.

A group of folk dances included Shoemaker's Dance, Clap

'THE COUNTRY COUSIN' BIG SUCCESS FOR S. A. PLAYERS

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Because the Santa Ana Book Store, where the tickets are usually sold, will be closed tomorrow for Memorial Day, tickets for tomorrow night's performance of "The Country Cousin" may be purchased at the Temple theater box office between 10 a. m. and 12 m., and 2 and 4 p. m. tomorrow, it was announced today.

We will all agree that a country cousin is a pretty nice thing to have in the family, especially one so charming as was Miss Harriet Owens in the title role of the well-known play, "The Country Cousin," by "Tark" and Julian Steel, which, presented last night at the Temple theater and to be repeated tonight and tomorrow night, marks the final production for the season of the Community Players.

"Mid-Victorian" has become a much abused phrase in the English language. It seems almost criminal to drag the poor thing out again and make it work. Nevertheless it so perfectly describes the opening scene of last night's performance that we will use it anyway.

Mid-Victorian was the entire room from its "whatnot" with the white china hen button-box, to steel engraving of "Washington Crossing the Delaware." Mid-Victorian too was Miss Jessie K. Paxton, who with smoothly-banded silver hair, an unbelievably "frumpish" dress and the sweetest imaginable voice, played the part of Mrs. Howitt, the first of the characters to appear.

Youthful Part Well Taken. As a blonde-haired and unsophisticated child, Miss Mabel Pruitt gave a delightfully girlish characterization of Eleanor Howitt, her best work coming in the final act when she gave the parrot-like rendition of the things she very evitely had been instructed to say.

Warren Fletcher, a general favorite with Community Play audiences and one who never fails to give pleasure, added to his long list of successes with his interpretation of the boyishly conceited and ambitious "Tom Wilson" confident that he and his "Eleanr" are White House bound. Warren Fletcher gives boyish roles more delightfully than anyone we ever saw, and would always be remembered for his "Laurie" in "Little Women" had he never done anything else.

Any pre-conceived ideas as to what "Nancy Price," the country cousin, should be like were shattered by the appearance of Miss Harriet Owens. She simply WAS Nancy Price and that ended it. Altogether different from previous successes scored by the talented young Santa Ana girl, the role was played with the correct degree of restraint. And her voice—plaint and vibrant—was easily heard in all parts of the well-filled house, seemingly with no effort on her part and no effort of striving to attain that purpose.

English Accent Mastered. Playing opposite her in the masculine lead, R. R. Miller, as "George Tewksberry Reynolds third," speedily overcame an apparent difficulty in mastering an English accent and proceeded to give one of his usual smooth and satisfying performances. Mr. Miller is a master of pantomime and in certain of his scenes with "Nancy" kept his audience enthralled merely by the play of facial expressions and without one word being said.

Arthur Collins, remarkable "Maker of Dreams" was seen in a new role as Stanley Howitt, playing it with a nice sense of balance and understanding of values.

A happy feature of the affair was the appearance of a mother and daughter in one cast, Mrs. Charles W. Longmire as "Mrs. Jane Kinney," a decidedly gay matron of the would-be smart set, and Mrs. Burton G. Wright (Lucille Longmire) as "Mrs. Maud Howitt" of whom the same description might be given. It was Mrs. Longmire's introduction to the footlights, although her daughter has success after success attached to her name. However, it was plainly apparent where Lucille Longmire Wright got both her talent and beauty, for Mrs. Longmire played like a seasoned Thespian and was lovely to behold. Mrs. Wright was cynical, gay, brilliant, hard—all that the character role of the worldly, selfish second wife should be.

Characters Were Depicted. As "Cyril Kinney," J. Robert Paine Jr. gave one of the smooth presentations one expects from him and was as typically cynical, hard-driving, hard-drinking man about town. Like Raymond Schulte, another well known for his ability, he is always to be depended upon for a consistently good interpretation of a role. Mr. Schulte as "Archie Gore," millionaire yachtsman and admirer of the fair "Maud," was scarcely recognizable in the make-up of middle age—one of the best make-ups on the stage. It was not until we saw the funny, characteristic little "Sculte grimace" that we were convinced of his identity.

Mrs. Edgar J. Bush (better known perhaps as Ruby Brasswell Bush, remembered for her wistful charm in "The Twelve-Pound Look") was the rather hardened, very smart "Athalie Wainwright," handling a minor role well and looking most gorgeous in her costumes. The much-married "Stanley Howitt" was played by Arthur Collins, and played exceedingly well. By the way, don't you like his voice? And voice of course, is a great part of success on the stage.

Minor Roles Acceptable. Minor roles of "Pruitt," the butler, and "Blake," the jeweler's messenger, were taken by Donald Fletcher and Stanley Wheelock in an acceptable manner, exemplifying the spirit which actuates Community Players. If there aren't important roles enough for all, there are small ones which are quite as necessary to the action of the play and by taking a small part, one is truly helping.

Gowns last night, were beautiful, especially those worn by members of the yachting party when Mrs. Wright was a goddess in cloth of gold with tinted blue girdle in a cleverly French arrangement. Mrs. Bush a flash of silver in a beautiful silver cloth gown, Mrs. Longmire stately and handsome in heavily beaded black, and Miss Pruitt girlish in a frilly pink georgette. Wraps were equally rich. The whole effect of the scene was one of luxury and lavishness in which the quiet simplicity of the frocks worn by Miss Owens gave the needed contrast.

Scenings too, were unusual, especially the colonial background offered by little Eleanor's much longed for "villa." Mrs. Marshall Harnois, scenery chairman and acting chairman of productions, was instrumental in obtaining proper scenic effects while the lovely costuming was due the capabilities of Miss Bertha Stein of the costume committee.

Entre-act numbers were "Tango" by Albeniz given by Miss Lalla Fagge, violinist, with Mr. Fraser at the piano; "Kammenoi-Ostrow" by Rubenstein, an organ and piano number; a group of violin selections by Miss Fagge, "Meditation" from "Thais" (Massenet) with both organ and piano accompaniment; "Fleurie" by Couperin, "Liebesfreud," (Kreisler) and a final organ-piano group "Serenade" by Plerne and "The Swan" by Saint-Saens. Well balanced and well presented, the musical program played no small part in the evening's success.

Naturally the laurel crown, so beloved by newspaper writers, must go to Ernest Crozier Phillips, producing director to whose unflagging interest and constant efforts such splendid performances are due. This will mark his final offering for the season and all his efforts will now be centered on the high school play.

Offering all the aid in their power are the members of the governing board, M. B. Wellington, president; Burr Shafer, vice president; Hazel Hummel, secretary; Alex Brownridge, treasurer; Leon Eckles, Verna Peterson, Fred Rafferty, H. G. Nelson, Stanley Reed, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson. Other committee chairmen are Miss Mary Harris, library; and F. C. Blauer, ways and means, while Mrs. Harnois was aided by a scenery committee composed of Mrs. Frank Wollaston, the Misses Lillian Humphrey, Frances Battey, Pearl Camblin, Mary Carroll, Cathleen Carroll and Max Holmes.

Material aid in presenting "The Country Cousin" was offered by Shafer Music House in piano and Victrola; the Daisye Dean Hat Shoppe for specially designed hats; Chandler Furniture company, Hampton Brothers Furniture company, the Sumner Shop and Robertson Electric company for furniture, decorations and lighting fixtures.

PROGRAM GIVES RAIL OUTLOOK GOOD SIGN

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The $1,500,000,000 program of equipment purchases and system betterments adopted by the railroads last month in anticipation of the greatest traffic load in history this fall, is being pushed rapidly, and there is every reason to believe that the fall traffic will be handled without difficulty, R. H. Aishton, president of the American Railway association, testified before the interstate commerce commission today.

Aishton, appearing at the commission's hearing into the adequacy of the locomotives and cars of the nation's carriers, declared that the following encouraging results have been obtained by co-operation of roads in compliance with the program:

1—Closed cars have been moved from the East to the West in anticipation of the crop movement this fall.

2—Open cars have been moved from the West to the East to move coal this summer.

3—From January 1 to May 12, a total of 17,029,946 cars of revenue freight have been loaded compared with 14,278,847 cars in the corresponding period last year and 13,311,555 in the same period in 1921.

4—Locomotives in need of heavy repairs have been reduced to 19.4 and freight cars to 9.2 per cent in line with the provisions of the program which calls for equipment in need of heavy repairs to be reduced, in the case of locomotives to 15 per cent and in the case of cars to 5 per cent by October 1.

5—Stored serviceable locomotives have been increased from 576 on January 1 to 1,326 on May 1.

6—From March 15 to May 1, 28,613 freight cars have been ordered, bringing the total of cars on order on May 1 to 115,765. Purchases from January 1, 1922, to May 1, 1923, have totalled 252,257 cars, of which 136,501 have been delivered.

7—During the 16 months from January 1, 1922, to May 1, 1923, 4,463 locomotives were purchased, of which 2,607 have been installed, while 1,956 were on order on May 1.

8—Coal dumped at Lake Erie ports for shipment by water up the lakes on May 14 totalled 2,505,738 tons, compared with 1,397,368 tons last year, 2,639,663, in 1921 and 864,523 tons in 1920.

The single disturbing feature of the roads' effort to whip their system in shape for the enormous traffic load this fall is the labor shortage which "is slowing up deliveries of material necessary for the maintenance of operation of the railroads," it was said.

SKIRVIN JEWEL THEFT ARREST HELD NEAR

Developing some striking leads that promise disclosure of the identity of the hold-up man who entered the home of C. F. Skirvin, 1501 North Broadway, Saturday night, and at the point of a gun relieved Skirvin of diamonds valued at $6500, City Marshal Claude L. Rogers and Deputy City Marshal Sid Smithwick today were giving personal attention to investigation of tips.

In the opinion of officers, there is no doubt that the hold-up man is a professional. It is believed, however, that his assistants were local men familiar with Skirvin's habits.

Hints Arrest Near. Rogers today would not go so far as to predict a possible date on which arrest of the bandit may be attempted, but indicated that it is a possibility of the immediate future.

The bandit gained entrance to the Skirvin home Saturday night on the pretext that he desired to discuss with Skirvin matters pertaining to an oil company in which Skirvin is interested and in which the bandit professed interest. Forcing Skirvin into a bedroom where Mrs. Skirvin and her sister, Mrs. Josephine Walker, were talking, the highwayman tied the women hand and foot, and then compelled Skirvin to open a safe containing the jewels. Later Skirvin was bound hand and foot.

Meets Insurance Man. Skirvin went to Los Angeles today, having been called to that city by T. J. Kempster, representative of the Milwaukee Mechanics Insurance company, with which the jewels were insured. It was ex-

(Christian Science Monitor) CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29.—(Special)—The relief work carried on by the Christian Science Relief Fund among the 9000 Anatolian refugees at Scutari on the Asiatic shore of the Bosphorus has resulted in a 50 per cent reduction in the weekly mortalities, according to the medical committee of the Near East Relief.

The work, which is in charge of Lieut. Joel H. Benson, chaplain in the navy, attached to the U. S. S. Denebola, is maintained by funds contributed by Christian Scientists in America through The Mother Church in Boston. Since Jan. 15, when relief measures were commenced, Lieutenant Benson has received and expended more than $40,000. Most of the money has been used in supplying milk to the babies in the barracks and for bread and soup. Lieutenant Benson has also equipped a temporary hospital at Selimieh and purchased blankets and mattresses for 100 beds. Recently he has installed two stocking knitters and is teaching girls and women to use the machines. The stockings made will find a ready sale.

All the money that Lieutenant Benson has received has been spent without a penny for overhead costs. Probably no other relief organization in the Near East can show 100 cents expended for every dollar contributed.

'THE COUNTRY COUSIN' BIG SUCCESS FOR S. A. PLAYERS

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Because the Santa Ana Book Store, where the tickets are usually sold, will be closed tomorrow for Memorial Day, tickets for tomorrow night's performance of "The Country Cousin" may be purchased at the Temple theater box office between 10 a. m. and 12 m., and 2 and 4 p. m. tomorrow, it was announced today.

We will all agree that a country cousin is a pretty nice thing to have in the family, especially one so charming as was Miss Harriet Owens in the title role of the well-known play, "The Country Cousin," by "Tark" and Julian Steel, which, presented last night at the Temple theater and to be repeated tonight and tomorrow night, marks the final production for the season of the Community Players.

"Mid-Victorian" has become a much abused phrase in the English language. It seems almost criminal to drag the poor thing out again and make it work. Nevertheless it so perfectly describes the opening scene of last night's performance that we will use it anyway.

Mid-Victorian was the entire room from its "whatnot" with the white china hen button-box, to steel engraving of "Washington Crossing the Delaware." Mid-Victorian too was Miss Jessie K. Paxton, with smoothly-banded silver hair, an unbelievably "frumpish" dress and the sweetest imaginable voice, played the part of Mrs. Howitt, the first of the characters to appear.

Youthful Part Well Taken. As a blonde-haired and unsophisticated child, Miss Mabel Pruitt gave a delightfully girlish characterization of Eleanor Howitt, her best work coming in the final act when she gave the parrot-like rendition of the things she very evitably had been instructed to say.

Warren Fletcher, a general favorite with Community Play audiences and one who never fails to give pleasure, added to his long list of successes with his interpretation of the boyishly conceited and ambitious "Tom Wilson" confident that he and his "Elean'r" are White House bound. Warren Fletcher gives boyish roles more delightfully than anyone we ever saw, and would always be remembered for his "Laurie" in "Little Women" had he never done anything else.

Any pre-conceived ideas as to what "Nancy Price," the country cousin, should be like were shattered by the appearance of Miss Harriet Owens. She simply WAS Nancy Price and that ended it. Altogether different from previous successes scored by the talented young Santa Ana girl, the role was played with the correct degree of restraint. And her voice—pilot and vibrant—was easily heard in all parts of the well-filled house, seemingly with no effort on her part and no effort of striving to attain that purpose.

English Accent Mastered. Playing opposite her in the masculine lead, R. R. Miller, as "George Tewksberry Reynolds third," speedily overcame an apparent difficulty in mastering an English accent and proceeded to give one of his usual smooth and satisfying performances. Mr. Miller is a master of pantomime and in certain of his scenes with "Nancy" kept his audience enthralled merely by the play of facial expressions and without one word being said.

Arthur Collins, remarkable "Maker of Dreams" was seen in a new role as Stanley Howitt, playing it with a nice sense of balance and understanding of values.

A happy feature of the affair was the appearance of mother and daughter in one cast, Mrs. Charles W. Longmire as "Mrs. Jane Kinney," a decidedly gay matron of the would-be smart set, and Mrs. Burton G. Wright (Lucille Longmire) as "Mrs. Maud Howitt" of whom the same description might be given. It was Mrs. Longmire's introduction to the footlights, although her daughter has succeeded after success attached to her name. However, it was plainly apparent where Lucille Longmire Wright got both her talent and beauty, for Mrs. Longmire played like a seasoned Thespian and was lovely to behold. Mrs. Wright was cynical, gay, brilliant, hard—all that the character role of the worldly, selfish second wife should be.

Characters Were Depicted. As "Cyril Kinney," J. Robert Paine Jr. gave one of the smooth presentations one expects from him and was as typically cynical, hard-driving, hard-drinking man about town. Like Raymond Schulte, another well known for his ability, he is always to be depended upon for a consistently good interpretation of a role. Mr. Schulte as "Archie Gore," millionaire yachtsman and admirer of the fair "Maud," was scarcely recognizable in the make-up of middle age—one of the best make-ups on the stage. It was not until we saw the funny, characteristic little "Scoutie grimace" that we were convinced of his identity.

Mrs. Edgar J. Bush (better known perhaps as Ruby Brasswell Bush, remembered for her wistful charm in "The Twelve-Pound Look") was the rather hardened, very smart "Athalie Wainwright," handling a minor role well and looking most gorgeous in her costumes.

The much-married "Stanley Howitt" was played by Arthur Collins, and played excellently. By the way, don't you like his voice? And voice of course, is a great part of success on the stage.

Minor Roles Acceptable. Minor roles of "Pruitt," the butler, and "Blake," the jeweler's messenger, were taken by Donald Fletcher and Stanley Wheelock in an acceptable manner, exemplifying the spirit which actuates Community Players. If there aren't important roles enough for all, there are small ones which are quite as necessary to the action of the play and by taking a small part, one is truly helping.

Gowns last night, were beautiful, especially those worn by members of the yachting party when Mrs. Wright was a goddess in cloth of gold with tinted blue girdle in a cleverly French arrangement. Mrs. Bush a flash of silver in a beautiful ful silver cloth gown, Mrs. Longmire stately and handsome in heavily beaded black, and Miss Pruitt girlish in a frilly pink georgette. Wraps were equally rich. The whole effect of the scene was one of luxury and lavishness in which the quiet simplicity of the frocks worn by Miss Owens gave the needed contrast.

Settings, too, were unusual, especially the colonial background offered by little Eleanor's much longed for "villa." Mrs. Marshall Harnois, scenery chairman and acting chairman of productions, was instrumental in obtaining proper scenic effects while the lovely costuming was due the capabilities of Miss Bertha Stein of the costume committee.

Entre-act numbers were "Tango" by Albeniz given by Miss Lalla Fagge, violinist, with Mr. Fraser at the piano; "Kammenoi-Ostrow" by Rubenstein, an organ and piano number; a group of violin selections by Miss Fagge, "Meditation" from "Thais" (Massenet) with both organ and piano accompaniment; "Fleurie" by Couperin, "Liebesfreud," (Kreisler) and a final organ-piano group "Serenade" by Pierné and "The Swan" by Saint-Saens. Well balanced and well presented, the musical program played no small part in the evening's success.

Naturally the laurel crown, so beloved by newspaper writers, must go to Ernest Crozier Phillips, producing director to whose unflinching interest and constant efforts such splendid performances are due. Material aid in presenting "The Country Cousin" was offered by Shafer Music House in piano and Victrola; the Daisy Dean Hat Shoppe for specially designed hats; Chandler Furniture company; Hampton Brothers Furniture company, the Sumner Shop and Robertson Electric company for furniture, decorations and lighting fixtures.

SELF-RULE IS TOPIC

High School Teacher Gives Pithy Explanation of Local System

(Because the board of education here has recently considered the possibility of instituting certain changes in administration of affairs at the high school, Santa Ana is asking the exact meaning of the terms "self-government" and "student control". At the request of The Register, Miss Isabel Anderson, instructor in citizenship at the high school and at the junior college, has prepared an article giving the definitions in full. The article follows.)

BY ISABEL ANDERSON

What is meant by self-government in the schools? Self-government in high schools and colleges means student cooperation and participation in the management of the activities of the student body and the discipline of the school.

In Santa Ana high school self-government means merely that there is no such thing as student control and never has been.

However, since the school is recognized to be the training school for citizens who must later participate in a self-government of city, state and nation, it has been thought only logical that students should be taught some of the responsibilities of governing themselves.

Here is an outline of the student self-government in the local high school.

Annually the students of the school, through nominating petition and primary and regular election, elect a group of student-body officers.

These officers must be satisfactory to all of the faculty and to the principal.

The student body officers comprise what is called the board of control. This board is an executive board, under the advice of the principal, a faculty representative and a faculty auditor—who must countersign all checks—for the management of athletic, forensic and financial affairs for the student body. The board passes all student body bills, awards monograms for athletics and decides upon student body policies.

Discipline One Task.
Two boys and two girls are elected by the student body to make up a self-government committee. The principal of the school appoints the chairman of this committee, which co-operates with the principal in matters of conduct among students. This committee calls into conference students who misconduct themselves in the halls or on the grounds, and has the power to bar them from athletics or other student activities. In serious cases it always reports the student to the principal.

GOTHAM THEATRICALS MAY IGNORE SUMMER AND BREAK CUSTOMS

Gaby Fleury, who has played in every performance of "Whispering Wires," Broadway's longest-running show.

NEW YORK, May 29.—When does the stage season start and end? The ancient custom was to lower the curtain on Decoration day and leave it down until September, unless some stock company was brave enough to try its luck over the summer.

In most cities throughout the country stock companies furnish the only opportunity for stage entertainment during dog days, but in New York the stage business, like the all-night restaurant, goes on forever. This state of affairs is probably due to the influence of motion pictures which are exhibited the year around.

While most of the theaters in Gotham remain open throughout the summer, that does not mean "business as usual." The summer theater in New York is run for the benefit of the summer tourist—and usually for new producers of limited means who find their only opportunity for wedding into the game during the slim months.

Thus new plays are planted with as great a frequency as in the winter, but the summer variety is not so hardy. Most of the plays wilt and die.

All of which means that the professional playgoer makes his rounds of first nights with the feeling of a patrolman sent to a quiet beat in the suburbs and sending in reports to headquarters so that his superiors may know he is on the job.

In this attitude, this patrolman became unduly excited after leaving the Gaiety theater. Cyril Maude in "Aren't We All?" had started the summer season with an unusually good play and there was something more than a casual

UNUSUAL PLOT IS OPERETTA FEATURE

Seventy music students of Santa Ana high school are ready to present, Friday, June 1 at 8 p. m., in the high school auditorium, the operetta, "BulBul."

Many clever comedy parts, unusually attractive music, sets and costumes and a pleasing theme will serve to make the operetta of interest and pleasure to students and to all Santa Ana people as well, and many from near by towns who have indicated their intention to hear the local school's operetta.

A matinee will be given in the afternoon at 3 o'clock for the grammar school students and a group of the cast members will make a tour of the grammar schools Thursday to advertise the operetta.

Prince Disguises as Beggar.
The setting is the palace of King Iamit in the land of Ikonowhere. King Iamit, the "mild-mannered monarch," has betrothed his only child, the beautiful Princess Bulbul, to the Prince Caspian and the latter is on his way to attend the wedding as the operetta opens.

DOG IN FUTILE DASH TO SAVE FIRE VICTIM

Miner-Master Dies From Blast Injuries, But Dumb Hero Lives

(By ELEANOR ELLIOTT)
Only a dog, but a hero nevertheless.

Only a dog, but he tried manfully to save a human life that was dearer to him than his own.

Over at Modjeska's home in the Santiago canyon he lies, dumbly bearing the pain, a 2-year-old blooded collie dog whose bravery failed to save the life of his master, Victor de Lor of the Yucapita valley, who a few days ago was buried in Mountain View cemetery, San Bernardino, after death from mine-fire injuries.

The collie, carefully chained at the little home in the twenty-acre ranch owned by De Lor, a week ago became so frantic during the absence of his master that De Lor's young wife unchained him, only to see him go bounding away toward the little mine which her husband was trying to develop.

Mute Evidence Borne
In a few minutes the collie, scarcely recognizable for his burns, crawled whimpering to her feet and, with every action, begged her aid. Following him, Mrs. De Lor ran to meet her husband, scarcely human in his agony and with bits of burned flesh dropping from his arms and body, as he half walked, half crawled toward his home.

"Here I am," he said, "What are you going to do with me?" Retaining consciousness only long enough to tell bits of his story, De Lor was hastened to the hospital, but died next day.

The mine, a quarter mile from the house, required blasting work. De Lor, armed with a twenty-five pound can of black powder and a carbide lamp, struck his arm in such a manner as to upset the lamp and ignite the powder.

Collie's Welfare Pleaded
Some intuition told the chained collie of his master's predicament, and when loosened he rushed to the mine, where he succeeded in dragging the almost-helpless man to the air.

His last thought was for the collie and he begged that every possible effort be made to save the dog's life.

As a consequence the brave animal, terribly burned, sightless, hairless, yet living, has been brought to the ranch home of Tom Johnson, at Modjeska's, where he is receiving every tender care that Johnson, a brother of Mrs. De Lor, can lavish on him.

MUSIC MEMORY COMPETITION AT CLIMAX

Teams From Orange County Schools Arrayed For Contest Today

Music, memories and a silver cup.

These were the features of Orange county school music memory contest held in the local high school auditorium this afternoon.

Under arrangements by the supervisors of music in all of the county schools there has been conducted a consistent campaign for familiarizing the students, as well as the public, with the twenty-five music selections chosen for the contest.

Today's contest is a final contest among the county schools, each represented by a team of students chosen in an individual school contest.

Silver Cup Is Awarded.
A beautiful silver cup, purchased with funds subscribed by clubs and individuals interested in school music, was the trophy to be awarded the winning school this afternoon.

Miss Woodford of Garden Grove was to play all of the contest selections, either on the piano or on the Victrola.

Each student was to be given a blank paper on which he was to register his answers as the selections were played, giving in each case the name of the selection, its source, the composer's name and his nationality.

Santa Ana Represented.
A team of eleven music students representing Santa Ana high school was made up of the following students who were winners in the school preliminary last week: Miss Josephine Rodriguez, Miss Katharine Dunn, Miss Dorothy Furd, Miss Effie Jessup, Loren Canon, Miss Delphina Lopez, Miss Gertrude Pritchard, Miss Della Hampton, Miss Molly Mosher, Miss Evelyn Metzgar and Miss Marie Tania.

Two of these students were winners in the recent Orange county music contest, the final contest of which was held at the Orange high school last Thursday night. Miss Effie Jessup was the winner in the piano contest and Loren Canon in the violin.

Campaign Attracts Interest.
The music memory campaign, which is being or has been recently conducted in all parts of California, is an innovation for this part of the country, and is creating a great deal of comment because of its novel method of acquainting a large number of people with the best known music selections.

Music lovers throughout the county and the state have welcomed the success of this year's contest with approval and hope to make it an annual affair. Orange county plans and successes along this line are largely due to the efforts of Miss Margaret Wickes of the music department of Santa Ana high school.

Mass Education Has Evoked Unflattering University Comments

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Pity the poor college student!

"Mass education," "$20.00 training for $20 students," infant brain and terms of similar reproach are being heaped on alleged students by California University professors.

Professor Charles Mills Gayley of Berkeley, retiring dean of the English department, started the trouble, when he said high school students arrived who couldn't write legibly, spell intelligently, nor do simple mathematics. Two-thirds of them should be eliminated from Berkeley, he says.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford joined in the criticism the following day. "A university should be a training school, not police station to keep order," Dr. Wilbur opines.

JURY SCANS FACES IN PATERNITY CASE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Charles "Reed" Henderson, aged 2 years, 6 months, sat cheek by jowl with Charles E. Henderson, real estate man, in Superior Judge Griffiths' court when the members of the jury compared their features in an effort to determine whether Henderson is the father of the boy.

Emily Reed, concert singer, in a suit brought to force Henderson to acknowledge paternity of the child, charged that on the night of March 5, 1920, Henderson came to her apartment, gave her a narcotic and that when she regained consciousness the next morning Henderson was still in her room.

A child was born to Miss Reed in Los Angeles November 22, 1920, according to information set forth in the suit.

Henderson entered a general denial and introduced witnesses who testified that another man had been intimate with Miss Reed.

Dr. Robert L. Munger, narcotic expert, introduced as a witness by Henderson, testified that complete narcosis such as Miss Reed described, could not have resulted so quickly nor have exerted so firm a hold upon its victim as to render her unconscious to all shock and disturbance.

OLDEST LIVING UNION GENERAL IS 93, BUT WAR MEMORY INTACT

GEN. BYRON R. PIERCE.

(By NEA Service)

GRAND RAPIDS, May 29.—The life of a nation is at stake—Cannons roar and muskets crackle—Blue and gray armies are in battle.

Petersburg passes into rebel hands again. More fierce fighting, and the stars and stripes again wave proudly over the field as the smoke of battle clears away.

Comes word from General Hancock of a promotion to brigadier general—an acknowledgment of gallantry in action. And the answer:

"You had better do it quick. There's no telling how long I'll last with the Johnnies as good shots as they are."

General Byron R. Pierce, oldest surviving Union general, puffing contentedly on his after-dinner cigar, lives again through all the "fury of the battle hell."

Through wisps of smoke, he sees the glorious charge. Then the more sorrowful—yet more glorious things—wounded men suffering gladly for their cause. And dead men dotting the trampled battlefields.

Tears for his fallen comrades come welling up in the old general's eyes. Most of the boys are gone. But he lives on to see another Decoration day.

General Pierce, 93, is spending his last days at Reed's Lake sanitarium, near here. He was born September 20, 1829, in East Bloomfield, Ontario county, N. Y.

DISPLAY STARS AND STRIPES IS PLEA

The Americanization committee—W. K. Hillyard, chairman; E. D. Christenson and Roy Osborne of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion today issued that appeal to Santa Anans.

"I remember on one national holiday I counted fourteen flagpoles in two blocks in this city, and only three flags," said Christenson. "That sort of thing is a shame. The flag should be displayed on every flagpole tomorrow, Memorial day."

Sentiment Expressed in Post
The committee called attention to the following, entitled "Respect the Flag":

"When you see the Stars and Stripes displayed, son, stand up and take off your hat."

"Somebody may titter. It is in the blood of some to deride all expression of noble sentiment. You may blaspheme in the street and stagger drunken in public places, and the by-standers will

Memorial Day Here to Be Observed With Reverence and Tenderness

Santa Ana was today preparing to honor its hero dead.

Hundreds of men, women and children of this city, joining with the nation's millions, tomorrow will pay reverent tribute to those who served their country and who have died.

The dwindling ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic will form again and its grizzled but ever bright-eyed members will once more assemble at cemeteries in tender remembrance of their departed comrades.

The younger veterans of the Spanish-American war and the still younger veterans of the world war will meet again.

G. A. R. Rites to be Impressive
And as these assemble, so will those who did not bear the blue, nor the khaki, nor the olive drab—to give thought to the glory that can come only to him who serves his mother land.

Beautiful ceremonies will be held at Fairhaven cemetery beginning at 10 a. m.

The thinking ranks of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic will hold impressive services.

Loving and gentle hands of relatives and friends will place flowers on the resting places of the departed heroes.

Unknown Dead Remembered
Patriotic and appreciative words will be said at the monument to the unknown dead—words that could be uttered over each of the little mounds which are scattered here and there in both the new and old burial grounds and of which there are now close to 400.

A prayer will be whispered—a prayer that will be on the lips of all—and the city, pausing in its bustle, will in spirit, at least, take part.

Then, more silently and more thoughtfully, the return trip will be made.

While many are expected to respond, those in charge of the cemetery services today again requested persons who expect to attend the ceremonies and who may have room in their automobiles for one or more of the veterans to pass by way of G. A. R. hall en route to the cemetery.

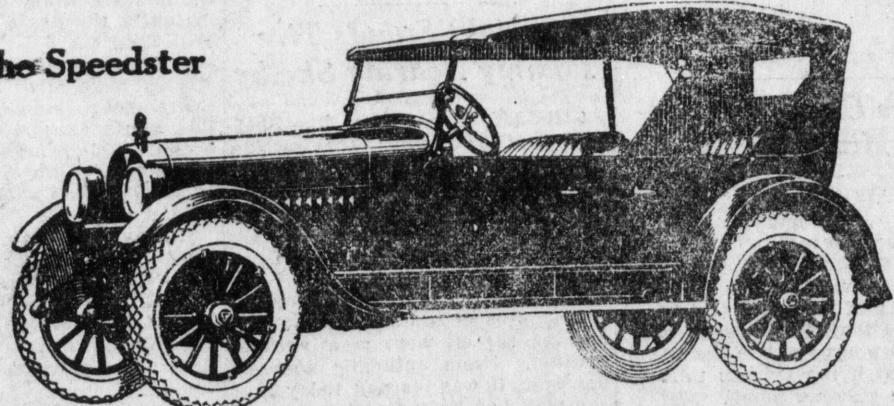

Schools Gather Flowers
Myriads of beautiful flowers were brought to the public schools here today by the school children in response to the plea by members of the Memorial day committee of Sedwick post No. 17, G. A. R.

These were gathered by committee men and at G. A. R. hall and

S. A. STUDENTS GIVEN MEAGER OPPORTUNITY IN CONTROL

High School Teacher Gives Pithy Explanation of Local System

(Because the board of education here has recently considered the possibility of instituting certain changes in administration of affairs at the high school, Santa Ana is asking the exact meaning of the terms "self-government" and "student control." At the request of The Register, Miss Isabel Anderson, instructor in citizenship at the high school and at the junior college, has prepared an article giving the definitions in full. The article follows:)

BY ISABEL ANDERSON

What is meant by self-government in the schools? Self-government in high schools and colleges means student cooperation and participation in the management of the activities of the student body and the discipline of the school.

In Santa Ana high school self-government means merely that. There is no such thing as student control and never has been. However, since the school is recognized to be the training school for citizens who must later participate in a self-government of city, state and nation, it has been thought only logical that students should be taught some of the responsibilities of governing themselves.

Here is an outline of the student self-government in the local high school.

Annually the students of the school, through nominating petition and primary and regular election, elect a group of student-body officers.

These officers must be satisfactory to all of the faculty and to the principal.

The student body officers comprise what is called the board of control. This board is an executive board, under the advice of the principal, a faculty representative and a faculty auditor—who must countersign all checks—for the management of athletic, forensic and financial affairs for the student body. The board passes all student body bills, awards monograms for athletics and decides upon student body policies.

Discipline One Task.

Two boys and two girls are elected by the student body to make up a self-government committee. The principal of the school appoints the chairman of this committee, which co-operates with the principal in matters of conduct among students. This committee calls into conference students who misconduct themselves in the halls or on the grounds, and has the power to bar them from athletics or other student activities. In serious cases it always reports the student to the principal.

All actions of the self-govern-

GOTHAM THEATRICALS MAY IGNORE SUMMER AND BREAK CUSTOMS

Gaby Fleury, who has played in every performance of "Whispering Wires," Broadway's longest-running show.

NEW YORK, May 29.—When does the stage season start and end? The ancient custom was to lower the curtain on Decoration day and leave it down until September, unless some stock company was brave enough to try its luck over the summer.

In most cities throughout the country stock companies furnish the only opportunity for stage entertainment during dog days, but in New York the stage business, like the all-night restaurant, goes on forever. This state of affairs is probably due to the influence of motion pictures which are exhibited the year around.

While most of the theaters in Gotham remain open throughout the summer, that does not mean "business as usual." The summer theater in New York is run for the benefit of the summer tourist—and usually for new producers of limited means who find their only opportunity for wedding into the game during the slim months.

Thus new plays are planted with as great a frequency as in the winter, but the summer variety is not so hardy. Most of the plays wilt and die.

All of which means that the professional playgoer makes his rounds of first nights with the feeling of a patrolman sent to a quiet beat in the suburbs and sending in reports to headquarters so that his superiors may know he is on the job.

In this attitude, this patrolman became unduly excited after leaving the Gaiety theater. Cyril Maude in "Aren't We All?" had started the summer season with an unusually good play and there was something more than a casual

DOG IN FUTILE DASH TO SAVE FIRE VICTIM

Miner-Master Dies From Blast Injuries, But Dumb Hero Lives

(By ELEANOR ELLIOTT)

Only a dog, but a hero nevertheless.

Only a dog, but he tried manfully to save a human life that was dearer to him than his own. Over at Modjeska's home in the Santiago canyon he lies, dumbly bearing the pain, a 2-year-old blooded collie dog whose bravery failed to save the life of his master, Victor de Lor of the Yucalpa valley, who a few days ago was buried in Mountain View cemetery, San Bernardino, after death from mine-fire injuries.

The collie, carefully chained at the little home in the twenty-acre ranch owned by De Lor, a week ago became so frantic during the absence of his master that De Lor's young wife unchained him, only to see him go bounding away toward the little mine which her husband was trying to develop.

Mute Evidence Borne In a few minutes the collie, scarcely recognizable for his burns, crawled whimpering to her feet and, with every action, begged her aid. Following him, Mrs. De Lor ran to meet her husband, scarcely human in his agony and with bits of burned flesh dropping from his arms and body, as he half walked, half crawled toward his home.

"Here I am," he said, "What are you going to do with me?" Retaining consciousness only long enough to tell bits of his story, De Lor was hastened to the hospital, but died next day.

The mine, a quarter mile from the house, required blasting work, and when loosed he rushed to the mine, where he succeeded in dragging the almost-helpless man to the air.

His last thought was for the collie and he begged that every possible effort be made to save the dog's life.

As a consequence the brave animal, terribly burned, sightless, hairless, yet living, has been brought to the ranch home of Tom Johnson, at Modjeska's, where he is receiving every tender care that Johnson, a brother of Mrs. De Lor, can lavish on him.

MUSIC MEMORY COMPETITION AT CLIMAX

Teams From Orange County Schools Arrayed For Contest Today

Music, memories and a silver cup.

These were the features of Orange county school music memory contest held in the local high school auditorium this afternoon.

Under arrangements by the supervisors of music in all of the county schools there has been conducted a consistent campaign for familiarizing the students, as well as the public, with the twenty-five music selections chosen for the contest.

Today's contest is a final contest among the county schools, each represented by a team of students chosen in an individual school contest.

Silver Cup Is Award.

A beautiful silver cup, purchased with funds subscribed by clubs and individuals interested in school music, was the trophy to be awarded the winning school this afternoon.

Miss Woodford of Garden Grove was to play all of the contest selections, either on the piano or on the Victrola.

Each student was to be given a blank paper on which he was to register his answers as the selections were played, giving in each case the name of the selection, its source, the composer's name and his nationality.

Santa Ana Represented.

A team of seven music students representing Santa Ana high school was made up of the following students who were winners in the school preliminary last week: Miss Josephine Rodriguez, Miss Katharine Dunn, Miss Dorothy Hurd, Miss Effie Jessup, Loren Canon, Miss Delphina Lopez, Miss Gertrude Priess, Miss Della Hampton, Miss Molly Mosher, Miss Evelyn Metzgar and Miss Marie Tamin.

Two of these students were winners in the recent Orange county music contest, the final contest, which was held at the Orange high school last Thursday night. Miss Effie Jessup was the winner in the piano contest and Loren Canon in the violin.

Campaign Attracts Interest.

The music memory campaign, which is being or has been recently conducted in all parts of California, is an innovation for this part of the country, and is creating a great deal of comment because of its novel method of acquainting a large number of people with the best known music selections. SECRETARY FOR HARBOR BODY IS PICKED

(Special to The Register)

NEWPORT BEACH, May 29.—The Newport Beach city council last night endorsed the activity of the Orange county harbor chamber of commerce and set aside $4200 for the employment of a secretary and the opening of an office here. The selection of Harry Welch of Phoenix, Ariz., for the position of secretary-manager was approved.

Choice Carefully Made
The choice was made after many weeks of deliberation by the board. It was felt that the man chosen must be of the highest caliber obtainable, as on him would devolve the work of not only bringing in shipping but of selling the harbor project to the government next December.

Mr. Welch is of the highest type of chamber of commerce executive. He has been in charge of the chamber of commerce of Phoenix for the last twelve years and his work has been largely responsible for developing the capital of Arizona and the Salt River valley. The Roosevelt dam had just been finished when Mr. Welch took up the work and he has seen the desert transformed from a struggling country of a few thousand population to a valley of 100,000 people.

Prior to going to Arizona Mr. Welch was connected with the old California Improvement association and with Malcolm Fraser, now secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Valencia Orange show. Both these men served their apprenticeship in this work. On the completion of this task both men went to Arizona, Welch to Phoenix and Fraser to Prescott.

Comes From England
Before coming to the United States Mr. Welch resided in Liverpool, England, where he had full opportunity to study shipping and harbor work. He has made a careful study of Newport harbor and in the past week has been in conference with Chamber of Commerce men on the coast, as to shipping possibilities here. That he is a thorough and painstaking executive has been shown by his constructive work in Arizona and his retention in one job for twelve years. His only reason for moving is because of the health of Mrs. Welch, who cannot stand Arizona summers. It will probably be thirty days before Mr. Welch can assume his new duties, owing to his many affiliations in Phoenix.

Has Friends Here
In addition to Mr. Fraser, Mr. Welch is a warm personal friend of V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce and of Frank Wiggins, who made the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce famous. He has a wide acquaintance among business and professional men on the coast.

TUSTIN PERSONALS.
TUSTIN, May 29.—Mrs. Platt, daughter, Miss Platt, spent Saturday on business in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Prather entertained as dinner guests Sunday, General Fred A. Shapley, Captain Charles B. Comstock, Lieutenant Harry A. Hartman and Dr. G. A. Ames, hospital surgeon of Canton at San Diego. All of the party were from San Diego.

Rev. J. J. Schaumburg, editor of the Messiah Advocate, Oakland, Cal., delivered a sermon at the Advent Christian church last Friday night.

Trustees Debate Proposal to Lay Pipeline to Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 29.—Several hours were spent by the Huntington Beach city trustees last night discussing the application of a franchise for an oil pipeline out of Huntington Beach to oil tankers at Newport Beach.

R. A. West, attorney for the Thomas W. Simmons company of San Francisco, the corporation which has been granted a ten years lease on the pier at Newport, appeared before the trustees and outlined the proposal whereby the company would be allowed to pipe the oil out.

The trustees decided to call another meeting for tonight when the matter will be further discussed.

BEACH FOLDERS GO ALL OVER AMERICA

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 29.—More than two thousand residents of the middle west have received descriptive folders of Huntington Beach distributed by Major C. H. Harbor, municipal advertising manager, by appointment of the mayor and council, he announced here today.

Every Depot has One
Copies of the folders have been posted in all of the depots of the electric line and others will be placed in prominent centers in southern California, he said.

Every commercial secretary in the larger cities of the United States has received a copy of the booklet, also every newspaper editor in California.

Responses Received
A number of responses have been received and the president of a large eastern wood pulp company, Michael Doyle, of Rochester, N. Y., has asked for information as to the investment possibilities of Huntington Beach.

GROVE CHAMBER TO GIVE WOMEN $1000

GARDEN GROVE, May 29.—The chamber of commerce members assembled at the hotel Monday noon and held the first meeting of the year with the newly elected officers in charge.

PERSONAL NOTES OF ORANGE FOLK

ORANGE, May 29.—Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McBride and Mr. and Mrs. Jess McDaniels and son, Ronald of Long Beach spent Sunday at Redondo returning by Los Angeles where they attended the theater and heard "Ben Black's Famous Orchestra" from the North which is playing there.

A memorial day was set aside for its commemoration in the way of an annual picnic day. A committee was named to select the day, when all could gather and celebrate the story of the early days of the romance of Costa Mesa.

And as a fitting setting to the occasion, like all great things have beginnings the Southern California Edison company was represented by Mr. Walter Gardner Blossom, field superintendent of Education and Charles I. Reagan of the Great Western Department.

Mr. Blossom gave a talk and lecture while Mr. Reagan showed the wonderful picture entitled, "Romance of Electricity," which, too, told of its inception and power taken from above the level of common humanity and thereby bringing blessing and service to mankind below.

The picture was highly pleasing and instructive.

MESA CITIZENS REVIEW WORK OF ASSN.

BY MRS. W. W. CARRUTHERS

COSTA MESA, May 29.—With the abandonment of the Fairview Farms association of Costa Mesa members of the former organization are recalling this week some of the history of the society which has meant so much to the progress and development of Costa Mesa.

E. V. Minor was not in the chair at the disorganization meeting so Mr. Sexton had the honor of presiding, first introducing Dr. Wherry who moved that as the Fairview Farms Association had outgrown its usefulness and done its work, that we discontinue its meetings. Remarks followed by George Hall, Mrs. Della Rountree, Mr. Wilfred Rountree, Mrs. Sadie Bland, N. O. Mellett and Mr. C. Wilkerson expressing their appreciation of the past in the help and service of the Fairview Farms Association.

Then Dr. Wherry said that he came to bury Caesar not to praise him, and gave a brief resume of the whole life of the association, beginning with the early history of how about nine years ago a few gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Greenamyer for the purpose of studying the Sunday school lesson—then as all were pioneers the idea of helpfulness occurred and one day Mr. Hall in his "one horse shay" rode through the dust inviting people to join them and also told of Mrs. Rountree and Mrs. Greenamyer as "angels of mercy" during that "desolation time."

Dr. Wherry was the first president and one that never swerved his duty, has been staunch ever since.

There were eighteen or twenty handed together 100 per cent unified, who stood firm, when it came to a vote, solidly they voted. It was predicted nothing but failure could ever come out of this particular tract or ground and to the astonishment of all a first fair was instituted, then as an outcome the Huntington Beach fair, and they not only challenged the other but the world and to produce anything better.

The first fair was held on Fairview avenue with a free dinner for all. They had everything—fried chicken—fill your plate—unlimited they fed the public. Then visiting day would come and every one was visited and encouraged by one another and then would wind up with a big dinner and all this was gotten up and served by nine or ten women, who would come out fresh and smiling and they gave it all free—but let me not forget to bury Caesar" Dr. Wherry said.

"Eight years ago the committee on telephones, rural delivery, electric wires, the forerunners of what we have today." The honest go-getters. There was a fine spirit of co-operation in the Fairview Farms association due to the greatness of the pioneers."

Dr. Wherry said, "May the transmigration of the soul of the association be entered into the County of Commerce and the Woman's club and others, the same precepts and teachings that made it what it was."

The records of the association were requested preserved so that posterity may see what was attempted and achieved by aunt and uncle and grandma and grandfather and what they did.

"Let it pass and a hero—flush in victory—ripe with experience and mellow with memory—and as seems fitting, pass in the church."

KILBANE PICKED TO DEFEAT FRENCHMAN

Featherweight Champ Too Experienced For Challenger Is Claim

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, May 29.—Johnny Kilbane is ruling a 7 to 5 favorite to retain his featherweight championship when he meets Eugene Criqui at the Polo Grounds next Saturday afternoon.

Boxing experts who have looked over the French holder of the European championship all admit that he is a nice young fellow, that he had a most extraordinarily good-looking wife and that the war cost him a lot. California Redhead Establishes Record At Collegiate Meet

"RED" NORRIS, University of California pole vaulter, completed an unusual college career last Saturday when he tied for first in his event at the National Intercollegiate meet at Philadelphia which the Bears won for the third consecutive year.

Last year and the year before that Norris won the event. In getting a tie Saturday the car-pot-pot athlete vaulted 12 feet 9 inches.

He had hardly been relieved when he was stamped in a popular dining place by releasing a pet tiger which he was pulling around on a leash. The animal became excited with all the commotion and the police had to send the jungle king to a zoo.

Jack Dempsey looks like the only relief France could hope for.

SPORT FLASHES

BOSTON—Bobby Quinn, vice president and business manager of the St. Louis Browns, will become the president and general manager of the Red Sox when the club changes hands, it is reported here.

NEW YORK—"Prominent business men" of Rockaway announced they would build an arena to seat 100,000 and give Jack Dempsey $350,000 to fight Harry Wills there this fall.

PARIS—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen is still suffering from the breakdown that followed her play in the hard court finals Sunday, but may be able to play in the singles at Wimbledon.

CHICAGO—Benny Leonard, out to annex another title, will meet Pinkey Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, in a ten round bout here tonight.

SALEM, Ore.—Marco Hellman, who purchased two valuable Hackney ponies from Roy L. Baker, local breeder, paying more than $2,000 for the pair. The animals will be shipped to Los Angeles.

One Night Stands Tire Tommy Nearing Shelby

SHELBY, Mont., May 29.—Shelby looked for another boom outside the Dempsey-Gibbons fight on July 4, when oil men reported this morning that a 3,000 barrel gusher had flowed ten acres in the Mid-North fields, a short distance from here.

The report caused excitement among prospectors and stories concerning the oil were greatly exaggerated. From authentic sources, however, it was learned today that some oil had been found.

Tommy Gibbons, who boxed an exhibition in Great Falls last night, was expected here today to look over the site that has been tentatively selected for his training camp.

Gibbons is tired of the one-night stands on his exhibition tour and he may call off the remainder of the bookings and go home to St. Paul for a few days before he opens his camp.

In The Big Leagues

Shanks hit a homer with two on base in the eighth and the Red Sox beat the Athletics, 8 to 6.

The Reds scored two runs in the tenth, but the Cards came back in their half and scored three, which gave them a five to four victory.

Miller's double and a single by Weis scored the run in the eleventh that gave the Cubs a five to four victory over the Pirates.

With two runs over in the ninth, Kelly popped up for the third out and the Giants lost to the Robins, 8 to 7. O'Donnell hit his second homer in two days.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Looks like old times to see the Philadelphia Athletics back in the American league pennant race. The young team that carries the colors of Connie Mack may feel funny up around the heights, but certainly it is no novel experience for the gaunt old leader of the A's.

Mack deserves to get some results, for he was game enough to withstand the ignominy of eight years at the bottom of the pile to prove the contention that he could build up another machine as good as the one he smashed in 1914.

The tall Philadelphia leader has peculiar ideas about ball players. He considers a team great only when it has a man in the regular position, particularly adapted to that position and he says that he now has such a combination.

Johnny Rawlings, having been bounced around with several major league clubs, came to be known as "Lucky Johnny" when he was rescued from the Phils in midsummer of 1921 and jumped into a cut of two winning ends of the world's series with the Giants.

"Lucky John" was sold recently back to the Phils and he yelled that he was the victim of hard luck. He has funny ideas about luck.

Battling Siki, that singular Senegalese, is causing the French almost as much trouble as their political difficulties. The Battler simply will not stay put. He has been even worse since he lost his titles than he was when he took upon himself every liberty as being his due as a champion.

Several days ago he got "likkered" in a prominent cafe and shot up the place. His defense, when arrested, was that it was "American whiskey" and that the pistol was loaded with blanks.

He had hardly been relieved when he was stamped in a popular dining place by releasing a pet tiger which he was pulling around on a leash. The animal became excited with all the commotion and the police had to send the jungle king to a zoo.

Jack Dempsey looks like the only relief France could hope for.

SECRETARY FOR HARBOR BODY IS PICKED

(Special to The Register)

NEWPORT BEACH, May 29.—The Newport Beach city council last night endorsed the activity of the Orange county harbor chamber of commerce and set aside $2500 for the employment of a secretary and the opening of an office here. The selection of Harry Welch of Phoenix, Ariz., for the position of secretary-manager was approved.

Choice Carefully Made
The choice was made after many weeks of deliberation by the board. It was felt that the man chosen must be of the highest caliber and must be one who would devote the work of not only bringing in shipping but of selling the harbor project to the government next December.

Mr. Welch is of the highest type of chamber of commerce executive. He has been in charge of the chamber of commerce of Phoenix for the last twelve years and his work has been largely responsible for developing the capital of Arizona and the Salt River valley. The Roosevelt dam had just been finished when Mr. Welch took up the work and he has seen the desert transformed from a straggling country of a few thousand population to a valley of 100,000 people. Prior to going to Arizona Mr. Welch was connected with the old California improvement association and with Malcolm Fraser, now secretary of the Anaheim chamber of commerce and manager of the Valencia Orange show, was sent abroad to study conditions. Both these men served their apprenticeship in this work. On the completion of this task both men went to Arizona. Welch to Phoenix and Fraser to Prescott.

Came From England
Before coming to the United States Mr. Welch resided in Liverpool, England, where he had full opportunity to study shipping and harbor work. He has made a careful study of Newport harbor and in the past week has been in conference with Chamber of Commerce men on the coast, as to shipping possibilities here. That he is a thorough and painstaking executive has been shown by his constructive work in Arizona and his retention in one job for twelve years. His only reason for moving is because of the health of Mrs. Welch, who cannot stand Arizona summer. It will probably be thirty days before Mr. Welch can assume his new duties, owing to his many affiliations in Phoenix.

Has Friends Here
In addition to Mr. Fraser, Mr. Welch is a warm personal friend of V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce and of Frank Wiggins, who made the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce famous. He has a wide acquaintance among business and professional men on the coast.

"Let it pass as a hero—flush in victory—ripe with experience and mellow with memory—and as seems fitting, pass in the church."

A memorial day was set aside for its commemoration in the way of an annual Picnic Day. A committee was named to select the day, when all could gather and retell the story of the early days or the romance of Costa Mesa.

And as a fitting setting to the occasion, like all great things have beginnings the Southern California Edison company was represented by Mr. Walter Gardner Blossom, field superintendent of Education and Charles I. Reagan of the Greater Service Department. Mr. Blossom gave a talk and lecture while Mr. Reagan showed the wonderful picture entitled, "Romance of Electricity," which, too, told of its inception and power taken from above the level of common humanity and thereby bringing blessing and service to mankind below. The picture was highly pleasing and instructive.

Refreshments were served by the association with Mrs. George Hall as chairman.

TUSTIN PARTY OFF FOR KANSAS PLAINS

TUSTIN, May 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huffman and children, Aubene and Ruth Ellen, left early Saturday morning in their touring car for their home and ranch in Larned, Kans. They expect their trusty car to carry them through to the eastern state in about eight days.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman and family recently moved to Tustin from Santa Ana, and built a garage house on their lot on the Neal tract, First street. They intend to return to this city next fall and making the trip to be on hand to harvest their wheat crop in Kansas.

KILBANE PICKED TO DEFEAT FRENCHMAN

BY HENRY L. FARRELL,

NEW YORK, May 29.—Johnny Kilbane is ruling a 7 to 5 favorite to retain his featherweight championship when he meets Eugene Criqui at the Polo Grounds next Saturday afternoon.

Boxing experts who have looked over the French holder of the European championship all admit that he is a nice young fellow, that he had a most extraordinarily good-looking wife and that the war cost him a lot. But so far as his chance with the venerable champion is concerned, the verdict is that Kilbane is too good with his right hand and that he knows too much.

Kilbane has trained very carefully and a general feeling among the experts that he should win has not made him look too lightly upon his challenger. Kilbane knows too much for that.

The champion will work under one handicap unless he has picked up some doughboy French since he signed up for the Criqui fight. Johnny has worked himself out of several tight places with the language, and the only thing that Criqui knows of John's language is "Dollars."

The verbal reference to currency will not raze the Frenchman. Criqui is being regarded in more or less a sympathetic light. The Frenchman is a war hero, much more of a hero than Carpenter. He lost a part of his jaw at Verdun and he came back to the ring with a piece of rubber grafted into his cheeks. He claims that the operation gave him an iron jaw and that it severed the connection of the nerves between the "button" and the brain.

Kilbane remarked rather facetiously that if a shrapnel on the jaw couldn't stop Criqui, he had his doubts about anyone's right hand doing the trick and some of the short end betters are figuring the same way.

Young Man Likes Weather So Well He Misses Lunch

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—In the office of the United States Weather Bureau, on the top of the Merchants' Exchange, is a young man who likes meteorology so much that he works there for nothing. He even goes without his lunch so that he can pass as much time on the job as possible. Ralph Wentworth, 9 Beaver street, is more than a dollar-a-year man for he does not even get that salary from the government.

Wentworth has a good job with a large paint company. He would prefer to work in the Weather Bureau, but as the Department of Agriculture does not pay its regular employees as much as private concerns, Wentworth cannot afford to leave his job and accept a position with the government. So every spare moment he has, including his lunch hour, Wentworth puts in at the Weather Bureau, copying records and going through files to complete data of interest to farmers, real estate dealers and climatological experts. He is just now engaged in gathering temperature data on all the big cities so that he may know off-hand just which town was the warmest or coldest any day in the year any time during the last half-century.

Wentworth may write a book some day on "Why is the Weather in California and When?"

In his home on Beaver street Wentworth has one of the largest private libraries in the world devoted exclusively to meteorology and climatology. It contains government bulletins, pamphlets and documents from nearly every country which has a weather bureau.

Wentworth is reticent about his hobby and never discusses it with anyone. In looking up data he never takes any second-hand information. He wants the original document and has everything down to a fraction of a frog's hair.

California Redhead Establishes Record At Collegiate Meet

"RED" NORRIS, University of California pole vaulter, completed an unusual college career last Saturday when he tied for first in his event at the National Intercollegiate meet at Philadelphia which the Bears won for the third consecutive year.

Last year and the year before that Norris won the event. In getting a tie Saturday the car-topped athlete vaulted 12 feet 9 inches.

Santa Ana high school's chance to continue in the fight for the baseball championship of Southern California was at stake this afternoon when Coach Orion Neff led his crew to Fullerton for a skirmish with the Norwalk high school team, title-holder of the Valley league.

A Santa Ana victory was to give the local aggregation the right to meet some Southern California nine in the semifinals for the title. A defeat would close the season for the Pely men.

Roy Le Bard, Neff's "iron man," was to be on the hill for Santa Ana with Ted Coffman handling the big glove.

22 Cars Qualify for 500 Mile Sweepstakes

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—Twenty-two cars had qualified today for the International 500 mile sweepstakes race here tomorrow. Four others were ready to make the test run of ten miles at a speed of not less than 80 miles an hour. Thousands poured out to the speedway to watch the drivers tune up before the starting bomb.

Three Duesenbergs will take the track for the first time today to qualify. A Bugatti, also will be out for the official timing.

Jimmy Murphy, who drew the winners checkered flag last year; Cliff Durant, head of the Durant squad, and Ralph De Palma, clocked better than a hundred average in their trials.

Earl Cooper furnished a big thrill when he negotiated the last lap and a half of his ten mile run on a flat tire and still held his average up to 99.4 miles an hour.

ESTATE OF REPUTED RICH MAN APPRAISED AT $89,200
VALLEJO, May 29.—After investing his money in stocks, the par value of which exceeded $300,000, an appraisal of the estate of E. J. Humbert shows him to have been worth at the time of his death a few weeks ago exactly $89,200. Most of the stocks were in "wildcat" possibilities which did not materialize. Humbert died reputed wealthy. After all costs and expenses are paid, the estate will have a residue of about $150, it is thought.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Looks like old times to see the Philadelphia Athletics back in the American league pennant race. The young team that carries the colors of Connie Mack may feel funny up around the heights, but certainly it is no novel experience for the gaunt old leader of the A's.

Mack deserves to get some results, for he was game enough to withstand the ignominy of eight years at the bottom of the pile to prove the contention that he could build up another machine as good as the one he smashed in 1914.

The tall Philadelphia leader has peculiar ideas about ball players. He considers a team great only when it has a man in eight of the regular positions particularly adapted to that position and he says that he now has such a combination.

Mack's success in building up a new contender from practically nothing is a tribute to perseverance and patience.

Johnny Rawlings, having bounced around with several major league clubs, came to be known as "Lucky Johnny," when he was rescued from the Phils in midsummer of 1921, and jumped into a cut of two winning ends of the world's series with the Giants. "Lucky John" was sold recently back to the Phils and he yelled that he was the victim of hard luck. He has funny ideas about luck.

Battling Siki, that singular Senegalese, is causing the French almost as much trouble as their political difficulties. The Battler simply will not stay put. He has been even worse since he lost his titles than he was when he took upon himself every liberty as being his due as a champion.

Several days ago he got "likered" in a prominent cafe and shot up the place. His defense, when arrested, was that it was "American whiskey" and that the pistol was loaded with blanks.

He had hardly been released when he caused a stampede in a popular dining place by releasing a pet tiger which he was pulling around on a leash. The animal became excited with all the commotion and the police had to send the jungle king to a zoo.

Jack Dempsey looks like the only relief France could hope for.

SPORT FLASHES

BOSTON—Bobby Quinn, vice president and business manager of the St. Louis Browns, will become the president and general manager of the Red Sox when the club changes hands, it is reported here.

NEW YORK—"Prominent business men" of Rockaway announced they would build an arena to seat 100,000 and give Jack Dempsey $350,000 to fight Harry Wills there this fall.

PARIS—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen is still suffering from the breakdown that followed her play in the hard court finals Sunday, but may be able to play in the singles at Wimbledon.

CHICAGO—Benny Leonard, out to annex another title, will meet Pinkey Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, in a ten round bout here tonight.

SALEM, Ore.—Marco Hellman, wealthy Los Angeles resident, has purchased two valuable Hanes ponies from Roy H. Baker, local breeder, paying more than $2,000 for the pair. The animals will be shipped to Los Angeles.

One Night Stands Tire Tommy Nearing Shelby

SHELBY, Mont., May 29.—Shelby looked for another boom outside the Dempsey-Gibbons fight on July 4, when oil men reported this morning that a 3,000 barrel gusher had flooded ten acres in the Mid-Northwestern fields, a short distance from here.

The report caused excitement among prospectors and stories concerning the oil were greatly exaggerated. From authentic sources, however, it was learned today that some oil had been found.

Tommy Gibbons, who boxed an exhibition in Great Falls last night, was expected here today to look over the site that has been tentatively selected for his training camp.

Gibbons is tired of the one-night stands on his exhibition tour and he may call off the remainder of the bookings and go home to St. Paul for a few days before he opens his camp.

In The Big Leagues
Shanks hit a homer with two on base in the eighth and the Red Sox beat the Athletics, 8 to 6.

The Reds scored two runs in the tenth, but the Cards came back in their half and scored three, which gave them a five to four victory.

Miller's double and a single by Vels scored the run in the eleventh that gave the Cubs a five to four victory over the Pirates.

With two runs over in the ninth, Kelly popped up for the third out and the Giants lost to the Robins, 8 to 7. O'Donnell hit his second homer in two days.

BISS MAKES DELHI DEBUT WEDNESDAY

Former Welterweight Star To Meet Tough Battler In Assignment Here

Sailor Steve Biss, veteran Southern California welterweight and now graduated into the middleweight class, will make his first appearance under the bright lights at Boyd Ellis' Delhi arena tomorrow night when he squares off with Kid Mexico, the "fighting" fool from Huntington Beach.

For years Biss has been regarded as one of the most dangerous of antagonists. He knows plenty about keeping the other fellow's mits off his jaw and he has bounced more than one bloke on his bean, through for the night.

Biss and Gene Cline, the latter well remembered here as a last vestigement to earn an official verdict from Mexico at Delhi, formerly were the leading welter in these parts. Twice Biss bested Cline. Once Cline defeated the sailor scrapper.

Becomes Middleweight.
In the last year or so Biss has put on considerable weight and he no longer can get by outside the middleweight division. This stepping up in class apparently hasn't taken any of his reputation. His last seven starts have all been decisions in his favor or victories via the short order route.

He will meet the hardest middleweight to beat, bar none, in the Southland when he tangles with this Mexican person. The wisecracker has Mex don and out within two rounds before he fought Sailor Rittner. But at the close of the fourth round he was forcing the going and Rittner got all that he could possibly expect to receive an upsticks decision.

Biss probably will be content to rush in and out, poking and jabbing the beach boy enough to beat him on points in the same manner that Cline got away with it. Biss, however, has a kick in his right paw that might do some real damage if he connects on the button.

"Iron Man" on Bill.
Joe Grimm, rapidly becoming one of well known "iron men," tangles with Young Sheller in the semi-windup melee. While Grimm appears too good for the San Bernardino boy his fight with Johnny Stopper at Vernon tonight won't help his chances. Sheller doesn't know anything but he gets a lot of power behind his wild eyed swings and his way of glaring at an opponent is enough to beat the ordinary poor soul.

Grimm proved he wasn't impervious to the slumberland journey when he ran into one of Sailor Vincent's fast ones at San Pedro the other night.

Toby Montoya and Dick Hoppe, the latter supposed to be from San Francisco, hook up in the feature preliminary. Montoya hasn't lost a bout here for months. The winning streak hasn't affected him yet other than to give him added confidence.

The rest of the card will bring Eddie Brown against Eddie Dugan, Battling Weir against Eddie Carl and Eddie Doolis with Joe Miller.

S. A. PLAYERS LEAD FACULTY TOURNEY.

Santa Ana and Fullerton today were leading the race for the county faculty tennis titles following the completion of the first part of the annual tournament. At Tustin a high school last Saturday. Because of the large number of matches scheduled, many of the matches were unfinished.

The only event completed was the women's singles which was won by Miss Isabel Anderson of the Santa Ana high school, who defeated in the finals Mrs. Stulke of Fullerton, 6-3, 6-2.

Other entrants in the women's singles were Miss Alice McNulty, Santa Ana; Miss Elizabeth Phillips, Santa Ana; Miss Clara Stephenson, Fullerton; Miss Lillian Pumphrey, Santa Ana; Miss Florence Randall, Fullerton, and Miss Rorum of Tustin.

Entrants in the men's singles were Stewart Smith, Young, Plummer, Lodge, Santa Ana; Miss Stulke, Fullerton; Glenn, Hummel, Hammond, Archer, Warren, Nelson, and Clayton of Santa Ana, and Means and Wise of Tustin.

Winners in men's singles matches were Clayton, Lewis, Nunn, Stulke, Smith, Young, Plummer and Lodge. These will have yet to contend for the county singles title.

Men's doubles entrants included all of the singles entrants and J. A. Cranston of Santa Ana. Winners of men's doubles matches were Plummer and Lodge of Fullerton and Hammond of Santa Ana playing with Stulke of Fullerton.

Mixed doubles matches were won by Miss Anderson and Cranston of Santa Ana; Miss Stephenson and Smith of Fullerton; Miss Randall and Nunn of Fullerton, and Mrs. Stulke and Young of Fullerton.

EVENING SALUTATION

"I struck a word, and now that word becomes keener than lance tips, deadlier than drums."

A GENEROUS WORLD

Old-fashioned hospitality is supposed to be extinct and unsolicited generosity to strangers exceedingly rare in this generation. A man who has been walking around the edge of the United States since November, 1921, believes otherwise.

In 1921, according to the story, this man tried to publish a book in which he had elaborated on the generosity of the American people. His publishers considered his story not only highly improbable, but downright impossible. So the author set forth from San Francisco, on foot, hatless, coatless and penniless, to test the kindness of his fellow-countrymen.

He crossed the southern part of the country, through the Gulf states to the Atlantic seaboard. Then he walked north to Portland, Me., turning there and following along the southern shore of the Great Lakes. He recently passed through Little Falls, Minn., and expects to be in San Francisco before September.

During this test hiking tour, the walker has been allowed to ask for only two things, water and matches. The rules of his long jaunt required also that he should accept no automobile lifts along the way.

His worst experience, he asserts, was walking through the Yuma desert of Arizona. In Texas he went without food once for 60 consecutive hours and walked 73 hours without seeing a single house. Otherwise, on a schedule of three meals a day, he has missed only 30 meals on his trip so far. He has had to sleep in the open only three times. He received many offers of rides in automobiles and wagons—on one day the number totalled 194.

Apparently it is not such a cold and selfish world as some persons believe.

The German idea seems to be to postpone paying for this war until after the next one.

A SHOPLIFTING CURE

Shoplifting is more commonly practised than the public realizes, according to an eastern writer. It is quite as common in grocery stores as in department stores. It is a problem which retail merchants have to handle largely for themselves, because they have found that legal prosecution is ineffective.

A certain system of chain grocery stores has hit upon a method which has already very greatly reduced losses through shoplifting.

When the offender is caught she—or he—is given the choice of having the police called or of signing a confession worded like this:

"I, Mary Roe, of my own free will and without constraint, confess that on this date I stole two packages of sugar, a can of beans and three heads of cabbage from so-and-so street and number by the Blank store company. I agree that if I ever do it again, this confession may be used against me in court action and that I need not expect mercy a second time." The signed document is then kept by the store proprietor, and the shoplifter, usually curbs her light-fingered tendencies.

Fear of exposure appears to be greater than the fear of prosecution. Most shoplifters do not want their families to know of their pilfering. That is one reason why the signed confession method has worked so well for this company. It may seem to be a far cry from groceries to psychology, but in this case both are needed.

An Australian engineer says American newspapers are like lives. You don't like them at first, but they improve with experience. That's true; and just as in eating olives, often the thing is to know what to swallow.

THE SHRINKING PAPER SUPPLY

Canadian paper mills are setting new records in exports of news print. In March, for the first time, exports from the Dominion passed the 100,000 ton mark. Last month they reached 113,450 tons.

Nearly all of this came to the states for the use of American newspapers. As a source of newsprint, Canada is gaining on our country right along.

Since 1917 American production has risen from 1,359,000 tons a year to 1,440,000 tons, while Canada's output has jumped from 690,000 to 1,082,000 tons. American stocks of pulp wood, especially in the East, are vanishing at a disturbing rate, while Canada sets the pace in the erection of new mills and the installation of machinery.

Meanwhile the newspapers—and the people, too—watch with growing interest the increasing number of tabloid publications, and the various attempts to reduce white paper consumption through material modification of display advertising policy.

Paper costs are compelling the most serious consideration of essential changes in the very nature of American journalism. Unless new sources of supply can be developed, those changes will come within a decade, and they will be worth watching.

CHICAGO-LONDON AIR ROUTE

Forty-eight-hour air service between London and Chicago is confidently predicted by a British aviator. Passenger planes capable of carrying 200 persons will be used. Chicago is chosen as the terminus for this future route because it is nearer the heart of the United States than any other large city.

When this development of commercial aviation has arrived, however, many cities will spring into importance which now show little promise. That is because extensive aviation will make any city less dependent upon railroad and water transportation facilities than at present. An air port will have as much incentive to growth and progress as a lake or ocean port regardless of location.

It is possible to prophesy almost anything in aviation development these days with reasonable expectation of fulfillment. All that has been already achieved seems only to give promise of even greater things to come.

THE HOARDER

The other day, when a wealthy woman died suddenly, and relatives entered her house for the first time in many years, they found it so crowded with all sorts of junk that space had to be cleared before the coffin could be set up. An auction conducted for an entire week after the funeral disposed of only a small part of the accumulation.

The most pitiful thing about the case is that none of the stuff which the woman had brought and hoarded through many years was either particularly valuable or interesting. She was simply possessed with a mania for possession. A tin steppan or a remnant of two yards of calico served her passion for accumulation just as well as a Whistler etching or the rarest marble. She had crowded her life with trash just as she had cluttered her home, until there was no room for friendliness or helpfulness or beauty.

Of course she was unbalanced and carried the thing to extremes. But most human beings hoard a lot of stuff, material, mental and spiritual, as they go through life, which is valueless in itself and crowds out a deal that is more worth while.

The Sioux are suing Uncle Sam for $750,000, to pay for lands "taken from them without just compensation." If all the Indians present claims on that basis, Uncle Sam will owe them more than Germany owes the Allies.

Europe Not Down and Out

Stockton Independent.

No two men back from overseas tell the same story. It is no wonder that the mass of the American people is slow to make up its mind in the matter of the nation's duty to its neighbors. Even those who are trained observers seldom seem to observe the same things.

A great electrical engineer, just back from a trip to study Europe's progress in his particular business field, is the latest to report. "An enormous amount of research work is being carried on in Germany at a cost of perhaps one-fifth what it would cost in the United States," he says. "The Germans are making great progress in this field. Moreover, they are doing an enormous amount of building. Everywhere I saw new factories going up. I heard so much of poverty-stricken Europe, I wanted to see for myself. I found nothing of the kind. Except everywhere appeared well clothed and well fed."

The engineer goes on to tell of enormous water-power developments in Italy, Switzerland and France, of the progressive electrification of railways and the expansion of industrial enterprises on every hand. It is all very puzzling.

Europe has suffered enormous economic loss, of course, and it will take generations to repair the waste of war. But despite the drain on material and manhood, Europe evidently is far from down and out. National abilities and ambitions have survived, and they must be reckoned with. Maps have been made over wholesale, but men are pretty much the same, and nations, too.

Naturally our overseas neighbors—for every country is a neighbor nowadays—are desirous of our sympathy and co-operation. But, if Europe has to do so, she can probably work out her own salvation without our aid.

Yet, the more we help the better these neighbors and customers will like us in ten years, or fifty.

Tax Exempt Securities

Industrial News Bureau.

Opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment which would prohibit the future issuance of tax exempt bonds say that such action would increase interest rates on municipal, state and national bonds.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Leffingwell, who largely managed the finances of the treasury department during the war, testified before the congressional ways and means committee that temporarily the interest rate on state and municipal securities might be increased by one half of 1 percent, but ultimately, when things became adjusted, he did not think it would increase the rate. Professor Seligman of Columbia university, an authority on taxation, expressed the same opinion.

The arguments are so clear and convincing in support of the proposed constitutional amendment that wonder grows that Congress refuses to submit it to the states for adoption or rejection. One half the people of this nation cannot long continue to pay double taxes in order that the other half escape all taxation by holding a privileged class of tax exempt bonds.

Jaywalking Children

Imperial Valley Press.

A woman was sitting in the window of a doctor's office in a pleasant city suburb. Shops where the residents did their daily errands lined both sides of the street below. Street cars and automobiles, although not so plentiful as on down-town streets, still were numerous enough to constitute a considerable traffic hazard.

Time after time, as the woman sat watching, some other women accompanied by little children "jaywalked," or darted diagonally across the street without taking the time to go to the crossing a few seconds farther down.

Scene In Court

San Diego Union.

We will now give you description of a little scene that ought to be in red hot type, framed and hung up over every judicial bench in the country, to wit: Federal Judge Partridge on the bench at San Francisco.

Col. Theo. Gier, Oakland millionaire, up for sentence for violating the prohibition act.

Sentence: Three months in jail and $1500 fine. Collapse of Millionaire Gier.

Witnesses Former Mayor Chapin of Oakland, Former Governor Pardee and District Attorney Decoto testify that Gier is a good citizen.

Judge Partridge making remarks, thus: "I emphatically take exception to witnesses' statement. No man can be a good citizen and violate the law. I believe that an example should be made of Gier inasmuch as he is a prominent man, familiar with the law, and held office in the county in which he lived."

We drop the curtain on the scene, feeling that there is one federal judge extant who believes in jailing guilty millionaires and doesn't believe that money and pull cover any multitude of sins mentioned in the criminal statutes.

Cotton Development

Pasadena Star-News.

Growing of cotton here in the Southwest has passed beyond the experimental stage. The industry is established and well established. Along the Colorado River and its tributaries, in California and Arizona, the growing of cotton has developed to very important proportions. The quality of cotton produced is of the very best and the crop commands ready market at good prices.

This section fortunately has not been invaded by the boll weevil and other foes of the cotton plant which have scourged the cotton plantations of the South. Cotton here is a staple crop, and the area planted to this product is increasing steadily and will continue to expand in other parts of California, as well as along the Colorado.

Another Good Way of Killing a Goose

Into The Fight

Don't "kid" the youngsters who, graduating this year from high school or college, start out into the world with sure confidence that they are going to take charge of things and save the situation on short notice.

All of us have to go through that period of youthful enthusiasm. And it's a good thing. Looking back, the older generation realizes that their exuberant start gave them momentum without which they might have weakened and fallen by the wayside.

Go ahead, you graduates! You're the hope of the world. And the enthused, confident newcomer in the battle of life can take wallops that would make an old-timer go down for the count.

Maybe, after all, the 1923 graduates are right in their conviction that they are going to save the world.

The world certainly can stand a lot of saving.

Looking over the world, most of us realize that the present generation has made pretty much of a failure of things. We've almost destroyed a civilization built up painfully and laboriously through thousands of years. The rising generation will not have so much of a job to beat our pitiful record. All set, youngsters! Over the top!

Most of you graduates have a very definite idea of what you want to accomplish in life. Try to keep your ideals strong, your courage high, your hearts young.

You'll have temporary setbacks—many of them. They are sent to develop your character and brain, much like muscles in a gymnasium. Hew to the line. Keep headed for your goal. Don't let any circumstance or any person discourage you from your original purpose.

Above all, ignore the cynics. All of them are failures of one degree or another. That's what made them into failures—cynicism, the curdled philosophy of a life that really is well worth living if we are worthy of living.

Guard your high motives. The world never has enough of ideals. At the end of the battle you will know that ideals are fed to humanity from only two sources—very old age, just finishing the fight, and youth, the newcomer, the re-enforcements for the weakening line of progress.

EARLY SUMMER HAY FEVER.

Hay fever that starts during the months of May and June is nearly always due to the inhalation of the pollens of some one or more of the many grasses that flower during this period. So prevalent are the grasses that it is impossible to escape them except by a long sea voyage. The particular grass pollen to which a hay fever sufferer is sensitive must be determined by testing with the different varieties that are most common in the locality. In the June issue of Hygeia Dr. Chandler Walker describes in detail the method of testing by applying the pollens to a scratch in the skin, a "test remark" for its simplicity, very quick and almost painless, but it gives absolute proof as to which plants are the cause of hay fever in the individual case. Treatment is directed toward diminishing the sensitiveness of the patient to the pollens by giving him gradually increasing doses and thus training his body to deal with it. For the best results treatment should be started three or four months before the date on which symptoms start, though something can often be accomplished by treatment during the active stage of the disease.

Importance of Barley Crop is Increasing

While barley ranks only fourth among the cereal crops of the United States, being exceeded in value by corn, wheat, and oats, it is becoming more important to American agriculture, even though production is not increased at the present time. The importance of the barley crop and the changing conditions affecting the production of barley in the United States are reviewed in the 1922 Yearbook just published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The average annual production of barley for the 10 years, 1913 to 1922, inclusive, was about 193,000,000 of bushels. This is not a large quantity when compared with the production of corn or oats, but is sufficiently large to be significant. Much barley is grown outside the regions where corn does well and furnishes a grain feed for livestock in these regions. Barley gives a high return per acre in feed and the quantity fed on farms where grown is constantly increasing.

Growing Scattered. The acre yield has remained close to 25 bushels since the Civil War. The areas of production have shifted greatly during the year since 1910, and especially since the enactment of prohibition legislation. While the acreage is only slightly less, the geographical location is quite different. In those sections where barley was grown as a money crop the acreage has decreased rapidly. This has been balanced by an increase on scattered farms over the whole barley-growing areas of the United States for the production of feed. The present trend is toward less local production and greater farm use.

Changes in the location of barley acreage has come about in the past and are now being brought about largely by two factors, namely, the fitness of barley for certain geographic conditions and legislation affecting the market. The barley plant is adapted to regions of cool summers where the soil is not too sandy but is well drained. It does not do well on poorly drained soils nor under humid conditions where high temperatures prevail.

Under suitable conditions of soil and climate barley yields more in pounds of feed per acre than any other small grain. Where these conditions prevail, as in the northern tier of states as far west as the Missouri River, barley is grown in preference to other grains, even though farmers object to the disagreeable work of harvesting and threshing this crop.

Grown in Dakota. A large part of the Dakota acreage is due to the fact that barley matures quickly and can be seeded later in the spring than wheat or oats and still produce a satisfactory crop.

The most recent factor affecting the production of barley has been the prohibition of brewing. This came at a time when a very fundamental change in barley production was taking place. The high acre yield of barley in pounds of feed was being recognized in the increased acreage of the crop and in the percentage of the crop fed on the farms where grown. The percentage of the barley moved out of the country where grown was decreasing steadily before the prohibition of brewing. This legislation did not cause any abrupt change in this movement. The effect of the regulation has been less than might have been expected.

Barley is used for feeding, brewing, and pearling. For human food it is used chiefly in the form of pearl barley for thickening soups and for other purposes, and of ground barley for making food for infants. It has some uses, also, as breakfast food.

Barley generally is considered about 90 to 95 per cent as valuable as corn for fattening livestock. Although it is a good feed for all stock, it should be crushed or rolled for sheep, hogs, and all young stock.

California Acreage.

The present situation and the future outlook is encouraging. The acreage in California is likely to be maintained because of the high yield of barley as compared to other feed crops. California barley will also be in demand for use by brewers in those European countries where the use of malt adjuncts in the manufacture of beer is prohibited. Barley always will be useful as a late-sown crop in the Dakotas. Barley acreage has increased in southeastern Minnesota, northwestern Kansas, and elsewhere in the Mississippi Valley where its value as a feed crop is being recognized. In Canada it has been found that barley and oats sown together produce decidedly more feed to the acre than either sown alone.

In general, the trend at the present time is toward an increase in the farm use of this grain for feeding stock. The very high acre return is gradually causing a higher appreciation of barley as a feed crop. It seems probable that barley will be grown in the future on more farms and over a wider area in the United States, but less extensively in special areas than in the past. It is likely also that the proportion of barley consumed on the farm where grown will continue to increase.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NO. 17—AN UNDERGROUND BATTLE.

"Look!" whispered Nancy.

Mister Tatters, the Raggy Man, looked where she was pointing. And Nick looked, and all the little Raggies looked.

And this is what they saw. Crookabone, the gnome, was sneaking toward the roots of a nice big rose bush with a pair of scissors in his hand!

As they were all under the ground, the roots of the rose bush were sticking down like the fingers of a hand.

"Hey, there! What are you doing?" cried Mister Tatters sharply.

Crookabone jumped. "Just getting a little firewood, my friends," he whined. "I'm just out and I need some to boil my sassafras soup for my dinner."

"Then you are going the wrong direction for it," said Mister Tatters sternly. "Right about face and march out of here! You know very well you were going to cut the roots of that rose bush for your firewood."

Crookabone hesitated a minute, and then suddenly before anyone could stop him, he grabbed a little whistle out of his pocket and blew a shrill blast. Instantly all the gnomes in Gnome Land came rushing to his aid. They poured in through every underground passage. There was every crooked little gnome you ever heard of. Jigabump and Tweaknose, and Snip Scissors and Long Tooth and every last one of them. And each one carried something sharp, good for cutting roots.

But almost as quickly came all the little Raggies to help Mister Tatters and Nancy and Nick. Each one of them had their trowels and hoes and digging things, which are fine for fighting with in a pitched battle.

It was soon over for Rag Tag grabbed Jigabump, Bob Tail grabbed Snip Scissors, Vagabond grabbed Tweaknose, and soon every gnome was a prisoner. But it took Nancy and Nick and Mister Tatters, all three, to catch that rogue Crookabone.

Mrs. Brown will never guess how nearly her flower garden was ruined.

EVENING SALUTATION

A GENEROUS WORLD

Old-fashioned hospitality is supposed to be extinct and unsolicited generosity to strangers exceedingly rare in this generation. A man who has been walking around the edge of the United States since November, 1921, believes otherwise.

In 1921, according to the story, this man tried to publish a book in which he had elaborated on the generosity of the American people. His publishers considered his story not only highly improbable, but downright impossible. So the author set forth from San Francisco, on foot, hatless, coatless and penniless, to test the kindness of his fellow-countrymen.

He crossed the southern part of the country, through the Gulf states to the Atlantic seaboard. Then he walked north to Portland, Me., turning there and following along the southern shore of the Great Lakes. He recently passed through Little Falls, Minn., and expects to be in San Francisco before September.

During this test hiking tour, the walker has been allowed to ask for only two things, water and matches. The rules of his long jaunt required also that he should accept no automobile lifts along the way.

His worst experience, he asserts, was walking through the Yuma desert of Arizona. In Texas he went without food once for 60 consecutive hours and walked 73 hours without seeing a single house. Otherwise, on a schedule of three meals a day, he has missed only 30 meals on his trip so far. He has had to sleep in the open only three times. He received many offers of rides in automobiles and wagons—on one day the number totalled 194.

Apparently it is not such a cold and selfish world as some persons believe.

The German idea seems to be to postpone paying for this war until after the next one.

A SHOPLIFTING CURE

Shoplifting is more commonly practised than the public realizes, according to an eastern writer. It is quite as common in grocery stores as in department stores. It is a problem which retail merchants have to handle largely for themselves, because they have found that legal prosecution is ineffective.

A certain system of chain grocery stores has hit upon a method which has already very greatly reduced losses through shoplifting.

When the offender is caught she—or he—is given the choice of having the police called or of signing a confession worded like this:

"I, Mary Roe, of my own free will and without constraint, confess that on this date I stole two packages of sugar, a can of beans and three heads of cabbage from so-and-so street and number by the Blank store company. I agree that if I ever do it again, this confession may be used against me in court action and that I need not expect mercy a second time." The signed document is then kept by the store proprietor, and the shoplifter, usually curbs her light-fingered tendencies.

Fear of exposure appears to be greater than the fear of prosecution. Most shoplifters do not want their families to know of their pilfering. That is one reason why the signed confession method has worked so well for this company. It may seem to be a far cry from groceries to psychology, but in this case both are needed.

An Australian engineer says American newspapers are like olives. You don't like them at first, but they improve with experience. That's true; and just as in eating olives, often the thing is to know what to swallow.

THE SHRINKING PAPER SUPPLY

Canadian paper mills are setting new records in exports of news print. In March, for the first time, exports from the Dominion passed the 100,000 ton mark. Last month they reached 113,450 tons.

Nearly all of this came to the states for the use of American newspapers. As a source of newsprint, Canada is gaining on our country right along.

Since 1917 American production has risen from 1,359,000 tons a year to 1,440,000 tons, while Canada's output has jumped from 690,000 to 1,082,000 tons. American stocks of pulp wood, especially in the East, are vanishing at a disturbing rate, while Canada sets the pace in the erection of new mills and the installation of machinery.

Meanwhile the newspapers—and the people, too—watch with growing interest the increasing number of tabloid publications, and the various attempts to reduce white paper consumption through material modification of display advertising policy.

Paper costs are compelling the most serious consideration of essential changes in the very nature of American journalism. Unless new sources of supply can be developed, those changes will come within a decade, and they will be worth watching.

CHICAGO-LONDON AIR ROUTE

Forty-eight-hour air service between London and Chicago is confidently predicted by a British aviator. Passenger planes capable of carrying 200 persons will be used. Chicago is chosen as the terminus for this future route because it is nearer the heart of the United States than any other large city.

When this development of commercial aviation has arrived, however, many cities will spring into importance which now show little promise. That is because extensive aviation will make any city less dependent upon railroad and water transportation facilities than at present. An air port will have as much incentive to growth and progress as a lake or ocean port regardless of location.

It is possible to prophesy almost anything in aviation development these days with reasonable expectation of fulfillment. All that has been already achieved seems only to give promise of even greater things to come.

THE HOARDER

The other day, when a wealthy woman died suddenly, and relatives entered her house for the first time in many years, they found it so crowded with all sorts of junk that space had to be cleared before the coffin could be set up. An auction conducted for an entire week after the funeral disposed of only a small part of the accumulation.

The most pitiful thing about the case is that none of the stuff which the woman had brought and hoarded through many years was either particularly valuable or interesting. She was simply possessed with a mania for possession. A tin steppan or a remnant of two yards of calico served her passion for accumulation just as well as a Whistler etching or the rarest marble. She had crowded her life with trash just as she had cluttered her home, until there was no room for friendliness or helpfulness or beauty.

Of course she was unbalanced and carried the thing to extremes. But most human beings hoard a lot of stuff, material, mental and spiritual, as they go through life, which is valueless in itself and crowds out a deal that is more worth while.

The Sioux are suing Uncle Sam for $750,000, to pay for lands "taken from them without just compensation." If all the Indians present claims on that basis, Uncle Sam will owe them more than Germany owes the Allies.

Europe Not Down and Out

Stockton Independent.

No two men back from overseas tell the same story. It is no wonder that the mass of the American people is slow to make up its mind in the matter of the nation's duty to its neighbors. Even those who are trained observers seldom seem to observe the same things.

A great electrical engineer, just back from a trip to study Europe's progress in his particular business field, is the latest to report. "An enormous amount of research work is being carried on in Germany at a cost of perhaps one-fifth what it would cost in the United States," he says. "The Germans are making great progress in this field. Moreover, they are doing an enormous amount of building. Everywhere I saw new factories going up. I heard so much of poverty-stricken Europe, I wanted to see for myself. I found nothing of the kind. People everywhere appeared well clothed and well fed."

The engineer goes on to tell of enormous water-power developments in Italy, Switzerland and France, of the progressive electrification of railways and the expansion of industrial enterprises on every hand. It is all very puzzling.

Europe has suffered enormous economic loss, of course, and it will take generations to repair the waste of war. But despite the drain on material and manhood, Europe evidently is far from down and out. National abilities and ambitions have survived, and they must be reckoned with. Maps have been made over wholesale, but men are pretty much the same, and nations, too.

Naturally our overseas neighbors—for every country is a neighbor nowadays—are desirous of our sympathy and co-operation. But, if Europe has to do so, she can probably work out her own salvation without our aid.

Yet, the more we help the better these neighbors and customers will like us in ten years, or fifty.

Tax Exempt Securities

Industrial News Bureau.

Opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment which would prohibit the future issuance of tax exempt bonds say that such action would increase interest rates on municipal, state and national bonds.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lettingwell, who largely managed the finances of the treasury department during the war, testified before the congressional ways and means committee that temporarily the interest rate on state and municipal securities might be increased by one half of 1 per cent, but ultimately, when things became adjusted, he did not think it would increase the rate. Professor Seligman of Columbia university, an authority on taxation, expressed the same opinion.

The arguments are so clear and convincing in support of the proposed constitutional amendment that wonder grows that Congress refuses to submit it to the states for adoption or rejection.

One half the people of this nation cannot long continue to pay double taxes in order that the other half escape all taxation by holding a privileged class of tax exempt bonds.

Jaywalking Children

Imperial Valley Press.

A woman was sitting at the window of a doctor's office in a pleasant city suburb. Shops where the residents did their daily errands lined both sides of the street below. Street cars and automobiles, although not so plentiful as on down-town streets, still were numerous enough to constitute a considerable traffic hazard.

Time after time, as the woman sat watching, some other women accompanied by little children "jaywalked," or darted diagonally across the street without taking the time to go to the crossing a few seconds further down.

"Here," thought the lady in the window, "is one reason why there are so many traffic accidents to little children."

Scene In Court

San Diego Union.

We will now give you description of a little scene that ought to be in red hot type, framed and hung over every judicial bench in the country, to wit: Federal Judge Partridge on the bench at San Francisco.

Col. Theo. Gier, Oakland millionaire, up for sentence for violating the prohibition act. Sentence: Three months in jail and $1500 fine. Collapse of Millionaire Gier.

Witnesses Former Mayor Chapin of Oakland, Former Governor Pardee and District Attorney Decoto testify that Gier is a good citizen.

Judge Partridge, making remarks, thus: "I emphatically take exception to witnesses' statement. No man can be a good citizen and violate the law. I believe that an example should be made of Gier inasmuch as he is a prominent man, familiar with the law, and held office in the county in which he lived."

We drop the curtain on the scene, feeling that there is one federal judge extant who believes in jailing guilty millionaires and doesn't believe that money and pull cover any multitude of sins mentioned in the criminal statutes.

Cotton Development

Growing of cotton here in the Southwest has passed beyond the experimental stage. The industry is established and well established. Along the Colorado River and its tributaries, in California and Arizona, the growing of cotton has developed to very important proportions. The quality of cotton produced is of the very best and the crop commands ready market at good prices.

This section fortunately has not been invaded by the boll weevil and other foes of the cotton plant. South. Cotton here is a staple crop, and the area planted to this product is increasing steadily and will continue to expand in other parts of California, as well as along the Colorado.

Another Good Way of Killing a Goose

Into The Fight

Don't "kid" the youngsters who, graduating this year from high school or college, start out into the world with sure confidence that they are going to take charge of things and save the situation on short notice.

All of us have to go through that period of youthful enthusiasm. And it's a good thing. Looking back, the older generation realizes that their exuberant start gave them momentum without which they might have weakened and fallen by the wayside.

Go ahead, you graduates! You're the hope of the world. And the enthused, confident newcomer in the battle of life can take wallops that would make an old-timer go down for the count.

The percentage of the barley moved out of the country where grown was decreasing steadily before the prohibition of brewing. This legislation did not cause any abrupt change in this movement. The effect of the regulation has been less than might have been expected.

Barley is used for feeding, brewing, and pearling. For human food it is used chiefly in the form of pearl barley for thickening soups and for other purposes, and of ground barley for making food for infants. It has some uses, also, as breakfast food.

Barley generally is considered about 90 to 95 per cent as valuable as corn for fattening livestock. Although it is a good feed for all stock, it should be crushed or rolled for sheep, hogs, and all young stock.

California Acreage. The present situation and the future outlook is encouraging. The acreage in California is likely to be maintained because of the high yield of barley as compared to other feed crops. California barley will also be in demand for use by brewers in those European countries where the use of malt adjuncts in the manufacture of beer is prohibited. Barley always will be useful as a late-sown crop in the Dakotas. Barley acreage has increased in southeastern Minnesota, northwestern Kansas, and elsewhere in the Mississippi Valley where its value as a feed crop is being recognized. In Canada it has been found that barley and oats sown together produce decidedly more feed to the acre than either sown alone.

In general, the trend at the present time is toward an increase in the farm use of this grain for feeding stock. The very high acre return is gradually causing a higher appreciation of barley as a feed crop. It seems probable that barley will be grown in the future on more farms and over a wider area in the United States, but less extensively in special areas than in the past. It is likely also that the proportion of barley consumed on the farm where grown will continue to increase.

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 17—AN UNDERGROUND BATTLE.

"Look!" whispered Nancy.

Mister Tatters, the Raggy Man, looked where she was pointing. And Nick looked, and all the little Raggies looked.

And this is what they saw. Crookabone, the gnome, was sneaking toward the roots of a nice big rose bush with a pair of scissors in his hand!

As they were all under the ground, the roots of the rose bush were sticking down like the fingers of a hand.

"Hey, there! What are you doing?" cried Mister Tatters sharply.

Crookabone jumped. "Just getting a little firewood, my friends," he whined. "I'm just out and I need some to boil my sassafras soup for my dinner."

"Then you are going the wrong direction for it," said Mister Tatters sternly. "Right about face and march out of here! You know very well you were going to cut the roots of that rose bush for your firewood!"

Crookabone hesitated a minute, and then suddenly before anyone could stop him, he grabbed a little whistle out of his pocket and blew a shrill blast. Instantly all the gnomes in Gnome Land came rushing to his aid. They poured in through every underground passage. There were every crooked little gnome you ever heard of. Jigabump and Tweenose, and Snip Scissors and Long Tooth and every last one of them. And each one carried something sharp, good for cutting roots.

But almost as quickly came all the little Raggies to help Mister Tatters and Nancy and Nick. Each one of them had their tools and hoes and digging things, which are fine for fighting with in a pitched battle.

It was soon over for Rag Tag grabbed Jigabump, Bob Tall grabbed Snip Scissors, Vagabond grabbed Tweenose, and soon every gnome was a prisoner. But it took Nancy and Nick and Mister Tatters, all three, to catch that rogy Crookabone!

Mrs. Brown will never guess how nearly her flower garden was ruined.
